MONEY RATE FIRMS; STOCK MOVEMENTS CONFUSED

Rise to 4 1-2 Per Cent for Call Funds Accompanies Calling of About $100,000,000 in Loans.

U. S. STEEL AT 191 FIRST TIME IN 1930

Many New Highs for Year Are Recorded During Day With Some Low Points Also Reached.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Wall street experienced a combination "bull" and "bear" market today in which scores of issues were marked up to new high levels for the year while a dozen others sank to new lows. Some of them to the lowest levels in years. There were frequent shifts of speculative sentiment, but operators for the advance again obtained the advantage, final quotations showing a preponderance of net gains.

So large was the volume that the ticker ran 40 minutes behind the market at one time. In the last hour trading slackened and the ticker caught up. The day's sales exceeded 4,600,000 shares, the largest of any session this year.

Money Rates Firmer.

Call money renewed at 3 per cent, as against 2 yesterday, and when it was pushed up to 4 and thence to 4½ bearish professionals launched a series of selling drives, but the market was unsettled only temporarily as buying support was quickly supplied and new leaders brought forward to revive bullish enthusiasm. The advance in money rates accompanied the calling of about $100,000,000 in loans.

Firmer rates also prevailed in the time money market. Loans for 30 days were quoted at 3½ per cent; 60 days, 3¾; 90 days, 4; 4 to months, 4 to 4½ per cent. The bankers' acceptance market was quiet. The demand was light and few bills made their appearance. The asking rates were unchanged.

Weekly mercantile reviews failed to disclose any general recovery in business. Dun's states that "the distinction between actual betterment in business, and prospects of gain remains clearly defined, tangible evidences of improvement continuing slow to appear." Bradstreet's which characterizes business as "fair to quiet" emphasizes as one of the week's most important features the stiffening of prices of a number of farm products and raw materials "the effects of whose weakness in recent months have hardly received the notice their importance deserved."

U. S. Steel 191.

Oil shares were heavily bought in the late trading despite the Senate's failure to adopt an oil tariff by a single vote. Houston was marked up nearly 7 points and Standard Oil of New Jersey, Simms Petroleum, Indian Refining issues, and Mexican Seaboard advanced fractions to nearly 3 points to new 1930 peak prices. Atlantic Refining and Texas Corporation also were heavily bought.

U. S. Steel common sold as high as 191. A new 1930 top and a gain of more than 4 points, in the last hour. Vanadium Steel jumped 5 to a new high at 103¾. Youngstown Sheet & Tube, which sold as low as 140 in the early trading, jumped to 149½, one cash sale of 5600 shares changing hands at that price, and then sagged to 147. Bethlehem Steel closed only fractionally higher at 104.

United Aircraft was another strong feature in the last hour, jumping 5½ points to 75, the year's top. United Carbon retained about 7 points of its 10 point gain. Anaconda Copper, directors of which meet for dividend action next Thursday, closed 2¼ points higher at 75.

Gillette Safety Razor, which broke nearly 4 points to a new low in the early trading, recovered all but a fraction of its loss. National Cash Register showed a net decline of 6⅝ at 65⅜ after selling below 65.

Commodity markets were mixed. Wheat advanced fractionally to 1½ cents a bushel. Corn closed unchanged to 1 cent a bushel lower. Cotton rallied 12 cents to $1 a bale on a renewal of covering by old crop shorts and some trade and commission house buying.

Stock prices, with other tables and market news, will be found on Pages 22C, 23C, 24C and 25C.

SHOE REPAIR-MAN SHOT IN JAW DURING HOLDUP

Herman Pretsky Seriously Wounded at 2749 Market; Negro Flees Without Loot.

Herman Pretsky, shoe repairman at 2749 Market street, was shot in the jaw and seriously wounded by a Negro robber in his shop shortly after 10 a. m. today.

The Negro fled on foot without loot.

At the city hospital, Pretsky told reporters he was working at his bench when the robber entered and asked to see some secondhand shoes. When Pretsky rose to serve him the robber produced a revolver and ordered, "Hands up."

Instead, the cobbler reached toward a shelf under the counter where he kept a loaded revolver, and the robber fired two shots.

The first bullet struck Pretsky's jaw and emerged through the cheek. The second bullet grazed a finger of his right hand, causing a slight flesh wound. Physicians who examined him said he would recover.

Pretsky, who is 49 years old, said he had only 40 cents in the store at the time. The store is a half block from Laclede Avenue Police Station.

HOOVER'S HOME TOWN AGAINST DRY LAW IN DIGEST POLL

Palo Alto (Cal.) Majority for Repeal or Modification; 28 of 35 Cities Vote Wet.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 21.—President Hoover's home town of Palo Alto, Cal., favors modification or repeal of the prohibition laws by a slightly larger vote than retention and enforcement, according to a tabulation of city voting in the Literary Digest's prohibition poll, covering six municipalities, and issued today. Emporia, Kan., where William Allen White lives, and the neighboring town of Hutchinson gave decidedly dry votes, as did Zion City, Ill., home of Wilbur Glenn Voliva's Christian Apostolic Church. Leavenworth, Kan., made an emphatic wet expression. The tabulation is:

City.	Enf.	Mod.	Repl.
Palo Alto, Cal...	269	161	173
Atlanta, Ga......	1042	1292	1453
Zion, Ill.........	95	13	12
Hutchinson, Kan.	346	101	85
Emporia, Kan...	378	123	54
Leavenw'th, Kan.	140	196	239

Of 35 municipalities now tabulated in the poll, 28 have voted wet.

THREE KILLED BY EXPLOSION OF POWDER AT ARSENAL

Army Officer and Two Civilians Victims of Accident Near Dover, N. J.

By the Associated Press.

DOVER, N. J., March 21. — An army officer and two civilian employes were killed late today in an explosion of smokeless powder at the U. S. Army arsenal at Picatinny, near here.

The dead: Capt. J. B. Fiddler of the ordinance department, Frank Stevens of Wharton, and Stephen Deevy, Wharton.

Edward Goldsworthy, also of Wharton, was taken to Dover General Hospital in a serious condition. Stevens, Deevey and Goldsworthy were chemists at the arsenal.

Col. James K. Train, commanding officer, said the men were experimenting with a new kind of smokeless powder. The explosion occurred in a small building and no damage was done to the remainder of the arsenal.

$300,000 FOR 'OLD IRONSIDES'

WASHINGTON, March 21. — The French resolution to provide $300,000 to complete restoration of the old frigate Constitution was adopted unanimously today by the House.

The ship, known as "Old Ironsides," is in Boston Navy Yard. The money is needed to supplement funds contributed by the school children of the nation.

LINKS BIG PROFITS IN HOWARD'S FIRM TO HOWE PATENTS

Witness Says Commonwealth Steel Went Ahead After Invention Revolutionized Plant.

REPORT INDICATES RISE IN DIVIDENDS

Plaintiff Was Told That His Processs Would "Blow Up Foundry" When He First Proposed It.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 21.—When Andrew F. Howe of University City first mentioned around the Commonwealth steel plant in Granite City in 1908 that he had an idea big steel frames and castings could be made better in a steel mold than in the wooden forms lined with green sand, which had been used for years, one of the foremen warned him, "if you pour two tons of molten steel into that mold, it will form a gas that will blow up the plant."

So Hugh L. Hunter of Chicago, a former substitute foreman in the plant, testified in Federal Judge FitzHenry's court yesterday in Howe's suit to force an accounting on his patents used by the Commonwealth, which last year was absorbed by the General Steel Castings Corporation.

But Howe was not to be discouraged, and Clarence H. Howard, president, backed him up, telling him to go ahead and experiment with his idea, against the wishes of other officers.

After the mold had been built and patented, it pushed the Commonwealth to the front in certain branches of the foundry industry, so evidence presented by the plaintiff tends to show. Once a struggling firm, its chances described by one of its officers in a letter in the phrase, "A pure business hazard whether it would succeed or fail," the Commonwealth, armed with a device which gave it a virtual monopoly in the large casting field, swelled in capital stock from $1,500,000 in 1912 to $10,000,000 in 1924, paid its stockholders increasingly cash and stock dividends and last year sold to its successor for $35,000,000.

Program Revolutionized.

Neither mold nor plant blew up. The mold indeed revolutionized the plant's program for large castings.

It was brought out at the hearing that the application for the patent on the one-piece locomotive frame was filed in Howe's name at the Patent Office in Washington, accompanied by his request that the patent be assigned to the Commonwealth Steel Co., his employer. The patent was issued to the Commonwealth Steel Co., with Howe as assignee.

The patent laws require that applications for patents be filed by individuals, who, however, may assign their rights to corporations.

But Howe received no royalties on the patent. Both sides admit this, the defense claiming that it was customary for inventive workers to assign their patents, as Howe did, to the firm.

Howe has testified that no such custom existed to his knowledge, his testimony being corroborated by other former employes. He also has asserted that he made repeated demands for compensation, after the assignment of the patent in 1910, but was put off by Howard's promises that he would eventually "be taken care of."

The defense denies any such demands were made and is seeking today to prove its position, the plaintiff's case having been completed yesterday. As some time will be needed by the defense, the case will almost certainly be postponed after Saturday's session, since Judge FitzHenry will take over a criminal docket next week.

Profits to Stockholders.

Firm customs being as they may have been, the fact remains, or has been testified to, that at no time did Howe receive more than $6000 a year from Commonwealth Steel.

In contrast to this, the plaintiff, taking two sample years, has shown that President Howard, Henry M. Pflager, senior vice president; Clarence H. Howard Jr. and several subsidiary companies, whose boards are alleged to have been made up of directors of Commonwealth, shared in 1918 $125,983 in royalties on patents and in 1926 $146,969. No indication was given as to what these patents were.

Statistics from a Price & Waterhouse report on the firm's financial conditions were introduced. They showed the following rising scale of profits to stockholders, which the plaintiff contends has a relation to the increased use of the mold patent; cash dividends paid

Named for U. S. Supreme Court Bench

JUDGE J. J. PARKER. —Associated Press Photo.

E. W. FRANZ ESTATE TRUSTEES UPHELD; OUSTER IS DENIED

Judge Faris Overrules Motion Against G. A. Buder and G. A. Franz, in Charge of $14,125,000.

Federal Judge Faris today overruled the motion of three of the heirs of Ehrhardt W. Franz for removal of Gustavus A. Buder and G. A. Franz as trustees of the Franz estate, consisting chiefly of Burroughs Adding Machine Co. stock with a present market value of $14,125,000.

A Bible text—"But Jeshurun waxed fat and kicked"—was cited by Judge Faris as illustrating the growth of the Franz estate in the hands of the present trustees. The text is from Deuteronomy 32, 15.

"If this were a theological discussion, and not a discussion of cold questions of law," the Judge said, "the text most applicable to the facts, motives and history of this case would be found in Holy Writ," and he quoted the words already given.

Judge Faris said that the estate, in the trusteeship of Buder and G. A. Franz, had grown from less than $400,000 in value to $14,000,000 or more. He did not cite the higher value, ranging to $27,000,000, which the estate had before the stock market crash last fall. The Judge said his figure did not include the portion in the hands of Mrs. Sophia Franz, widow of E. W. Franz, which he estimated at a value of $2,000,000.

Rules on Three Complaints.

Judge Faris took up three points of the complaint. First, failure of the trustees to give bond. Bond had been furnished, the court said. Second, failure to make accounting as required. The court said there was delay in making the accounting, due to a misunderstanding, but that the accounting had been made.

Third, the complainants charged mishandling of the estate, particularly in the sale of the remainder interest. Judge Faris found that the sale of the remainder interest had been made properly and to the satisfaction of the majority of those concerned, the sale being to the widow.

Judge Faris then took up the allegation that ill will existed between the trustees and the administrators, the Mississippi Valley Trust Co. and others. In such a matter, the court said, mere "human emotion" could not have legal weight. It might be possible to take cognizance of a feeling of ill will if it had a present basis; such a feeling cannot be admitted when "based on some ancient feeling," he said.

No Breach of Trust Shown.

The court quoted authorities to the effect that a trustee should not be removed unless there is a breach of trust, "and even then he should not be removed as long as some of the beneficiaries are satisfied, but only if the fund is in danger." He should not be removed for errors in judgment or differences of opinion.

There is nothing in the record, Judge Faris said, to show a breach

JOHN J. PARKER NOMINATED FOR SUPREME COURT

Federal District Judge at Charlotte, N. C., Chosen by President to Succeed Sanford.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 21. — President Hoover today appointed Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina to the Supreme Court to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Justice Edward T. Sanford of Tennessee.

Judge Parker will be one of the youngest men ever on the Supreme Bench. He is 44 years old.

Born in Monroe, N. C., he was educated in the public schools and graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1907. The following year he graduated from the law school of the same institution, and was admitted to the bar.

He was Republican candidate for Governor of North Carolina in 1920 and a leader in politics in the State until Oct. 3, 1925. Then he was appointed to the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals by President Coolidge. Senators Simmons and Overman of North Carolina indorsed his appointment to the Supreme Court.

"He is a fine man," said Simmons, "of judicial temperament and an able lawyer. If the President determined to appoint a Republican there is no choice that suits me and my state better. If he had determined upon a Democrat we would have pressed Judge Stacy to the limit."

The nomination was sent to the Senate today and steps are expected to be taken for early consideration.

HOOVER ORDERS 850 MORE MARINES OUT OF NICARAGUA

This Reduces Armed Force of U. S. in Central American Republic to About 900.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 21. — President Hoover today ordered about 850 of the Marine force now detailed to Nicaragua to be withdrawn, reducing the total of the Marine establishment now in that republic to between 900 and 1000.

TARIFF ON OIL DEFEATED AGAIN; ONE VOTE SHORT

Pine's Proposal for Duty of 40 Cents a Barrel and 20 Pct. Ad Valorem Rejected, 37 to 38.

FIFTH EFFORT TO OBTAIN A LEVY

Three Republican Old Guardsmen, Hale, Keyes and Walcott, Line Up With Log-Rollers.

By RAYMOND P. BRANDT,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, March 21. — "The unholy alliance" on lumber, sugar and oil came within one vote today of a 100 per cent victory for high tariff protection when the Senate, by a vote of 37 to 38, rejected the amendment offered by Senator Pine (Rep.), Oklahoma, for a duty of 40 cents a barrel on crude oil and a 20 per cent ad valorem tax on refined products.

Unless the oil Senators can find one more vote, they will be holding the bag, for the Grundy log rollers, who, by trades based on local self-interest, have been able to increase the duty on Cuban sugar from 1.76 cents a pound to 2 cents, and to impose a levy of $1.50 a thousand feet on soft lumber, now on the free list.

The same Pine amendment was rejected by the Senate night before last by a vote of 32 to 28. Today's vote was the fifth on oil, and each time the oil Senators have decreased the margin of defeat.

Senate Ashurst (Dem.), Arizona, immediately after the vote on the Pine proposal, asked if it would be possible for the Senate again to be forced to vote on the oil tariff.

"As in a House of Thieves."

"Must we hold ourselves at arm's length as in a house of thieves?" he demanded.

Vice President Curtis admonished Ashurst for his language and stated that under the Senate rules another vote could be asked if the amendment were changed.

"We will then be on guard" Ashurst shouted as he took his seat.

The three Senators who switched their votes since night before last were Republican old guardsmen, Hale of Maine, Keyes of New Hampshire and Walcott of Connecticut, none of whom has any oil interests in his state worth mentioning. Heretofore, many of the New Englanders have voted against an oil tariff on the theory that it would increase the price of gasoline to automobile owners.

Objects to Repeated Ballots.

No debate was permitted on Pine's amendment today. Senator Ashurst, however, just before the roll call, protested against the repeated ballots. He declared that it was unfair to ask the Senate to vote again and again on questions decided in the committee of the whole.

The first hour of the morning session was devoted to an amendment offered by Senator McMaster (Rep.) of South Dakota slightly lowering the duties approved for plate glass. His compromise proposal was adopted, 39 to 36. The amendment provides a rate of 17 cents a square foot on plate glass over 384 and not exceeding 1008 square inches as against existing levies ranging from 19 to 22 cents on sizes within these limits. The amendment also would cut from 22 to 19⅝ cents the rate on plate glass over 1008 square inches.

Congress cannot adjourn before June 1 "under the most favorable conditions," Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, told the Senate in announcing a plan for a week's recess after the tariff bill is passed.

Watson announced that the Senate should stay in session tomorrow until it passed the tariff measure.

Watson was joined in his demand for speedy disposition of the bill by Swanson of Virginia and Barkley of Kentucky, Democrats.

The Senate then, by a vote of 39 to 29, approved an amendment by Senator Hatfield (Rep.), West Virginia, to add 10 cents a dozen pieces to the duties now in the bill on all china wares.

For the second time the Senate rejected a proposal to retain common building brick on the free list, leaving a rate of $1.25 a thousand in the bill. The vote was 36 to 35.

Senator Shortridge (Rep.), California, won approval of an amendment to increase the present rate on tungsten metal from 60 cents a pound and 25 per cent to 60 cents and 50 per cent, and the duty on tungstic acid and compounds of tungsten from 60 cents and 25 per cent to 60 cents and 40 per cent.

MARCONI IN ITALY TALKS BY PHONE TO SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA

He Conducts Conversation From Yacht; to Try American Experiment Next.

By the Associated Press.

GENOA, Italy, March 21.—Guglielmo Marconi, inventor of the wireless, this morning held a two-way conversation with friends in Sydney, Australia, using the new radio telephone station aboard his yacht Electra.

The conversation was clear and strong. Marconi intends to repeat the experiment in several days with North America and Latin America.

EX-PRESIDENT TAFT'S ESTATE IS VALUED AT $475,000

Two Homes Worth Together $125,000; Debts, Including Funeral Not to Exceed $3000.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—A petition for the probate of the will of the late William Howard Taft showed the former President and Chief Justice left an estate valued at $475,000.

As filed recently by Mrs. Taft, the petition for probate showed Mr. Taft owned real estate near Murray Bay, Quebec, Canada, and the mansion on Wyoming avenue in Washington, together estimated to be worth $125,000.

The former Chief Justice's personal estate, comprising stocks and bonds and personal effects was estimated at $350,000.

Mrs. Taft added that his debts, including the expenses of the funeral, would not exceed $3000.

She told the Court also that the subscription of $10,000 to Yale University mentioned by Mr. Taft in his will, had been paid during his lifetime. Likewise he had paid the $2500 to the Taft school, founded by his brother, Horace Taft, who was mentioned in a codicil.

MAGNITUDE AND POSITION OF NEW PLANET ANNOUNCED

Photographic Exposure of 90 Minutes Gives Rank of 16 in Brilliancy.

By the Associated Press.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 21.—Harvard Observatory yesterday announced the first officially recorded position of the newly discovered trans-Neptunian planet, or "planet X," as it is temporarily known. The announcement follows:

"On a plate on 90 minutes exposure, made March 19, with the 16-inch Metcalf refractor at Harvard, the photographic magnitude of the trans-Neptunian planet is estimated 16 on the international magnitude scale.

"From measures on plates taken on a 24-inch reflector at Yerkes Observatory at Williams Bay, Wis., Prof. Van Biesbroeck has reduced the following position of the planet, March 17: .079 right assension, 7 hours, 15 minutes, 41 seconds; declination, plus 22 degrees, 7 minutes, 18 seconds."

The faintest star visible to the naked eye is of the sixth magnitude.

NAVY CROSS TO ST. LOUISAN WITH NICARAGUAN GUARD

Lieut. Herman E. Hannecken of Marines Honored by U. S.; Other Awards.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Award of the Distinguished Service Medal to Col. Robert Y. Rhea, Morganfield, Ky., for his services with the Marine Corps in Nicaragua, where he is stationed, was announced today by the navy.

The award of the Navy Cross to four other Marine officers for their duty in Nicaragua also was announced. They are Maj. Harold C. Pierce, Lexington, Mass., now on duty in Washington; Capt. Robert Blake, Berkeley, Cal., now at Quantico, Va., and Lieut. Herman E. Hanneken, St. Louis, and Lieut. Edwin U. Hakala, Detroit, Mich., both of whom are with the Nicaraguan National Guard.

HARRY F. KNIGHT SELLS SEAT ON NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

Price Is $415,000; Firm Decides to Have But One Membership.

Harry F. Knight, senior partner in the brokerage firm of Knight, Dysart & Gamble, has disposed of his membership in the New York Stock Exchange for $415,000 to John D. Warren of New York.

Sale of the membership, members of the firm said, was prompted by the firm's desire to hold but one membership in the exchange, that of Clarence O. Gamble, another partner. Knight is continuing in active business.

The average speed for the 19 hours was 27.6 knots. She was travelling against a head wind and a swell.

CONTRIBUTOR CONTRADICTS HUSTON ON $36,000 GIFT

F. H. Haggerson Denies G. O. P. Chairman's Testimony That It Was Given for Purchase of Maps and Records.

$22,000 WENT TO PAY STOCK DEBT

At Time Donation Was Given, Party Leader Owed Broker $19,380 — Money Meant for Shoals Lobby Work.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Claudius H. Huston's testimony concerning the $36,100 which he collected last year from the Union Carbide Co. was contradicted on several important points today by the man who gave him the money. In addition, it was shown that $22,000 of the money was used in wiping out Huston's obligations to his broker, incurred by trading in the stock market. Other evidence already had disclosed that the remaining $14,100 was put up as margin on stock.

Fred H. Haggerson, president of the Union Carbide Co., testifying today before the Senate Lobby Investigating Committee, denied that $36,100 was given in payment for maps and records as stated yesterday by Huston. He said it was given for the purpose of influencing legislation in Congress, under which his company would have received 50,000 horse-power of electric current from the Government plant at Muscle Shoals at bargain rates.

Haggerson denied, as stated yesterday by Huston, that they agreed upon $36,100 as Union Carbide Co.'s contribution at a discussion in March of last year. He asserted, on the contrary, that Huston asked for $22,000, which was given him, and that in June following he came back and solicited another contribution of $14,100.

Wanted It in Terrible Hurry.

The committee did not ask Haggerson whether he knew Huston intended to put the money up with his broker, but the question was put to him after adjournment by the Post-Dispatch correspondent.

"I didn't know what he was going to do with it," Haggerson replied, "but it was obvious that he wanted it in a terrible hurry."

Senator Blaine of Wisconsin had endeavored to shed some light on this matter. He disclosed, from the records of Blyth & Bonner, Huston's brokers, that when the $22,000 contribution was solicited and received Huston owed the brokerage firm $19,380 on account of stock he had purchased, and that the Carbide donation was used in wiping out that debt.

Explanation of Personal Checks.

On the whole, the committee appeared to be infinitely more satisfied by Haggerson's explanations than it had been by Huston's, but there were some points at which Senator Walsh of Montana raised his eyebrows and Chairman Caraway indulged in an Arkansas snicker. Conspicuous among these instances was that in which Haggerson attempted to explain why he had given his own personal checks, instead of the company's, and why he had made them out to W. E. Moore, instead of to Huston.

He said he drew the first check on his own account because the occasion was "after office hours" and that he drew the second one in the same way because he had drawn the first one that way.

"In other words, it had got to be a habit with you," grinned Caraway. Haggerson said that Huston asked him to make both checks payable to Moore, but that Huston didn't explain why and Haggerson didn't ask him and doesn't know yet.

Reports that Huston's tenure as National Committeeman of the Republican party will be brief multiplied today, when it became known that President Hoover had summoned Col. Joseph R. Nutt, the party's national treasurer, to a conference at the White House. Huston emphatically denied yesterday that he would resign. His elevation to the post of party chief resulted

DOHENY CASE TO BE GIVEN TO JURY TOMORROW

Judge Hitz Announces He Will Read His Instructions as Soon as Session Opens in the Morning.

BOTH SIDES END ARGUMENT

Court Room Jammed With Spectators at Conclusion of $100,000 Bribery Trial.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Justice William Hitz announced today the case of Edward L. Doheny, charged with bribing Albert B. Fall, former Cabinet officer, would go to the jury tomorrow. He made his announcement after Owen J. Roberts, for the Government, had concluded argument in the case. The Judge added that he would deliver his charge when court convened tomorrow morning, planning in the meantime to read argument made by opposing counsel.

The courtroom was jammed and spectators were standing in the entrance aisle as Roberts ended his address.

Contrasts Stories.

Roberts said Doheny's story that he finally bid on the Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, oil storage project because of a Japanese war story related to him by Rear-Admiral J. K. Robison "was never told to the Senate Committee."

Doheny had testified he talked to Robison in December, 1921, and Roberts pointed out to the jury that he had told a Senate Committee that he had never heard of the Pearl Harbor project until January.

"You can't wash out of this case that the Navy Department turned over to the Interior Department all these oil reserve matters," Roberts said.

Frank J. Hogan, Doheny's lawyer, had charged the Government with withholding documents that would have cleared his client.

Roberts recalled the charge, saying: "Here is a letter Hogan found and didn't tell about it." It was a letter from Denby to Fall on Dec. 14, 1921, reiterating that the Navy had turned the oil leases over to the Interior Department.

"Fall was charged with the legal responsibility for everyone of those contracts," Roberts asserted.

Hogan began his argument today with an explanation of the Pearl Harbor Hawaii naval oil storage contract.

The Pearl Harbor contract gave a Doheny company preference to the Elk Hills, Cal., naval oil lease subject to certain conditions. This preference was regarded as mandatory.

Atlee Pomerene, Government special prosecutor, in his argument to the jury yesterday, insisted that while Doheny kept in the background during the Pearl Harbor negotiations he had "his hands on the reins."

Attacking this phase of the Government's contentions today, Hogan asserted that Doheny knew nothing of the details of the contract.

Hogan said the bids were studied by experts who decided an alternate proposal which gave the Doheny firm preference was best for the Government.

The defense attorney reviewed the "preferential right" clause and recommendations of experts that it be limited to the last half of the naval reserve.

Denies Fall's Active Participation.

Preferential right meant, he told the jury, that Doheny interests would get first chance to lease the land only if it were willing to accept conditions as laid down by the Government.

"If Fall had been paid would he have permitted a subordinate to cut down the amount of the lease?" he asked.

Fall, he said, was "2000 miles away" when naval officers and Fall's subordinates decided to accept the alternate proposals. He added they wired Fall recommending that he authorize them to execute the lease.

"There was his chance to change the contract if he wanted to," he said.

Hogan said the navy's decision late in 1922 to increase the oil storage facilities at Pearl Harbor had led it to urge the leasing of more acreage to the Pan American so that the needed royalty oil could be provided.

He then went into the naval treaties which the defense had held up as making the project unnecessary, and told the jury they provided that the "last outpost where the navy could have a base was at Pearl Harbor." He said the treaties prohibited increasing fortifications at Guam and in the Philippines.

Rear Admiral J. K. Robison, in charge of the Pearl Harbor construction, Hogan said, then told the Pan American that the navy would give it a lease to all the Elk Hills reserve if it would provide the additional construction at Pearl Harbor.

Hogan told the jury that Fall put the entire matter up to the decision of that "unimpeachable Secretary of the Navy, Edwin Denby." Denby has since died. "Not a word from Fall," he exclaimed, "except put it up to Denby."

Hogan became dramatic as he continued to tell the jury he was putting his whole self into the argument because "more than a life is at stake." He then reviewed the details of the negotiations that led to the execution of the lease which awarded the 32,000-acre naval reserve to the Pan-American company on Dec. 11, 1922.

Doheny bowed his head when Hogan mentioned his dead son, Edward L. Doheny Jr., who drew the check for $100,000 that was given to Fall. The oil man seemed grief-stricken as the defense attorney told of young Doheny's death and asked if the oil man would have made his son a party to the transaction if the money given Fall had been a bribe.

During his plea Hogan picked up a note that Fall gave Doheny for the money and asked: "Have you ever in your life known of a note being given for a bribe?"

$100,000,000 Profit Explained.

Hogan said Doheny's famous statement that he expected to make $100,000,000 was based on figures furnished by the Bureau of Mines. He told the jury that the evidence showed Doheny had made that estimate based upon the expenditure of $150,000,000 and that he expected the $100,000,000 profit would result in 30 or 40 years.

Hogan then called to the jury's attention the court's instruction that under the law Fall might be guilty and Doheny not guilty and that Doheny was in a financial position to make "a sentimental loan" of $100,000 to a friend if he wished to do so.

of trust in the present case. "Not only are some of the beneficiaries satisfied, but about three-fourths of them are satisfied."

The estate's holding of Burroughs stock is 282,500 shares. At the lowest price after the market crash, this would have been worth about $8,000,000. The present market price is about $50 a share, making a value of $14,125,000.

Franz Estate in Litigation for Six Years.

As has been told, Franz, a St. Louis grocer, invested $21,000 in 1896 in stock of the American Arithmometer Co. which later became the Burroughs Adding Machine Co. When Franz died two years later his stock was valued at $97,786. Since then the Burroughs company has declared large stock and cash dividends.

Franz placed his estate in trust, his widow to receive the income during her life and the principal to be shared by the 10 children at her death. Mrs. Sophia D. Franz, the widow, is living, at the age of 89, at Pasadena, Cal. Three of the children have died.

At the rehearing by Judge Faris last December, Buder was questioned obout the propriety of investing some of Mrs. Franz's funds in enterprises in which he is an officer and financially interested, such as the American Press, publisher of the St. Louis Times; the Arcadia Realty Co. and the Acreage Realty Co.

"I don't think it was inconsistent," Buder answered. "Loans to these companies were made in the usual course of business and were made on collateral. It was just like lending some of the funds to banks in which I am a director."

$256,000 for Buder's Law Firm.

Buder was asked whether his law firm had not received $256,000 in legal fees from the Franz estate in the last 20 years. He conceded that was approximately correct. Previous testimony had been that the figures in three of the years, 1923-25-27, amounted to $95,000.

In defending his stewardship, Buder has declared that as trustees and as a director and general counsel of the Burroughs company, he kept the stock in possession of the Franz estate when, in the hands of others, it might have been sold, so that the estate never would have attained its present value.

Incidentally, Sophie Franz's own estate is worth more than $2,000,000, largely in Burroughs stock, as shown by an audit filed by the trustees in January. Among the assets listed, as of July 19, 1928, are loans (since paid, according to Buder's testimony) as follows: Arcadia Realty Co., $105,000, secured by deeds of trust; Acreage Realty Co., $35,000, secured by deeds of trust; American Press, $25,000, secured by stock. Among security holdings listed are 500 shares of common stock of the American Press, $48,675; 350 shares of the Westliche Post, $35,000, and $20,000 of bonds of the Pontiac Realty Co., owner of the Buder Building, formerly the Pontiac Building.

HUSTON EXPECTED TO RESIGN POST OF G. O. P. CHAIRMAN

He Has Declared He Will Stay, but Some Leaders in Congress Think He Should Go.

HOOVER WATCHING LOBBY TESTIMONY

Action Not Likely Until Hearings About Activities for Muscle Shoals Legislation Are Ended.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The resignation of Claudius H. Huston as chairman of the Republican National Committee is expected in party circles that are considering the testimony concerning him before the Senate Lobby Committee.

He has announced that he will stick to his post. Any other decision on his part, it is thought, will await the conclusions of the hearings.

President Hoover has declined to comment and no indication has come from the White House as to the sentiment of the executive. The President, however, is watching the situation carefully and keeping in touch with party leaders.

Congressional leaders, too, are watching the hearings. Huston's friends demand that he be given a full hearing. There are some legislators, however, who think he should resign.

With one-third of the Senate and the entire membership of the House up for election next fall, there in particular interest in the Huston hearing, especially among Republican Senators and Representatives who are running for reelection.

In investigating extra-official activities in connection with Muscle Shoals legislation, the Lobby Committee disclosed that as president of the Tennessee River Improvement Association, Huston collected $36,100 from the Union Carbide Co. for the furtherance of the association's work. This sum was deposited with his New York broker and partly used to cover marginal stock account.

Yesterday's callers at the White House included Senator Moses and Dr. Albert Hubert Work, Huston's predecessor in the national chairmanship. It was Work's second visit in three days. After their conferences with the President, both declined to discuss the situation.

SAYS FIXED CALL MONEY RATE WOULDN'T CURB SPECULATION

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Gov. Roy A. Young of the Federal Reserve Board testified before the House banking committee investigating the banking situation today that an arbitrary maximum limit of 6 or 8 per cent on the call money rate would not prevent over speculation.

Replying to a suggestion by Representative Seiberling (Rep.), Ohio, that "Congress should place a limit on the call money rate," Young said, "Those things adjust and control themselves."

"But they didn't adjust themselves last fall when the rate went to 25 per cent, until you and the Federal Reserve Board had put on the breaks," observed Seiberling. Young answered that the board had taken no "drastic" steps toward holding down the call rate.

Asked in "whose interests" the call rate was fixed, Young said it was determined by the combined interest of the borrower and the lender.

"If an 8 per cent rate were named as a maximum, speculation would be greater, and in the case of a sudden decline, the crash would be correspondingly greater," Young said.

BONES OF AMERICAN VICTIMS OF PRISON SHIP BURIED

Thought to Be Those of Revolutionary War Soldiers Who Died on British Vessel at Brooklyn.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Bones thought to be those of three or four American soldiers who died aboard a British prison ship in New York harbor during the American Revolution were buried with military honors yesterday in the naval plot of Cypress Hills Cemetery in Brooklyn.

They were found recently in Brooklyn Navy Yard while a minor excavation was being made for building ways from which was launched the U. S. S. Pensocola. In revolutionary times the site of the Navy Yard was known as Wallabout Basin, and where battleships are now launched several British prison ships were moored.

Soldiers of the Continental Army were imprisoned there, and many died, according to the records.

GANDHI URGES FOLLOWERS, IF SHOT, TO DIE PEACEFULLY

Indian Nationalist Leader Speaks at Kareli, Where He Stops With Marchers.

KARELI, BOMBAY, India, March 21.—Mahatma Gandhi, arriving here with his volunteer marchers in the civil disobedience campaign, gave further instructions for carrying out his policy of nonviolent resistance to the Indian Government.

Declaring he and his followers wanted to enforce a "social boycott" on all Government servants, he urged the villagers to refuse to fetch water for the tax collector so long as he worked for the present Government, and told laborers not to give him their services.

He told his hearers that if sent to prison they should go piously, if assaulted they should bear it cheerfully, if shot they should die peacefully.

Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, president of the Indian National Congress, who met Gandhi at Jambusar, said a great responsibility lay on the Gujerat district, where Ghandi will attempt to manufacture salt. The whole country looked to the district for the first stroke in attaining complete independence, he said.

SAYS WHALENI WILL RESIGN

New York Official Avers Police Commissioner Will Quit April 26.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 21.—A high official at City Hall, who refused to allow his name to be used, announced today that Grover Whalen would resign as Police Commissioner on April 26. The official pointed out that, when Whalen accepted the Police Commissionership, last April 1, he obtained only a year's leave of absence from the John Wanamaker store, of which he was general manager.

Whalen said he had no intention of resigning "at this time" and refused to answer when asked if he intended to resign next month.

Utility Head Contradicts Huston

More Than $100,000 Expended.

The Union Carbide Co., Haggerson testified, is a division of the Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation. It joined with the American Cynamid Co. in an attempt to get the Muscle Shoals property and has spent more than $100,000 in its efforts to defeat the Norris plan for Government operaton of the plant, and to have its own bid accepted, he said.

After relating how Huston called him on the telephone in March of last year and asked him to come to Huston's office to discuss Muscle Shoals and the affairs of the Tennessee River Improvement Association—under whose name Huston and J. W. Worthington had beeen lobbying before Congress for the Carbide-Cynamid bid—Haggerson continued:

"He told me the association was in a bad way. It was in debt, it had no money, and Huston said it was impossible to raise any more in the Tennessee River valley. He wanted to know if we would contribute to its support. He said it had to have $22,000 by the next morning or close its doors.

"I returned to my office, thought the thing over, and decided to give the money."

"What did he say about the condition of the association?" inquired Senator Walsh. "He said it owed him money, and that Worthington was pressing him for more. There was some talk about the maps and data that the association had accumulated."

Maps Probably a Consideration.

"Did you buy them?" Caraway shot in. "No, I wouldn't say we bought them. I think they probably were a consideration, though."

"Have they ever been delivered to you?" "No."

"Have you ever seen them?" "No, but our Mr. Davis has seen them. Our engineers think they are valuable."

"Well, what was the association to do with the money that you contributed?" Walsh pursued. "It had already done a great deal."

"Then this contribution was to pay it for work already done, rather than for what it might do?" "I should say it was for both."

"Just what did you understand the association would do in the future?" "Go ahead with its work to have the Cyanamid bid accepted."

Haggerson said Huston expressed the opinion that it "would not be necessary to keep the association going very long."

"In other words, he had just come from Washington, and he expected that the Cyanamid-Carbide bid would be accepted at the special session of Congress," interjected Senator Blaine. "I assume that is what he meant," Haggerson replied.

"Did he tell you whether he had just been at the White House?" Blaine inquired. "He did not."

It was recalled that the inauguration of President Hoover occurred less than a week before.

"Your understanding was that the association would disband as soon as the Cyanamid bid was accepted?" asked Blaine. "Yes, sir."

This testimony was in strong contrast with Huston's repeated denials that the Carbide contribution was payment for the lobbying activity of the association. Haggerson made absolutely no bones about it.

"Mr. Haggerson, can you tell this committee why you made out these checks on your personal account, instead of on the company's account?" Walsh asked. "The only reason I can recall is that the occasion was after office hours, and the treasurer had gone home. The company reimbursed me the next morning."

The second contribution, that of $14,100, was made in June, after a telephone call from Huston stating that "the association needed that amount at once," Haggerson continued.

"Did that occur after office hours?" Walsh sardonically inquired. Haggerson said no. "Then why was that check also drawn on your personal account?" "I suppose because I had drawn the first one that way."

Referring to the $22,000 donation, Caraway asked why Haggerson had not waited until the next morning to draw the check. The witness replied that Huston had said the money was needed the next morning. The obvious inference from this testimony, coupled with the evidence of the state of Huston's account with Blyth & Bonner, was that unless the Carbide company came at once to the support of the Tennessee River Improvement Association and its "engineering work," Huston would have found it necessary to look around for money with which to cover his margins. At any rate, the books showed that was what became of the $22,000 check.

Walsh asked if it was customary for Haggerson to give his personal check in discharging the company's obligations, and Haggerson replied that this was the only instance of it that he could recall.

Had Full Authority to Act.

Caraway wanted to know why Haggerson didn't consult his company directors or fellow officers before making the donation. Haggerson replied that he had full authority to do it himself, and proceeded on his own responsibility. He admitted that he had never been formally authorized to make such payments, and at that time was only vice president of the company.

"I am curious to know just how much you could give away—what was the limit?" Caraway asked.

"I don't know—I never tried it," was the answer.

Haggerson was visibly embarrassed when a series of sharp questions from Senator Black of Alabama disclosed that Haggerson had been receiving each day, from an agent in Washington, a transcript of Huston's testimony and other testimony affecting the Carbide company's activity in connection with Muscle Shoals.

Haggerson admitted that Vice President Mitchell, who has been directly in charge of the Carbide company's Muscle Shoals campaign, left for Europe after the lobby investigation started, and has not yet returned.

Moore Tells of Stock Deals.

Preceding Haggerson, Moore told the committee that he had bought and sold stock at Huston's direction from the latter's New York brokerage account.

Questioned in regard to the two checks given by the Union Carbide Co., he said the funds had been used in buying and trading stocks.

Moore said he received two checks, one for $22,000 and the other for $14,100 by a messenger who told him they were from Huston.

"Who was the man?" Caraway asked. "I don't know."

The witness said he deposited the $22,000 received first, in an account maintained by Huston at the latter's direction. "It was a tradin account," he added.

"What do you mean by a trading account?" "To buy and sell stocks." "Who did the buying and selling?" "I did."

Later, he said, he received the check for $14,100 and deposited it in a separate account and it also was used for buying stocks on which a profit of more than $500 was made.

"Did you buy these stocks on your judgment or did Mr. Huston tell you to buy them?" Walsh asked. "I bought them on my own judgment." Moore replied.

Moore described himself as the "confidential man" for Huston and said he had been associated with him for about 20 years.

While he was questioned about the transactions, Moore said: "It was just money to me."

Senator Walsh said that on June 26, when the $14,000 deposit was made, there was also a deficit in a Huston account of $39,500.

HAITIAN COMMISSION RETURNS

Reaches Washington and Confers With Hoover.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Prepared to frame a final report on the position of the American Government toward Haiti, the Forbes Investigating Commission returned to Washington at 1:40 p. m. today.

President Hoover said that the commission intended to make a final report within the week on the steps necessary for a gradual reestablishment of self-government in the island republic.

After a brief conference with President Hoover, Chairman W. Cameron Forbes of the commission, said the commissioners had given the President a brief preliminary report on the commission's activities in Haiti. A full report will be presented later.

RTIST TO TESTIFY T INDIAN'S TRIAL FOR KILLING WIFE

enri Marchand Denies Foreknowledge of Plot to Murder His Spouse in Buffalo, N. Y.

INE SO FAR IN JURY BOX

Court Orders Recess Until Monday When First Venire Is Exhausted on Third Day.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 21.—Henri Marchand, artist, held in jail as a material witness in the murder of his wife, Clothilde, today announced his willingness to testify at the trial of Lila Jimerson, 35-year-old Indian, accused as instigator of the murder.

The prosecution contends that Miss Jimerson because of an infatuation for Marchand, induced Nancy Bowen, 66-year-old Indian, to kill the wife of the artist.

Marchand denied he had known of the plot to kill his wife and had done nothing to prevent it.

"I lived with my wife 32 years," he said. "Is it reasonable that after all that time, when she was my critic, when she meant so much to me, that I would plan to kill her? But there has been suspicion. People have been thinking things. I want it to come out now. Let them put me on the stand. I will tell you what I know. I will see if lies will stand up over the truth."

"I have been interested to some extent in other women, but always went back to my little wife," said the artist. "She was my pal. I cannot conceive how anyone could suspect me in connection with her death.

"Lila was a consumptive, and used to say she did not care whether she lived or died. I urged her to go to the doctor and told her if she could not afford to pay him I would. When I wrote endearing letters to her I was merely trying to cheer her up.

"But my wife was my only love. Maybe that was one reason for the crime. Maybe Lila realized that the only woman in the world I could ever love was my wife."

The trial was recessed today until Monday, after the panel of 137 talesmen had been exhausted with only nine jurors selected.

ARTIST "DOMINATED" HER, INDIAN SAYS

(Copyright, 1930.)

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 20.—"Mr. Marchand dominated me. I always felt his influence when he was near. He made love to me and I could not resist," said slim, dark-eyed Lida Jimerson, the Cayuga Indian on trial for the hammer murder of Mrs. Clothilde Marchand, wife of Henri Marchand, artist and sculptor, in an interview in Erie County jail.

She emphatically denied she was the instigator of the slaying of the artist's wife. The actual killing was done by Mrs. Nancy Bowen, 66-year-old Indian woman, also under indictment for the murder, who admits she killed Mrs. Marchand, asserting she was inspired to commit the crime because of Ouija board messages supplied by Miss Jimerson.

"Are you in love with Mr. Marchand?" Lila was asked.

Says Artist Dominated Her.

"In love with him? Well, no—not really in love," she said. "I find it hard to explain. It was like this: When he wasn't around I didn't care for him but when he was near he dominated me—and, well, I met him half way."

Marchand is in jail as a material witness. He was arrested when letters he had written to Lila were brought to light.

Lila told of the Pagan surroundings in which she lived in that part of the Cattaraugus Indian reservation set aside by tradition for those of the Cayuga, Seneca and Onondaga tribes who have not accepted Christianity, and of how the white man came into her life. She had posed for him. He was famous and she was flattered.

"Did anything ever come up between you and Mr. Marchand that made you want to get rid of Mrs. Marchand?" she was asked. "No, positively no."

Lila said Marchand was "the only man in her life." Although she is 35 years old she says she has never had a suitor even among the Indians.

She could not remember exactly how many letters Marchand had written to her. "Probably seven or eight," she said.

Wrote of His Love.

"Oh, yes," she replied, "he told me he loved me. He wrote one letter from Bermuda on May 4 of last year, saying as I recall the words: 'If you are as glad to see me as I am to see you it will be a real meeting.'"

Asked if she had instigated the murder of Mrs. Marchand, Lila declared: "No, absolutely no."

She admitted she and Mrs. Bowen had operated a ouija board together but said she did so "only for fun and not because I believed in spirit messages."

"Mrs. Bowen made a business of it," Lila went on. "She had to ask the ouija board about almost everything she wanted to do. If she wanted to go anywhere she consulted the ouija board. She told fortunes, too. She was superstitious. I myself do not believe in witchcraft."

Asked if she ever harbored ill will toward the slain artist's wife, Miss Jimerson replied: "No, never! I never had cause to."

"I became well acquainted with Mr. Marchand in 1926," Lila related. "He came to the reservation and stayed over Saturdays and Sundays. I have read that I posed for him many times. That is not true. I posed for him only once. He was making a bust model. That was in September, 1928."

Romance Enters Her Life.

Her voice softened as she told of romantic days spent with Marchand on the reservation. For years she had been a hard working girl, toiling long hours on the farm with her father, and knew nothing of the outside world and its amusements.

"I was ill of tuberculosis," she said. "I used to go to the doctor, seven miles away, for treatment. Mr. Marchand often took me by automobile to the doctor's. The first time his wife was along. And she accompanied us on several trips later.

"When he and I began going on this trip alone, we became friendly. He would park his car in the woods at sundown and we would sit contentedly in the back seat.

"I do not feel guilty in any sense in connection with Mrs. Marchand's death," she concluded. "I am not to blame for all this trouble. I try to be contented as possible in jail, but I am not used to such quarters. I did not sleep last night. My father and aunt have visited me, and so has the Rev. Benjamin S. Ferrell, pastor of the Central Church of Christ of Buffalo, and this has made me feel better. As for the trial itself, it is no ordeal because I feel that I am innocent."

Back of the whole picture stands the figure of Clarence Howard of 5501 Chamberlain avenue, St. Louis, a heavy-set, stern-looking man with white hair, and white piping on his vest, who preached the golden rule to foundrymen, sermonized on fellowship at every opportunity, slapped mechanics on the back and called them by their first names, prodded reactionary brother executives into action, held down expenses and saw his locomotive beds and car frames bend under the commerce of a nation.

Howard, through four days, has sat in a jury box chair beside his wife, and listened, with hardly a change of his solemn expression, to former employes testifying as to his fondness for calling his organization "the Commonwealth Family" and designating himself the "papa"; has followed each phase of the case with the calm of a banker listening to a director's report; has seen witnesses testify sarcastically about his practices and preachments and then heard them qualify their testimony by volunteering their absolute belief in his sincerity.

"Mr. Howard's notions of compensation were not liberal," Robert A. Bull of Chicago, former manager of production, testified in a deposition read in court. "In fact, I had difficulty in getting him to O. K. raises for my men, even when they had the approval of Mr. Hoblitzelle (vice president and general manager)." On cross examination, Bull admitted that Commonwealth wages were a bit higher than those paid in most foundries.

Testify to Change in Plant.

Both Bull and Hugh L. Hunter agreed that Howe's patent on the mold worked a revolution in the plant. They stated that it increased production, made castings that were more faithful as to conformity with plans, demanded less skilled labor and virtually eliminated the human element. More, it made possible the production of huge frames that, according to Hunter, would otherwise have been "physically impossible."

There was no secret about this around the plant, according to Hunter. Frequently, in the dining room where executives, supervisors and foremen gathered daily, he heard executives state that the Commonwealth was the "only foundry in the world to enjoy" the Howe process, Hunter said.

At one of these gatherings, Charles M. Schwab, Pittsburg steel magnate, was present. According to Hunter, Howard made this the occasion for another golden rule address, in approximately these words: "There is no occasion when the golden rule can be flouted. It cannot be deviated from. If anyone disagrees with it, we will have to cut his suspenders and let him drop."

STABBED AT DRINKING PARTY

Leo Carver Seriously Wounded in Room of Blind Brother.

Leo Carver, 1519 South Seventh street, was stabbed in the chest and wounded seriously last night in a fight following a drinking party in the room of his brother, Edward, a blind man, at 1109 South Eighth street.

Edward Foulk, 20 years old, a farmer, living near Illmo, Mo., suffered lacerations and bruises. Edward Carver, who was arrested, told police that a man called "Duck" stabbed his brother.

GOLF PRO GETS A SLICE

Estimate Board Lets E. H. Duwe Pay Only $1800 This Year.

E. H. Duwe, golf professional at Forest Park, complained to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment today that construction of the River Des Peres sewer across the nine-hole golf course had prevented his giving lessons, and had caused such a decrease in the sale of supplies at his golf shop that he had been unable to show any profit so far this year.

Duwe pays the city $3600 a year for the instruction and supply concessions. The board agreed to cut his payment this year to $1800.

Magnolia Trees in Bloom.

Magnolia trees, on Hawthorne and Longfellow boulevards, were in full bloom today despite chilling temperatures. The trees budded last week, and the first pinkish lavender waxen blossoms opened two days ago.

INSURANCE MAN KILLED IN PLUNGE FROM 8TH FLOOR

Harry M. Lippman, 64, Leaps or Falls From Window in Corridor of His Hotel.

Harry M. Lipman, 64 years old, an insurance agent and former bankrupt novelty merchant, was killed last midnight when he jumped or fell from an eighth-floor window near his room at the Branscome apartment hotel, 5370 Pershing avenue.

His body was found, face down, on the concrete pavement in the rear of the building, directly below a fully opened window at the end of a corridor.

The nearby door of Lipman's room was ajar and a window in the room was partly open, but not enough to permit passage of a body. Lipman's hat and overcoat were on a settee. Search of the room did not disclose any note.

Dizzy Spell Suggested.

The body was discovered at 12:40 o'clock by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Sabor, who had put their automobile in a garage and were about to go up to their apartment. Dr. Jerome C. Fleischman, a resident at the hotel, said Lipman had been dead not more than an hour.

Lipman lived with his wife, Leonie. She had been visiting a married daughter in Cincinnati for two weeks but was due back today. Another married daughter lives in Chicago.

That Lipman may have fallen during a dizzy spell was suggested by his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Jelenko, 7352 Pershing avenue, University City. However, they said he was not known to be subject to such spells. He dined with them Wednesday and seemed in good health and spirits, cheerful and happy, they said. Yesterday he went to work, telephoned his sister and made routine inquiries, as was his custom. His sister said she knew of no motive for suicide.

Went Bankrupt in 1925.

The Coroner's inquest will be held tomorrow.

Lipman was president of the Palace Novelty Co., 517-19 Olive street, which sold novelty merchandise and fancy work for six years, entering bankruptcy in 1925 with debts of $25,000, against assets of $606 and what merchandise remained after "half price" and auction sales. Lipman later was a manufacturers' agent and novelty salesman. For the last six months he had been an agent for the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co.

"A half price may mean half of any price," Lipman testified in bankruptcy court. "The half price sale I conducted netted 100 per cent profit. I marked the goods up 400 per cent, then cut the price in half, leaving a margin of 100 per cent profit." Lipman testified he drew $10,000 salary during 1924.

Funeral services will be held Sunday in Cincinnati, Lipman's former home.

TREASURY FURTHER EXPLAINS $30,000,000 TAX REFUND

Says $4,000,000 Was Actually Returned, Rest Being Credited on Taxes Due.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—A Treasury statement on the tax refund of $33,000,000 to the United States Steel Corporation today said that only slightly more than $4,000,000 was actually returned to the company.

Since the announcement of the refund it has furnished material for several controversies on the floor of the House with Representative Garner of Texas, the Democratic leader, criticising the Treasury for the settlement and asking a congressional investigation of tax refund methods.

The announcement today said credit given on taxes pending from the steel company had made the amount actually refunded only a little more than $4,000,000.

Van Lear Black Cuts World Flight.

HONGKONG, March 21.—Van Lear Black, Baltimore newspaper publisher, today changed his plans for continuation of his world flight. He said he would take off for Shanghai Monday and go thence to Peiping and Tokio. At the latter place he plans to ship his plane to Los Angeles and then fly to Baltimore, ending his flight.

12 RELATIVES SUE TO BREAK HALPIN $1,187,000 WILL

Descendant of Druggist's Uncle Say He Was of Unsound Mind When He Named Beneficiaries.

Twelve relatives, descendants of his father's brother, sued yesterday to break the will of Thomas Halpin, veteran druggist, who died Dec. 6, leaving the bulk of an estate valued at $1,187,439 to the two children of his deceased wife by a former marriage.

Allegations are that Halpin was of unsound mind when he made his will in November, 1927, at the age of 84 years, and that the beneficiaries under the will exerted undue influence. The 12 relatives say they are Halpin's sole heirs, contending that the two principal beneficiaries were not legally adopted and not entitled to share in the property.

Worked Seven Days a Week.

Halpin, who came from Ireland penniless and worked at his profession seven days a week for 65 years, owned the valuable southwest corner of Grand boulevard and Olive street, where he established a drug store in 1883. On the death of his partner, James McBride, he married McBride's widow. The principal heirs under Halpin's will, Redmond McBride, 7012 Forsythe boulevard, University City, and Mrs. Frank X. Hackmann, 5420 Maple avenue, described as adopted children, are the children of the deceased partner.

The will made specific bequests totalling $17,000 to nieces and cousins, $11,500 to Catholic institutions, and $10,000 to Halpin's housekeeper, Katherine Loftus. It provided that the residue be held in trust by the Mercantile-Commerce Bank and Trust Co. for 10 years and at the end of that period to be divided between McBride and Mrs. Hackmann.

Relatives Bringing Suit.

The relatives who sued are Josie Halpin Kelly, 5176 Maple avenue; Dora Halpin Huber, Perryville, Mo.; Robert Halpin, 5176 Maple avenue; John Halpin; James, John and Mary Egan, 5250 Northland avenue; Anna Egan Meara, 1237 Arch terrace, Richmond Heights; U. S. Short Jr.; Ella B. Hamble, 4873 Kossuth avenue; John Dill, 1915 North Ninth street, and Elizabeth Keating, Wellston.

The first eight are grandchildren of John Halpin, uncle of the druggist, and the others are great-grandchildren of John Halpin. Their attorneys are Thomas D. Cannon, Douglas H. Jones and Francis P. Meara, the latter a son of Mrs. Anna Egan Meara, one of the plaintiffs.

Their suit asks for the removal of the Mercantile-Commerce Bank and Trust Co. as executor and trustee and the appointment of an administrator. The bulk of the Halpin estate consists of bonds and the Grand-and-Olive property which is listed at $250,000 although its actual value is said to be $600,000 or more.

BURGLARS GET $20 FROM DESK

A safe in the Milton Motor Co., 3135 Locust street, was battered by robbers last night who took $20 from a desk.

Efforts are being made to open the safe, which contained $580. The robbers entered by breaking a rear window.

7000 BARRELS OF BEER, 36 PERSONS TAKEN IN RAID

Seizure at Newark, N. J., Brewery and Garage Said to Be Largest Since Prohibition.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEWARK, N. J., March 21.—In what is described as the biggest raid in the history of prohibition, Federal agents working under Capt. George Golding of Albany, independent of local enforcement officials yesterday raided a large garage near the Hensler Brewery here, seized 7000 barrels of beer and arrested 36 men and women employes of the garage and of the brewery.

They found a pipe line, 500 feet long, running from the brewery into the garage, connected with equipment for barrelling beer, and a complete automatic apparatus for washing beer barrels.

The garage occupies nearly a square block and includes a large open yard. In this yard and in a "racking room" adjacent were 7000 barrels of beer.

After arresting 19 men in the garage, the agents went to the brewery, where 17 others were arrested, including the president and officers of the Superior Manufacturing Co., which recently leased the brewery and began making near beer with a Federal permit. In the brewery the agents found 13 large vats, each capable of holding 200 barrels of beer each.

Beer delivered in Albany and traced to Newark was responsible for the raid, it was said.

Federal agents think that by the raid they cut off a source of supply for upstate New York cities.

COUSINS 19 AND 20 GO TO PENITENTIARY FOR HOLDUP

Cecil Rohfling and Martin Hicks, first cousins, were sentenced to five years in the penitentiary by Circuit Judge Hamilton today for two street robberies when they pleaded guilty. Counsel asked that the sentences be commuted to the Boonville reformatory but Judge Hamilton refused, remarking that he "had seen too many cases where young men did not stay but came back and shot people or were shot themselves."

Rohlfing is 19 years old, Hicks 20. On Feb. 3 they robbed one man of his overcoat and another man of $15 in cash and a watch.

FOUR HELD IN SMUGGLING PLOT

Two Airplane Pilots Arrested and Plane Seized in California.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 21.—Federal immigration agents announced today they had arrested two airplane pilots and two alleged "receivers" of smuggled aliens and seized a tri-motored transport airplane. The airplane pilots are Harold A. Sweet, 26 years old, of Los Angeles, and George V. Gray, 34, of Taft, Cal. The alleged receivers are John F. Smith Jr., Los Angeles, and Eddie M. Collins, Long Beach, Cal. Smith and Collins represented themselves as real estate salesmen.

Gray and Sweet were arrested yesterday near Imperial, Cal., when their airplane was forced to land because of stormy weather. There were no aliens in the ship. Collins and Smith were arrested at Calexico, Cal., on the border. Federal agents said they had information that Gray and Sweet planned to meet an automobile which was headed toward the United States from Mexico, carrying nine Chinese. The Chinese, the agents said, were to be transported to Northern California.

BOOKED FOR AFFRAY IN FRONT OF NIGHT CLUB

Marshall Ball, Insurance Man, Discharges Tear Gas Pistol After Finding Wife.

Marshall Ball, head of the Ball-Butler Insurance agency in the Pierce Building, is booked at Laclede Avenue Police Station suspected of affray on the basis of his own recital of an encounter with a young man in front of the Avalon Night Club, 3621 Washington boulevard, early today.

Ball told a Post-Dispatch reporter he "shot" the young man with a tear-gas pistol when he interfered with Ball's efforts to persuade his estranged wife to go home to their 5-year-old son. The insurance man was held until 9 a. m., when he was released under $500 bond, no complaint having appeared against him.

Although Mrs. Madeline Ball sued to divorce Ball two weeks ago on the ground of general indignities, alleging jealousy and a nagging nature, they have continued to share an apartment at 4933 Buckingham Court. At 3 a. m., after wondering about his wife's whereabouts, Ball arose and started on a tour of the night clubs in a search for her.

"I found her at a table in the Avalon with a woman friend and a man I didn't know," Ball related. "I asked her to come home and the man urged her to stay. I mentioned her baby and she burst into tears, but refused to move.

"I went to the corner and related the circumstances to two policemen. They went back to the Avalon with me and my wife's party broke up. She insisted she was going to spend the night with the woman friend.

"Outside they got into my wife's car, but they couldn't start it because I had already removed some of the parts. I drove around the block and came back and offered to take them all home. The young man became obnoxious and reached toward his hip pocket. I took my tear gas pistol from my vest and pressed the button. It blinded him. Then I climbed into my machine and drove to the police station."

Woman to Oppose Lloyd George.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, March 21. — David Lloyd George will not be returned by acclamation at the next election, for Mrs. Mary William Hamilton, Liverpool Labor Councillor, has consented to run against the former Prime Minister. She had an invitation some days ago from the Laborites of Carnarvon, Lloyd George's constituency for the last 40 years.

HELD FOR TREATING WOMEN'S TEETH FREE

Former Springfield (Mo.) Banker Tells Police It's Only a Hobby.

Elwyn Bentley, wealthy former Springfield (Mo.) bank president, is under arrest here for following his hobby—free treatment of women's teeth—without a license.

Since his retirement from the banking business more than 10 years ago, Bentley says he has given dental treatment to about 200 women in St. Louis, New York, Kansas City, Joplin, Mo., and other places. He had a small dental kit with him when arrested downtown yesterday on complaint of a young woman, and a larger kit was found in his room at the Kings-Way Hotel.

"I'm not a dentist, but I used to hobnob with dentists when I was younger and I know something about the work," Bentley told Chief of Detectives Kaiser. "It's my hobby now. I guess I get a thrill out of it."

Bentley, 60 years old and a bachelor, is a dapper dresser and has a small mustache. He was arrested on complaint of Mrs. Mildred Rankin, 25 years old, who gave her address as 5532 Alcott avenue.

"Two years ago I was introduced to this man and he told me he was a dentist," Mrs. Rankin related. "He said my teeth were beautiful and volunteered to clean them for nothing. In doing so, he broke off three teeth at the gums. He apologized and I saw no more of him. I was put to considerable expense in having a real dentist remove the roots.

"Last Wednesday I was passing in front of Hotel Statler when this man smiled at me. I recognized him, but he didn't place me. He told me: 'You know, I'm a dentist. You have wonderful teeth; I'd like to clean them.'

"In order to trap him, I let him take me to luncheon and made an appointment with him for dental treatment the following day. I then notified police."

Two city detectives trailed Bentley and arrested him when he kept his appointment. Several recently pulled teeth were found in Bentley's hotel room.

"I drove to Joplin 10 days ago," Bentley said. "I met three women who wanted their teeth pulled and I pulled them. If they want the teeth cleaned, I clean them."

"Doesn't it hurt?" suggested Chief Kaiser.

"Oh, yes, they holler once in a while," Bentley admitted.

Two warrants were issued by the Prosecuting Attorney's office charging Bentley with practicing dentistry without a license and with common assault.

HOLDUP MAN GETS LIFE SENTENCE AS HABITUAL FELON

C. B. Parker, 30, Already Has Spent Third of Days in Prison—Has "Irresistible Impulse to Steal."

Clayton B. Parker, who at 30, already has spent more than a third of his life in prison, was sent back to the penitentiary for the rest of his days on the finding of a jury in Circuit Judge Hamilton's court yesterday.

Like two other convictions against him, the sentence was for robbery. Under a three-fold arraignment, used by the Circuit Attorney's office in some robbery cases, the jury could have fixed his punishment at death. Parker was charged under the robbery statute, which carries a penalty of from five years to life; as an habitual criminal, making a life sentence mandatory upon conviction, and under the Henry law, providing a minimum of 10 years and a maximum of death for robbery with a deadly weapon.

Parker, paroled by Gov. Baker in 1928 after he had served eight years of a 50-year prison term, and arrested in the robbery for which he was convicted yesterday while at liberty on bond in an attempted robbery, pleaded insanity. He said that at times he suffered from an iresistible impulse to commit holdups. Dr. William Nelson, director of the city's Psychiatric Clinic, testified that Parker did not know right from wrong.

First Sentence in 1918.

Parker's first clash with the law was in 1918 when he received a five-year penitentiary sentence for robbery, which later was commuted to a term at the Boonville Reformatory. Then, Oct. 11, 1920, he and his brother, Frank, pleaded guilty of a robbery charge at Nevada, Mo., and were sentenced to 50 years. They had stolen $10 and a watch from a clergyman and his wife.

Paroled Christmas week, 1928, with his brother and 11 other men, Parker was shot and wounded June 9, 1929, by Patrolman Andrew Grega, whom he attempted to hold up in Forest Park. Grega was off duty and in plain clothes. Accompanied by a young woman he had gone to the park, hoping to meet the man who had been holding up pairs in the park at night.

Parker tried to hold up Grega, and when he refused to drop his pistol, Grega shot him. At that time he said he was John Morris, a painter, on his "first job." Five days later, however, his identity was ascertained by finger prints and it also was learned that Frank Parker, 4769 Beacon avenue, the brother, had died June 13 of heart disease.

Let Pair Have $1 for Movie.

When he recovered from the bullet wound, Parker was transferred from the City Hospital to the city jail. While a prisoner there he retained counsel and was released on bond.

Then, on Jan. 5 last, he held up Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Keune, 5431 Rhodes avenue, as they parked their automobile on Enright avenue, near Grand boulevard. Robbing Kuene of $4, he returned $1 and told him: "You and your wife go on to a movie and make it snappy." Later Parker held up Clarence Stookey, 1451 Car Lane avenue, and Miss Faye Smith, 3732 Maffitt avenue, who were sitting in an automobile nearby. Kuene, in the meantime, had met Patrolman William Blue and reported the robbery. Blue ran to the scene and Parker wheeled, pointed his automatic at the policeman, who then was about six feet away, and pulled the trigger. The weapon failed to fire and Parker dropped it, elevating his hands and crying, "Don't shoot, officer, I've dropped my pistol."

Blue took the man in custody. He had attempted to fire his own revolver, but the leather thong on his nightstick had caught in the hammer when he pulled the weapon hurriedly from its holster.

The jury deliberated three hours.

RY ENFORCEMENT N MISSOURI GOOD, RS. BURGER SAYS

serts Prohibition in State Is More Than 80 Per Cent Effective—St. Louis Hub of Violations.

Post-Dispatch Bureau,
201-205 Kellogg Bldg.

ASHINGTON, March 21.—Mrs. lle Burger of Springfield, presi- nt of the Missouri Woman's- ristian Temperance Union, in a mal statement filed with the use Judiciary Committee yester- , answered the charge of former ator George Williams of St. uis that prohibition was not ef- tive in Missouri.

rs. Burger has been a constant endant at the Judiciary Commit- 's prohibition hearings recently, twas called from Washington fore she could testify. Her tement, while it did not mention mer Senator Williams by name, t no doubt as to whom she ant.

Referring obviously to Williams, o has been the only wet witness m St. Louis to appear before the mmittee, Mrs. Burger said: "I n't know just how much of Missouri he claimed to represent. As residence is in St. Louis, I as- me that he means that city. St. uis has always been, and perhaps ways will be, the large wet cen- of the State. As president of e Missouri W. C. T. U., I claim represent the ideals and opinions thousands of citizens in every rt of Missouri, who do not re- rd the eighteenth amendment htly, but who, like good Ameri- n citizens, are giving their effort influence to the enforcement the same. I wish to call atten- n to the fact that Kansas City ted three times in favor of prohi- tion, and that St. Joseph and ringfield voted dry every time e opportunity was presented."

Criticises Officials.

Mrs. Burger said there were veral reasons why St. Louis was t.

"For years," she said, "St. Louis as wet. For years St. Louis was e largest brewing center in the nited States. Thousands of its tizens were employed for two nd three generations in that busi- ess, so that they might be termed ngenital wets. It will take an- ther generation or two to change at attitude of mind.

"The press of St. Louis is not in mpathy with the eighteenth endment and constantly crit- ises it, and the effort made to en- rce it. Such publicity is an in- ntive to disrespect and lawless- ess. It is the law, and as such, hould be given the same consid- ation as any other law. Those pposed to the eighteenth amend- ent have a perfect right to work r repeal. All they have to do to present a repeal resolution, cure the two-thirds vote of Con- ess and ratification of three- ourths of the states. That is the ay the eighteenth amendment as written into the Constitution. t is un-American and unsports- anlike to preach nullification."

Mrs. Burger said none of the odification proposals of the anti- rohibitionists, such as Federal ontrol or State control, would be ccessful.

Praises Federal Judges.

"Prohibition is not perfect, nor it perfectly enforced. It has been said that our laws are enforced about 80 per cent. I believe the prohibition law in Missouri is better enforced than that. We have splendid Federal Judges, who regard their oath of office as a badge of honor and who scrupulously enforce all laws including the prohibition law. We have officials who are fearless in the discharge of their duty regardless of the element of personal danger incurred.

"I was born in St. Louis. I have spent most of my life in Missouri under license regime and under prohibition. I am ready to make oath to the following statements:

"That prohibition has brought relief to hundreds of families who never before knew anything but grinding poverty.

"That thousands of women and children have today food and othing who in saloon days were aked and hungry.

"That thousands of homes have been built and are owned or being paid for by people who never in the pre-prohibition days aspired to a home of their own.

"That thousands of children who were denied school privileges because of the lack of clothing are today enrolled in the schools of r state.

"That thousands of families have savings accounts who never under saloon rule were able to save a cent.

The dry forces will continue their defense of prohibition next Wednesday with the committee resuming its hearings on proposals that the eighteenth amendment be repealed. Additional time has been requested by the prohibitionists—a half a day of the seven days originally allotted them remains—and the committee will accede to their wishes.

The drys have yet to introduce statements from Prof. Irving Fisher, economist of Yale University, and the Rev. Clarence True Wilson, D. D., of the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which they have now been olding for more than a week.

The National Woman's Christian Temperance Union was placed on record yesterday as opposing all of the measures before the committee to repeal the eighteenth amendment by Mrs. Ella A. Boole of Brooklyn, N. Y., its president. She testified that as long as the women retained their right of suffrage the amendment would remain in the Constitution and that, regardless of party affiliations, they would continue to be "implacable foes of the liquor traffic."

Protest Strike in Cuba Ended.

By the Associated Press.

HAVANA, March 21.—With their 24-hour strike in protest against unemployment over, workmen went back to their jobs today. Street cars and omnibus lines again operated, relieving the partial tie-up of yesterday. Both in Havana and over the island the strike passed quietly.

200 PCT. INCREASE IN NEW YORK IN NEED FOR CHARITY

State Industrial Commissioner, Citing Change in Six Months, Compares Conditions With 1914.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Holding unemployment conditions in New York State were "comparable only with those of 1914," Miss Frances Perkins, industrial commissioner of that state, today testified before a Senate committee that appeals for charity had increased 200 per cent in the last six months.

She said such an increase in appeals was an indication of a condition that in her opinion was "striking and shocking."

Miss Perkins was the first witness as the committee resumed its inquiry into the unemployment situation. Chairman Johnson has described the hearing as a search for the "truth" about those out of work.

The increase in appeals, she asserted, represented requests from "families in need as the result of unemployment and it does not include appeals from unemployable persons—those who from sickness or other causes would not be expected to be employed."

Bread lines have increased, Miss Perkins said, but added that these "more dramatic" evidences of distress were not so dependable as the statistics that have been collected by the Labor Department, with which she is connected.

Can Eliminate Idleness.

"Unemployment can be made to disappear from American industry," Miss Perkins said. "We have solved other problems. The infant mortality rate, that seemed an act of God a few years ago, has been met, and we have stamped out scourges. I believe we can reduce unemployment in our industrial structure to a degree at which it would be negligible."

Senator Couzens (Rep.), Michigan, who conducted an investigation of unemployment conditions up to January of last year, asked what could be accomplished if a Federal planning agency, such as has been proposed by Senator Wagner (Dem.), New York, were set up.

"There is everywhere a disposition to plan far ahead in industry," responded the witness.

Many industries, she added, were seeking to spread employment over a regular period instead of hiring a great number of workers for a brief period and then discharging them.

Couzens said that recently there was a conference here of radio manufacturers who had an output of 15,000,000 sets a year, whereas the consumption of this country was estimated at 3,000,000 sets.

140,000 Factory Men Idle.

Miss Perkins said that evidences of suffering from unemployment in New York are even "more striking" now in view of the public's present disposition to give to charity agencies. In 1914, she said, this was not the case, and evidences of suffering were more obvious.

She said that "today we have a new phenomenon, technological unemployment." This technological unemployment, she continued, would need more careful consideration than any other problem in connection with unemployment.

Consulting an index published by the Labor Department of New York, Miss Perkins testified that about 140,000 factory workers were unemployed. She made the estimate in response to questions from the committee, explaining "we have steadfastly refused to make an estimate of unemployment because we know that it would be a guess."

The figure for factories, she said, was an estimate. There is greater unemployment, relatively, in building trades, she added, and "there is also a high degree in the so-called 'white-collar' group."

This group, she said, included clerks, salesmen and others not doing manual labor. She characterized it as "a group of families who a year ago thought they were well-fixed."

ASSAILS COMMERCE CHAMBER FOR DISPLAYING RUSSIAN COAL

Secretary of Labor Davis Says U. S. Industry Has Enough Problems Already.

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 21.—At a meeting of the Carpet and Upholstery Club last night, Secretary of Labor James J. Davis criticised the Chamber of Commerce of an Eastern city which, he said, had held a public exhibition which included samples of Russian coal.

"One of the dangerous examples of dumping foreign goods into this country," Davis declared, "occurs in the case of importing of Russian anthracite coal into our New England States, where it is underselling the coal mined in the United States.

"The coal industry is thoroughly aroused as they have every right to be. This coal is reaching New England in competition with Pennsylvania coal and underselling it. The anthracite coal industry has problems enough already. The competition of fuel substitutes is nothing to the stab-in-the-back methods of a Government that makes virtual slaves of its miners and can sell its coal at any price."

LARGE STILL SEIZED AT 3028 LOCUST ST.

Two Men, Who Say They Were Hired as Watchmen, Held.

A large whisky still and 30,000 gallons of whisky mash were found by Deputy Prohibition Administrator Dillon and a squad of dry agents last night when they raided the seemingly vacant two-story brick building, formerly occupied by an automobile company, at 3028 Locust street.

Two men who said they were Tony Frasta of 5045 Wilson avenue and William M. Holleman of 2317 South Thirteenth street, were arrested on the premises. They said they had been hired the day before by a man they did not know to act as watchmen.

Dillon had received a tip that a house in the 3000 block of Locust street was receiving frequent deliveries of sugar. Without search warrants, he and his men combed the district last night for a clew to the house. A light in the structure at 3028 drew the attention of the squad about 10 o'clock and the raid followed.

Dillon said the equipment in the place was elaborate. The still cost at least $1500, and the entire plant perhaps $6000. On the second floor, the operators had constructed six vats, of pine boards, each with a capacity of 5000 gallons. The first floor was divided into compartments.

One compartment hid the still and another a stove for heating water and mash. Another partition was placed to cut off any view from the front. The second floor windows were screened by wallboard.

Dillon found on the premises 25 gallons of alcohol. On the basis of this discovery, warrants charging illegal possession were issued today against Frasta and Holleman.

TWO YOUNG SCIENTISTS WIN AGAIN IN RADIO LITIGATION

U. S. Patent Office Awards Them Priority in Invention of "All Electric" Set.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Two young scientists, Percival D. Lowell and Francis W. Dunmore of Washington, have advanced a step nearer an estimated fortune of $20,000,000 in royalties in radio patents as the result of a decision by the examiner of interference of the United States Patent Office. They were awarded priority in the invention of the "all electric" radio receiving set, which can be operated from house lighting circuits and without batteries.

Their claim had been contested by Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co., Wired Radio, Inc., and Amrad Radio Laboratories, Inc.

It was a second victory for the young scientists, as they previously had been awarded a court decision in a suit against the Radio Corporation of America.

BOY HANGS SELF AT SCHOOL

Buffalo (N. Y.) Pupil, Unruly, Had Been Sent to Coat Room.

By the Associated Press.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 21.—Eight-year-old Girard Lyons, public school pupil, was banished to the coat room by his teacher yesterday for being unruly. A half hour later when the other children were dismissed they found the boy hanging by his necktie to a pair of coat hooks on the wall. Efforts to revive him failed.

There's A Perfectly Good Reason!

for the Smart Fashions and Low Prices at Cunningham's

It's no idle boast—that the really new and smart are consistently low-priced at Cunningham's. Without the huge overhead necessary at the store where "charge it" is the countersign . . . Cunningham's can well afford its splendid corps of stylists to ferret out the authentically chic . . . and present these outstanding fashions at prices to intrigue the most conservative budget.

OVERLAND SEWER BOND CONTRACT FAVORS BANKERS

Supervisor Tells How Board Agreed to Sell 5 1-2 Per Cent Paper at Par to a Syndicate.

The terms of a contract made by supervisors of the Overland sewer district, in which they agreed to sell 5½ per cent bonds of the district at par to members of a syndicate of banks and investment houses which also financed six other sewer districts, and pledged themselves to appoint only engineers approved by the bankers, have proved highly favorable to the financiers, in the opinion of Jacob L. Shane, a supervisor and party to the contract.

In depositions taken at Clayton yesterday by John E. Mooney, attorney for residents of the district who have brought injunction proceedings, Shane said that the clause providing that the bonds be taken at par had been invalidated by the inability of the supervisors to deliver the bonds within nine months after execution of the contract.

The contract, the first of any kind made by supervisors after they took office May 19, 1928, was prepared by the Mississippi Valley Trust Co. and Kauffman-Smith & Co., Inc., and signed June 29, 1928, providing that "the bonds are to be delivered to us in accordance with the terms of this contract on or before April 1, 1929, or thereafter at our option."

Bankers Couldn't Lose.

In response to questions, Shane said that the Board of Supervisors had not asked for an amended contract, although they think that the district was placed at a disadvantage by this clause. If the bond market was low, the bankers could not be compelled to take the bonds, he said, but, if the market was high and the bonds might otherwise sell at a premium, bankers might exercise their option with profit.

At the same time, a contract was made in which the bankers agreed to cash protested warrants of the district to the extent of $50,000 to provide funds for preliminary expenses, Shane said. The Board of Supervisors, he explained, thought that the cost could be distributed more equitably by such financing than by following a provision of the Ralph act which permitted them to levy a tax of not more than 10 cents on each 100 square feet of property in the district.

However, on demand of the bankers that such a tax be levied in order to protect their advances for protested warrants, the levy was ordered, although it was not the intention of the supervisors to collect it, the supervisor admitted. He explained that preliminary expenses, under their plan, ultimately would be paid from taxes derived from assessments of benefits and damages.

Experts' Approval Necessary.

The contract also provided that bonds have the approval of Benjamin H. Charles, bond expert, who, although no contract has been made, Shane thinks is to receive a fee of one-half of one per cent of the cost of construction of the sewer system, or approximately $4340, the estimated cost being $868,000. Charles also is employed in addition to other attorneys in six other districts, in which amounts ranging up to $4,000,000, and totaling about $12,000,000, will be spent.

The second contract made by the supervisors was with William H. Stoecker as chief engineer, who also is employed in three other districts with the approval of the banking syndicate. Clark E. Jacoby and W. W. Horner, also with the bankers' approval, are employed in seven districts as consulting engineers, to be paid by the engineer from his fee of 6¼ per cent of the construction cost.

Survey Recently Completed.

The engineer's contract was made July 24, 1928, almost a month after the bond contract. The survey was completed only recently and commissioners named to assess benefits and damages. After this work has been completed and if it is found by the Circuit Court that total benefits exceed the cost of sewers, the district may issue bonds. Litigation, brought by property owners who may file exceptions to benefits assessed against them, may delay the finding of the court which is necessary before the bonds may be issued.

Before selecting John H. Haley as attorney, William Heidbrink, another supervisor, testified they sought the opinion of Circuit Judge Mulloy, a resident of Overland who had served petitioners for formation of a sewer district without pay before he was appointed to the bench. Judge Mulloy did not suggest the employment of Haley but told them that he, among others under consideration, was well qualified, Heidbrink said. The opinion of Charles, he said, also was sought before an attorney was chosen. Haley is attorney in three other districts.

Questioned as to why he went to Jefferson City last year to lobby against proposed amendments to the Ralph act, Shane said that he did not oppose the amendments except for the reason that he thought their enactment would delay work in the Overland district. He approved, among others, provisions for election of supervisors.

BOYD FIFTIES

An unrivaled range of selection in the infancy of the spring season, giving authentic style at moderate economy.

THE MODELS are new single and double breasteds with peak and notch lapels. The shoulders are accented, the waists incurved slightly. No effort has been spared in putting hand needling wherever essential to insure perfect fit and drape. THE FABRICS Clear, clean cut worsteds are unquestionably preferred for spring, hence most of the suits feature these fabrics with their plain weaves, diagonals and neat stripe effects. Other fabrics of course such as tweeds and homespuns. THE COLORS Grays, tans and powder blues are the colors. We have these in a variation of tones. There are black and white and tan and white tweeds and other mixtures in profusion. All these foregoing facts give testimony of the TREMENDOUS SELECTION in all sizes offered in this group of Boyd's Fifties for Spring.

"Change the lapel, and you've changed the style"! A wise old saying—and true—that suddenly pops into the fashion headlines with renewed vigor. For after three seasons of more or less "sameness," it's a joy to greet these three new lapels—and the three new sack coats they introduce.

We men don't often get the chance to change our lines with such decided advantage to our appearance. That's why we're taking the new lines of our lapels so seriously this Spring. They completely change the "set" of the shoulders by making them appear broader. And they produce a jaunty, deep-chested effect that's flattering to us all; and that will quickly erase any lingering memories of drab Winter.

At Bond's, these newcomers are faultlessly reproduced from the original models brought from London (we'll cross more than an ocean, if necessary, to get complete "style assurance").

And at Bond's you'll see these newcomers developed in the proudest fabrics of our American looms — woolens that have withstood the most punishing tests for wear, before we accept them for you to wear. Rich Dunrobins, sparkling Orkney Tweeds, the famous Camerons, McLaren Cords — thoroughbreds that are generally associated only with expensive clothes. G. O. P. CITY COMMITTEE FOR 85C SCHOOL TAX

Democratic Committee Had Previously Indorsed Measure to Be Voted on Tuesday.

The Executive Committee of the Republican City Committee has indorsed the proposal to retain the 85-cent school tax rate for the next four years, which is to be voted on at a special election next Tuesday. The party organization also pledged support at the polls. The Executive Committee of the Democratic City Committee previously had approved the 85-cent rate.

Radio audiences are to select the best speakers from among seven girls and seven boys making brief addresses today and tomorrow in behalf of the tax campaign, under auspices of the Citizens' School Tax Campaign Committee. The girls spoke this afternoon over Station KMOX and the boys will speak between 9 and 9:30 p. m. tomorrow over KWK. Listeners are asked to send their votes for the boy and girl who are to have the honor of being adjudged best to the campaign committee at 911 Locust street.

The competitors were chosen at each of the five white and two Negro high schools by assemblies of the student bodies.

Additional indorsements of the 85-cent rate have been announced by the campaign committee as follows: Twenty-seventh Ward Republican League Club, Gundlach School Patrons' Association, Third Ward Republican Club, Eugene Field Parent-Teacher Association, Hogden Parent-Teacher Association, North Side Republican Woman's Club, Benton School Mothers' and Fathers' Club, Horace Mann Patrons' Association, Adams School Mothers' Club, Ashland Mothers' Club, Longfellow Mothers' Club, Roe Mothers' Circle, Community Center Mothers' Circle.

POLICE HONOR FOR PATROLMAN WHO WOUNDED HOLDUP MAN

Board Revives Custom Abandoned 10 Years Ago to Present Medal to F. W. Paschedag.

The custom of presenting distinguished service medals to policemen, abandoned 10 years ago, will be revived by the Board of Police Commissioners this afternoon. The first policeman to be decorated will be Patrolman Frederick W. Paschedag, who interrupted a drug store holdup at McPherson avenue and Sarah street Wednesday afternoon and wounded George Hutchings, a robber.

One side of the gold medal bears the seal of Missouri and the words, "For distinguished service, St. Louis Police"; the other side, the Police Department emblem and the words, "Presented by the Board of Police Commissioners to Patrolman Frederick W. Paschedag." The medal is suspended by a ribbon from a bar which bears the letters "D. S." and a star.

The board also will present a bronze plaque and a streamer to the department's 1929 revolver championship team, a group of 10 Central District men headed by Capt. Adolph Amrhein.

MIAMI PAYS FARE OF STRANDED GIRLS IN BEAUTY CONTEST

Florida City Council Goes to Rescue When Pageant Association Shows $24,000 Deficit.

By the Associated Press.

MIAMI, Fla., March 21.—More than 40 American girls who participated in the recent Miami beauty pageant were on their way home today—thanks to a special meeting of the City Commissioners, which produced their railroad fares. The Commissioners, when told that the Pageant Association had an indebtedness of $24.734, appropriated $4660 from the city's publicity fund to help the contestants get out of the city.

Some of the 40 or more girls had prize money due them and others had been unable to collect traveling expenses from the Pageant Association. Among the bills unpaid, the Council was told, was one for $6910.88 for railroad transportation.

EXPLAINS WHY LORD BALFOUR WAS A LIFELONG BACHELOR

London Daily Mail Says Fiancee Died as He Was on Way to Present Ring.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, March 21.—The death of his fiancee, the only woman he ever loved, just before presentation of the ring, is said by the Daily Mail to have motivated the lifelong bachelorhood of Lord Balfour, who died Wednesday at the age of 81.

The Mail, which says its information came from a close friend of the statesman, explains that, when Balfour was about 27 years old, he fell in love with the Honorable Miss Lyttelton, sister of the late Viscount Cobham. He bought a ring, but she died suddenly while he was on his way to present it.

In after years the Earl never referred to his engagement, and when asked why he did not marry, always turned the question away lightly. The Mail says that once, however, he told a friend he had not married because in early life he proposed to have a career of his own.

"But would marriage have made a great difference?" he was asked. He replied: "It would have made a very great difference. Think of the sweet clutter of things about the house."

FILES INFORMATION CHARGING RYCKOFF CHEATED THE CITY

Circuit Attorney's Action Replacing Indictment Is Based on Survey by the Pitzman's Co.

An information based on the result of a survey made for the city by Pitzman's Co. of Surveyors & Engineers of the street lighting work in St. Louis of A. M. Ryckoff, Chicago contractor, was filed yesterday in Circuit Judge Hamilton's Court by Circuit Attorney Franklin Miller, to replace an indictment returned last April. the information charging Ryckoff cheated the city out of $157,064.66 for work he did not do.

As in the indictment, the information names John C. Pritchard, former Director of Public Utilities, and George B. Heath, former chief electrical engineer in Pritchard's department, as parties to the fraud.

The techuical charge is obtaining money under false pretenses, the penalty for which, upon conviction, is two to five years in the penitentiary.

Pitzman Survey Followed.

In the original indictment, which is superseded by the information, only sidewalk resurfacing was cited as the medium of the fraud, but the information follows the Pitzman survey item by item, showing a total overcharge on 11 items of $186,723.45, which, after deductions for undercharges on other items amounting to $10,708.21, and $18,950.58 deducted by Comptroller Nolte as an overcharge for cable, leaves the final overcharge at $157,064.66.

The original indictment was based on the result of a hasty survey made for the Post-Dispatch by R. H. Buchmueller, engineer and town planner in the International Building, which indicated Ryckoff had overcharged the city approximately $175,000 for sidewalk resurfacing, based on assumed widths. Pitzman's survey showed Ryckoff had greatly exceeded those widths. However, Pitzman's exact measurements, showed a total overcharge on concrete and brick pavement of $112,039.46. Overcharges on other itmes not measured by Buchmueller further increased the total.

Goes Over to April Term.

Filing of the information was made possible by a special enactment of the 1925 Legislature, which provides an information may be substituted for an indictment when the latter is held to be insufficient in form and substance. Circuit Attorney Miller adopted this method to embrace all the overcharges in the proceeding against Ryckoff, Pritchard and Heath.

By agreement with defense attorneys and the Circuit Attorney, Judge Hamilton set the case over for trial at the April term and it will be set down for trial next month or on an early day in May.

The information charges specifically that Ryckoff, Pritchard and Heath "did among themselves conspire, combine, confederate and agree together that the said A. M. Ryckoff should and would falsely, fraudulently, unlawfully, knowingly, designedly and feloniously deceive, cheat and defraud the said city of St. Louis" out of $157,064.66 for work on the contract Ryckoff did not do.

It is charged that "by reason of the incomplete. inaccurate, defective and insufficient inspections, records and accounts made and kept of the work" by Ryckoff, Heath and Pritchard, certain undercharges were made, totaling $10,708.21, for which the contractor is given credit in the information.

As to Pritchard and Heath, who were public officers when the alleged fraud was perpetrated and who resigned office following the original disclosures by the Post-Dispatch last March, the information charges that their acts were corrupt as public officers.

DRY ENFORCEMENT PROGRAM SENT TO FULL COMMITTEE

All Measures Recommended by Hoover Board Laid Before House Group.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—With modifications, the entire program of the Law Enforcement Commission to strengthen dry law enforcement, has been laid before the full House Judiciary Committee by a subcommittee for action next Thursday.

The subcommittee, headed by Representative Christopherson (Rep.), South Dakota, today reported favorably to the full committee the Wickersham bills to strengthen the padlock law and to permit state officers to take liquor law violators into Federal courts.

The Stobbs bill to amend the Jones law to definite misdemeanor liquor cases, and the Christopherson bill to broaden the powers of the United States Commissioners to hear slight and casual liquor law violators previously were referred to the full committee.

Seeks Reduced Fruit Fly Fund.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—President Hoover today submitted a revised estimate to Congress for Mediterranean fruit fly eradication work, reducing the original request for $15,382,000 to $6,902,404.

TO COMPLETE PARROT FEVER STUDY AT ISOLATED POINT

U. S. Abandons Laboratory Research When 11 Attendants Become Ill.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Research to discover the germ responsible for psittacosis, or parrot fever, abandoned at the United States hygienic laboratory after 11 attendants were stricken with the disease, will be transferred to an isolated island or quarantine station and carried to completion. Many of those taken ill at the laboratory had not been within 30 feet of the psittacosis experiments with dead parrots.

The board has reached no decision as to the medium by which parrot fever is spread. It indicated, however, it thought the disease was carried either by insects or by dust particles.

A recommendation was made that the building in which the experiments were conducted be completely overhauled and renovated. At the Public Health Service it was said today that virtually a new building would be needed if research with highly communicable diseases were continued.

SPRING FLOWER SHOW AT SHAW'S GARDEN

Annual Display for Prizes Covers Twice the Space of Last Year's.

The annual Spring Flower Show at Shaw's Garden for competitive classes for cash prizes, which opened yesterday afternoon, spreads over nearly twice the space of last year's. Apparently every grower and florist about St. Louis is determined to win one prize or many. And virtually every contest has two especially formidable competitors, each determined to win the high prize of the show, the $250 Missouri Botanical (Shaw's) Garden cup for the highest total of points in all classes.

Another victory will make it the permanent trophy of the Sanders Nursery, which won it last year and in 1928. The most determined opponent every year, and especially this, has been Joseph Witek, who won the cup when it was first offered in 1927. And there are dark horses intent on taking the prize away from both of them.

Prize Awards.

Yesterday's liveliest competition was evoked by the $50 regular prize and the $100 Edward Mallinckrodt Jr. prize for the most artistic arrangement of orchids. The two previous cup-winners and a dark horse competed with 10 different genera, 20 species, of exceptionally fine flowers shipped in from other sections and including some rarely seen in St. Louis. It was evident that the distinction of victory had led the contestants to greater outlay than the prize.

First prize went to a combination of nature and sophistication, orchid flowers and ferns on a pair of tree stumps. Second prize went to a ocnventional but consummate grouping of fine varieties in epergne, and third to the "dark horse," for a nicely designed scheme set off by a pair of mossy miniature gates.

Other contests brought out rare colors in familiar flowers, and even some flowers rare in St. Louis displays. Among them was the blue African cone flower, first exhibited by Shaw's Garden two years ago and never previously seen in a local commercial show. There were fancy anemones, and anemones are not common here.

Tiny Rock Gardens.

Visitors paused to admire the strange lemon-tint of Ceylon Court snapdragon, and the vivid combination of bronze, rose and yellow in a bronze variety that won the blue ribbon. One grower showed philodendrons growing up, down, as a tub plant and as a globe. A florist's booth showed a dozen rock gardens, none more than 10 inches across, complete even to mirror pools, stone bridges, and tiny fishermen and pagodas.

Today is the big day for roses and carnations, but yesterday one might admire the ethereal flush of the Winter Beauty carnation, a St. Louis achievement, the slightly deeper pink of the popular Laddie, the red of the Betty Lou. The florid American Beauty and the dainty Ward roses have passed from the American scene, hastened by the vagaries of fashion and of heredity as well. Even the distinctive Claudius Pernet, the popular yellow of two years ago, has receded from pre-eminence.

Closes Sunday Night.

But admired among the yellows were the soft Joanna Hill and the remarkable Talisman, with its peach-blush on the inner side of its golden petals, and, among the reds, the dusky Templar and the American Beauty's successors, the deep pink Premier Supreme, the lighter Premier, and the even finer Matchless.

Special contests today are in shoulder bouquets, tomorrow in bridal and bridesmaids' bouquets, and for Sunday's contest, 14 competitors will vie in table decoration. The show, ending Sunday night, is open from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. daily.

SEEKS RETURN TO GALENA, MO. OF EMBEZZLEMENT SUSPECT

Gov. Caulfield Sends Requisition to California for Loan Firm Agent.

By the Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 21.—Four requisitions were issued yesterday by Gov. Caulfield, one of them seeking the extradition of Chester A. Stone, former agent and collector at Galena, Mo., of the Farm and Home Savings & Loan Association with headquarters in Nevada, from Kentfield, Cal., on charges of embezzling more than $15,000 of the company's funds. The alleged embezzlement occurred in September, 1927.

Another of the requisitions seeks the extradition of Gladys Tucker from Little Rock, Ark., to Galena township, Jasper County, for a $150 robbery Feb. 10 this year.

A third asks for the return of Richard J. (Babe) Yancey from Fort McDowell, Cal., to Fulton, Mo., on a charge of breaking into the City Collector's office Nov. 16, last, with the intent to rob.

The fourth requests the extradition of Edward A. Donahoe and George E. Wilson from Chicago, to St. Louis, on a charge of beating a $116 rooming bill at the Fairgrounds Hotel.

POLICE CAPTAIN PUTS ON SHOW AT THE TRIAL OF MAE WEST

Tries to Mimic Female Impersonators in "Pleasure Man" and Gets a Laugh.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Capt. James J. Coy, a bald and husky police officer, who experienced some difficulty and apparently a good deal of embarrassment in trying to mimic a female impersonator, was the first witness yesterday against Mae West and 57 other persons associated with her in the production of "Pleasure Man," which was raided and closed by the police in October, 1928.

Miss West, as author, Carl Reed, as producer, and as many of the cast as could be assembled are on trial charged with a misdemeanor in putting on an indecent play.

Coy said he was assigned to attend the opening performance and that, during the last act, he went back stage and requested the stage manager, Tod Lewis, to ring down the curtain. This, he said, Lewis refused to do and also declined to show him how to do it. Two nights later police raided the play.

"They (some of the actors) walked with their shoulders going like this," Coy said, swaying his own shoulders. "They talked in high, falsetto voices, and my impression is that they had douge on their cheeks heavy."

Raising his own voice, he quoted several lines which the police and District Attorney regarded as objectionable, while the court room hangers-on tittered and the jury listened gravely.

Atlanta Theater Bombed.

By the Associated Press.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 21.—A dynamite bomb thrown through a ventilator window exploded in a theater today, causing damage which the manager estimated at $500. The motion picture house was unoccupied at the time and no one was injured. It was the second movie theater bombing here within four months. Police said the theater had been employing non-union operators.

BYRD SHIP TO LEAVE NEW ZEALAND SUNDAY

City of New York to Be Followed Week Later by Eleanor Bolling.

Copyright by the New York Times and St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

DUNEDIN, N. Z., March 21.—Preparations for the departure of the Byrd expedition are actively proceeding. The flagship, the bark City of New York, will sail Sunday afternoon for Tahiti and the steamship, Eleanor Bolling, will follow about a week later.

Following are the tentative lists of the personnel assigned to the ships:

On the City of New York: Bernt Balchen, John T. Bayer, Quin A. Blackburn, Christopher Braathen, Jacob Bursey, Dr. Francis D. Coman, Arthur B. Creagh, Frederick E. Crockett, Victor H. Czegka, Frank T. Davies, James A. Feury, Charles F. Gould, Malcolm P. Hanson, Henry T. Harrison Jr., Bendik Johansen, Harold I. June, Frederick C. Velville, Thomas B. Mulroy, Esmonde M. O'Brien, Carol O. Petersen, S. Edward Roos, Benjamin Roth, Ralph E. Shropshire, Paul A. Siple, Sverre Strom, John L. Sutton, George W. Tennant, William Erickson, Griffen Robinson and Woolhouse.

On the Eleanor Bolling: Harry Adams, Leland L. Barter, Capt. Gustave L. Brown, Kennard F. Bubier, John Buys, Arnold H. Clark, E. J. Deman, Carroll B. Foster Jr., William Gavronski, Dr. Laurence Gould, Lloyd K. Grenlie, William C. Haines, Charles L. Kessler, Charles J. McGuinness, Frank McPherson, John S. O'Brien, Anson W. Perkins, Louis Reichard, Elbert J. Thawley, George A. Thorn Jr., Paape, Shrimpton and Willcox.

Admiral Byrd's plans for departure are still unsettled. He is trying to arrange for reservations on the liner Rangitiki, leaving Wellington on April 26 and due at Panama on May 18. He is also arranging for short wave radio equipment aboard the liner to enable him to ocmmunicate with the City of New York and the Eleanor Bolling during the trans-Pacific voyage. Lloyd Berkner will accompany Byrd as radio operator.

Charles E. Lofgren and Joe De Ganahl are also likely to accompany Byrd to Panama. Capt. Ashley McKinley, the aerial photographer, will sail from Wellington on the liner Maira tomorrow.

Capt. Alton Parker and Dean Smith, aviation pilots, have not been assigned to either of the expedition's ships. They may return to America on a mail steamer.

Byrd has accepted the Canadian Government's offer of free transport for stores and equipment which cannot be accommodated on the expedition's ships.

Rear Admiral Edward Evans, commanding the Australian navy, who was second in command of the Scott Antarctic expedition, has cabled his congratulations to Byrd on the "splendidly complete success of the American expedition.

YOUNG WOMAN FOUND TIED TO BED IN BURNING HOTEL ROOM

Texas Business Man Charged With Assault to Murder, Victim Involved in Check Forgeries.

By the Associated Press.

FAIRFIELD, Tex., March 21.—Texas Rangers today joined police in an attempt to solve an alleged attempt to murder Miss Wilma Jones, 23 years old, by burning the young woman in her room at a hotel, while G. S. Moore, Oakwood, Tex. business man, charged with the assault, continued to reiterate his innocence.

Discrediting her story of being tied on her bed by an unidentified man, who then set fire to the mattress, two Rangers and Sheriff J. H. Eubanks last night questioned Miss Jones, who was uninjured.

Miss Jones had been summoned here to answer charges of forging Moore's name to several checks. She admitted she had affixed the man's signature to the checks, but said she acted with his consent.

The alleged attack victim was rescued from her room late Wednesday night by Joe Green, proprietor of the hotel in which she was staying. Green cut bonds that fastened her hands together and her feet to the bed and extinguished the fire.

Later Moore was arrested and charged with assault to murder. He was released on $1000 bond.

ENGINEER DECAPITATED WHEN STRUCK BY HOIST BUCKET

Max Watski, 30 years old, assistant engineer at the Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., 169 East Grand avenue, was decapitated yesterday when he was struck by an iron bucket as he was examining the interior of a coal hoist pit in the plant.

Firemen of Truck Co. No. 12, which was called to recover the body, said he had been standing on an iron drum on the first floor looking into the pit when one of the hoist buckets struck him, throwing him to the bottom of the shaft.

Watski lived at 4425 Forest Park boulevard.

RIVER MAN 60 YEARS IS KILLED BY AUTO

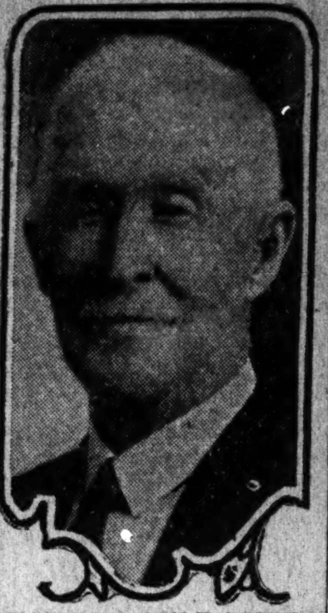
Capt. B. H. Berry, 87, Ran Federal Blockade During the Civil War.

Capt. Benjamin H. Berry, 87 years old, who ran the Federal blockade during the Civil War and survived other dangers during more than 60 years as a river man, was fatally injured yesterday afternoon when struck by an automobile.

Capt. Berry, who resided at 1398 Blackstone avenue, died at St. Luke's Hospital at 4:30 p. m., of a fractuerd skull suffered several hours previously when he was attempting to cross the street in front of 5705 Easton avenue. Robert Berry, Browntown, Ill., the driver, and Harry Hoegman, Ferguson, riding with him, told police the aged man walked against the side of the car and was knocked down. Robert Berry and Capt. Berry were not related. An open verdict was returned at the inquest today.

Born at Cape Girardeau, on the banks of the Mississippi, Berry turned to the river for a career when 13 years old, following the death of his father. His first job was on a ferry. Subsequently he became a pilot and then master, and for many years was employed on boats of the Anchor Line on the lower river. Experiences he enjoyed to relate in later years included running the Federal blockade, with bales of cotton piled in protection of the decks and pilot house, the St. Louis tornado of 1896, when the City of Monroe with Berry and other members of the crew aboard, was blown to the Illinois shore and smashed, and a narrow escape from drowning when he fell into the river between towed barges.

AUTO VICTIM



CAPT. BENJAMIN H. BERRY.

Capt. Berry retired from the river seven years ago following a period of service on Government steamers. He was in good health and active for his years, according to relatives, who related that yesterday Capt. Berry climbed a ladder to inspect a leak in the roof of his home.

Surviving Capt. Berry are his widow, Mary, whom he married 63 years ago; two sons, Charles H., 5784 De Giverville avenue, and Benjamin E., Memphis, Tenn., and two daughters, Mrs. Thomas O. Hall, 6008 Waterman avenue, and Mrs. Leona Murphy of the Blackstone avenue address. Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. tomorrow from the home to St. Rose's Catholic Church. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

STILL SEIZURES IN JANUARY

1600 Plants Confiscated, Commissioner Doran Reports.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Federal prohibition agents during January seized 1600 stills ranging from a tea kettle and copper pipe apparatus to plants capable of turning out 2000 gallons of alcohol a day. Commissioner of Prohibition Doran, in announcing this today, said of the total 730 plants were producing alcohol from corn sugar.

The plants, principally in Chicago, Detroit, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Cleveland and in New England, he added, cost from $10,000 to $50,000 apiece and produced from 1000 to 2000 gallons of pure alcohol a day, using as much as two carloads of corn sugar in a 24-hour run. Only 90 of the plants seized were employed to remove denaturants from industrial alcohol.

GEORGE HUCKINS, '26 PCT. INTEREST MAN,' CONVICTED

Faces 7 Years' Imprisonment and $5000 Fine for Defrauding Ex-Baseball Player at Cedar Rapids.

By the Associated Press.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., March 21.—The State has won the first major fight in its attempt to prove that George E. Huckins and his father, Elmer C. Huckins of Hancock, Wis., conducted a fraudulent business promising interest of 26 and 52 per cent.

Breaking a 25-hour deadlock, a jury of 10 men and two women convicted the younger Huckins in District Court yesterday of obtaining $300 from Emil Levsen, former American League baseball player, through false pretenses.

Huckins' attorney announced he would file a motion for a new trial. Huckins faces a maximum sentence of seven years' imprisonment and a $5000 fine. The minimum is one year in jail.

Meanwhile, two similar charges against the former Cedar Rapids baseball club owner, who is out on bond, will be tried at the September term. Civil suits filed by investors also are pending. Elmer Huckins is awaiting a habeas corpus hearing at Wautoma, Wis., against extradition proceedings to Iowa, where he is wanted in connection with the mysterious business enterprise.

Witnesses had said Huckins and his father declared they conducted a $30,000,000 business in selling defective cigars in carload lots. Until last fall, some of the investors testified, interest had been paid on the promissory notes which formed the receipt for contributions.

JOHN J. DOWLING BUYS CONTROL OF OVERLAND BANK

Control of Overland State Bank, 2555 Woodson road, has been acquired by John J. Dowling, a former real estate dealer, through purchase of the stock of Mrs. Edna A. Phelps, widow of Todd V. Phelps, former cashier who was killed in a holdup of the bank Jan. 18, 1929. The purchase price was not announced.

Mrs. Phelps held 55 per cent of the bank's stock. Dowling also bought the 8 per cent of the bank's stock owned by William D. Herring, who has resigned as cashier. The purchase gives Dowling a controlling interest in three banks. He is president of the Savngs Trust Co., 4915 Delmar boulevard, and his son is head of the Midland Savings Bank, 6135 Page boulevard.

Conrad Reinemer, president of the St. Louis County Real Estate Board, was named president of the Overland Bank in the reorganization. Other officers are: P. M. Meyersieck, cashier, and Dr. John O'Connell, County Coroner, vice president.

CRIMEAN WAR VETERAN DIES

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, March 21.—Col. Edward Donald Malcolm of Poltalloch, thought to have been the last surviving sapper officer who saw service in both the Crimean War and the Indian Mutiny, died today. He was 93 years old.

During the Indian campaign he was twice decorated for bravery. Later he was commissioned for service in Canada, where his engineering genius was brought into play. He was responsible for the construction of three forts to strengthen the defenses of Quebec on the south side of the St. Lawrence River. In the late 90's he was appointed inspector of submarine mining defences and later became boundary commissioner for Scotland. He retired in 1894.

Rear Admiral McLean Dies.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 21.—Rear Admiral Walter McLean, retired, who had war-time command of the naval operations about Norfolk, died yesterday at Naval Academy Hospital. He was 74 years old and had served in the navy 47 years.

SIX INDICTED FOR JULIAN JURY FIXING

President, Two Employes, Private Detective and Two Jurors Accused.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 21.—Six persons, three of the defendants and two of the jurors in the Julian Petroleum Corporation fraud trial, and a private detective, alleged jury fixer, were indicted yesterday by the grand jury for bribery and bribery conspiracy.

Those indicted are:

S. C. Lewis, president of the oil company at the time a $100,000,000 stock over-issue caused its collapse in May, 1927, charged with bribery.

Jacob Berman, Julian corporation stock transfer clerk, charged with bribery conspiracy.

Louis Berman, an employe of the Julian firm, who was a defendant with Lewis, his brother, Jacob Berman, and seven others in the fraud trial during the spring of 1928, charged with bribery conspiracy.

Louis Krause, private detective, whom Jacob Berman declared bribed two jurors for him, charged with bribery conspiracy.

John B. Groves, one of the jurors who acquitted the 10 Julian fraud case defendants, charged with bribery.

Frank C. Grider, another of the jurors, charged with bribery.

Lewis, the Berman brothers, Groves and Grider were released under $5000 bond each. Krause was unable to post his bail, which was set at $25,000.

MILTON I. SHUBERT MARRIED

Miss Jean Lehmann Bride of Municipal Opera Director.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Milton I. Shubert, nephew of Lee and J. J. Shubert, theatrical producers, and Miss Jean Affeld Lehmann, daughter of Ernst Lehmann, founder of the Fair department store in Chicago, were married this afternoon at Temple Emanu-El by the Rev. Dr. Nathan Krass.

The bride-to-be, a graduate of the Spence School, made her debut in 1925. The bridegroom is a director in the Shubert Theater Corporation. He is now on leave of absence to assume direction this summer of the Municipal Opera Co. in St. Louis.

Mr. Lauer Says....

Missing Something?

THERE are St. Louis people who have never visited our beautiful parks and playgrounds.

There are folks who don't know the taste of some fairly common foods because they have never tried them.

There are people who have never visited this furniture store.

We contend that you ought to find out about some of these neglected matters.

HAWAIIAN PRINCESS FILES SUIT FOR DIVORCE AT RENO

Kapiolani Is Wife of German Submarine Commander, Andrew A. Lambert.

By the Associated Press.

RENO, Nev., March 21.—The identity of Mrs. Helen Campbell Lambert, who filed suit for divorce against Andrew A. Lambert on Feb. 19, became known yesterday.

Mrs. Lambert is Princess Kapiolani of the Hawaiian royal family, daughter of Prince David and Princess Abigail. Both parents are descendants of the two old families from which have come the islands' rulers for many generations.

The Princess married Andrew A. Lambert, commander of a German submarine during the World War, at San Francisco, Nov. 21, 1923. They have three children, a boy and two girls, and Mrs. Lambert's attorney said he anticipates a contest over the custody of the children. The divorce complaint charges failure to provide.

10 Reds Held in Mexico City.

By the Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, March 21.—Police last night arrested ten communists after a demonstration in the downtown district. Among those arrested were two men who had just been released after arrest weeks ago on suspicion of implication in the attempt against the life of President Ortiz Rubio, Feb. 5.

Police confiscated numerous banners demanding resumption of relations with Soviet Russia and demanding a war on "Yankee Imperialism."

TWO PRISON GUARDS SHOT; CONVICT SLAIN

Alabama Fugitive Leaves Companion's Body at House and Drives Away.

By the Associated Press.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 21.—Four hours after Thomas Barnes and Lee Hudgens, Montgomery County convicts, shot and wounded two guards and escaped from Speigner prison early today, Barnes' body was left by Hudgens at the home of H. C. Swaringen here.

A bullet had pierced Barnes' heart but the manner in which he was shot was not known to officers. Swaringen said that after leaving the body on the floor of the kitchen Hudgens drove off in an automobile. Fearing that Hudgens was armed, Swaringen said he made no effort to molest him. Hudgens' family resides only a block from Swaringen.

The pistol with which Barnes shot B. F. Baltzer and J. D. Richardson, guards at the prison, was thought to be in possession of Hudgens, together with a quantity of ammunition.

Convicts Open Fire With Pistols in Prison Cotton Mill.

By the Associated Press.

SPEIGNER, Ala., March 21.—B. F. Baltzer and J. D. Richardson, guards at the State penitentiary, were shot and seriously wounded early today by two prisoners who opened fire with pistols when shifts were being changed at the prison cotton mill. In the confusion that followed, both convicts fled through the prison gates.

The prisoners, Lee Hudgens, serving a two to three year sentence, and Thomas Barnes, serving a 35-year sentence for bank robbery, stepped from the line and opened fire without warning. Four bullets struck Baltzer and one struck Richardson.

Bloodhounds were brought here from Kilby prison to trail the fugitives.

MILLIONAIRE GETS FIVE YEARS FOR $15,500 SCHOOL FRAUD

He Profited by Land Deal as President of Board of Education.

By the Associated Press.

PONTIAC, Mich., March 21.—Otto Sasche, a 59-year-old millionaire, who had received respect and honors from his fellow citizens here for a quarter of a century, was sentenced to prison yesterday on a charge of defrauding his school district of $15,500. He stood silently while his friend of many years, Circuit Judge Glenn C. Gillespie, told him that he must be treated like anyone else under the circumstances. Judge Gillespie fixed his term at from five to 10 years.

Sasche, who offered no testimony, was convicted by a jury. The transaction on which the charge was based was the purchase in 1928 of two acres as an addition to a school site. Sasche at that time was president of the School Board, which bought the land for $32,500. Six months before Sasche personally had bought the land for $17,000. Records of the transaction represented that Sasche in the meantime had sold the land to Paul Kamper, Detroit architect, for $30,000. Kamper, testifying for the State, denied he had had any part in the transaction and bank records were introduced to show that the $32,500 went to Sasche.

Sasche was a bank officer until he was indicted and has been prominent in civic and church affairs. He made a fortune estimated at several million dollars, largely in the real estate business.

78 DOCTORS PUT ON STAFF OF NEW COUNTY HOSPITAL

Appointments for Two Years; Chief to Be Chosen Next Week.

Recommendations of Dr. Arthur W. Westrup, superintendent of the new St. Louis County Hospital, and the Bond Issue Supervisory Committee, which were approved by the County Medical Society, were followed today by the appointment by the County Court, the administrative body, of 47 physicians to a visiting staff and 31 to a consulting staff.

A chief of staff will be named next week by heads of 16 divisions of the visiting staff. The appointments were made for two years.

Mrs. L. G. Parrish, an assistant superintendent at City Hospital, was named head of the nursing staff, and Miss Anna Blankmeier, now in charge of the maternity ward at St. John's Hospital, was made assistant. The hospital will be opened about Nov. 1.

HAROLD M. KRAMER, AUTHOR, DIES IN TELEPHONE BOOTH

He Was an Officer in the Spanish-American War and in France With Y. M. C. A.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 21.—Harold Morton Kramer, author and lecturer, fell dead while telephoning in a drug store last night. Letters addressed to the author were found in his pockets, leading to his identification today by friends of the family.

Kramer was born in Frankfort, Ind., in 1873. He was an officer in the Spanish-American War and served with the Y. M. C. A. in France during the World War.

His books, which were published from 1906 to 1919, included "Hearts and the Cross," "Gayle Langford," "The Castle of Dawn," "The Chrysalis," "The Rugged Way" and "With Seeing Eyes."

HOPE FOR 5-POWER PACT AT LOW EBB

Delegates of Three Nations Prepare for Early Definite Action if France and Italy Fail to Get Together.

By CHARLES G. ROSS,
Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

(Copyright, 1930, by the Post-Dispatch.)

LONDON, March 21.—The long delay of the Japanese Government in acting upon the proposed American-Japanese naval settlement, together with a published report that the Japanese Government will seek modification, has heightened the feeling of doubt and uncertainty pervading the naval conference. Our delegates profess utmost confidence that Japan will not put a stumbling block in the way of a three-Power agreement but they have been reduced to such a bad state of nerves by the continued Franco-Italian deadlock that any rumor of further untoward developments is doubly disquieting.

Intense irritation has been caused in the delegation by characterization of the Japanese-American understanding in the Japanese press as an American "proposal." The Americans are pointing out that the settlement as communicated to Tokio represented a compromise worked out by Senator David A. Reed and Tsuneo Matsudaira, Ambassador to Great Britain, and approved by both delegations. Concessions were made on both sides. What Japan appears chiefly to desire is an increase in eight-inch gun cruiser strength. Inasmuch as some members of our delegation, including Senator Joseph T. Robinson, were brought around to the Reed-Matsudaira figures with difficulty, it is highly unlikely the delegation will accept any material amendment. Its present disposition to stand pat has not been lessened by suspicion in some quarters that Japanese politicians at home are taking advantage of the unsatisfactory situation created by the Franco-Italian deadlock in order to squeeze out a further concession.

U. S. Stand and General Outlook.

The attitude of our delegates, in fine, is opposed to any additional compromise as the price of getting Japan into a three-Power agreement. What this position says as plainly as words is, that Japan must take the settlement as agreed upon here or face the danger of an embitterment of relations between Japan and America similar to that which set Britain and America apart after failure of the Geneva conference.

Notwithstanding the present clouded outlook, there is still ground for hope that the conference will produce a three-Power agreement on the basis of the Rapidan figures, with some saving clause permitting upward revision in event France should exceed a certain level. It is being recalled that the Americans at Geneva in 1927 proposed a contingent clause that would have allowed reopening of the cruiser schedules. This provided that anyone of three Powers concerned might call a conference to consider revision and that, in case of disagreement, any Power might denounce the treaty on a year's notice. The clause dropped out of the picture when the Geneva conference came to fighting, but it is now being revived as a possible model for the London treaty.

Hope that a treaty can be extended to include France and Italy has not been wholly abandoned, but it stood today at extremely low ebb.

From the welter of rumors only one fact stood out—that no way had yet been found of easing the deadlock.

Capt. Wilkins Hopes to Set Up Weather Stations in Antarctic To Improve World's Forecasts

Explorer, Back in New York, Reviews His Accomplishments—1200 Miles of Coast Line Charted in 18 Months.

By CAPT. SIR HUBERT WILKINS
(Copyright, 1930.)

NEW YORK, March 21.—New York's towering skyline looked tremendously good to us as we ended our second Antarctic expedition.

We have spent six months afloat in ships on stormy southern waters and aloft in turbulent, frigid atmosphere. Three days more than a month ago we were steaming through lanes of scattered icebergs. The sea, lifted and curled with the force of heavy wind. White crests raced and tumbled. The skies were cloud-laden and lowering, snow squalls swept the ocean.

Penguins by the thousands dived and sported or swam assiduously in search of the tiny shrimps which constitute their food. The plonk, plonk of the penguins' bodies striking the water drew us irresistibly to the steamer's rail.

An occasional penguin, arrested by curiosity, would poise on the top of the water, wiggle its bill and tail, glance at the steamer and call shrilly, "Claark, Claark, Clak!"

Having reached the top of a berg, the birds would crowd to the edge nearest our ship; those in front would be pushed over the edge into the sea. Not to be outdone they would swim again to the low side of the iceberg, spring to its surface and again take their places.

100-Foot Ice Cliffs.

Not all the icebergs are low-sided enough for the penguins to leap upon them. Most of the bergs, except these we saw away down south of the Pacific Ocean, would expose 100 feet or more of ice cliff.

An albatross, or several, would soar and glide, while Mother Carey's Chickens, which are numerous in the Antarctic, would flutter from crest to crest of the waves, pecking at a spot of oil or some object floating on the surface. Near the edge of the pack ice the Antarctic skies are alive with bird life—Skuas, gulls, terns, petrels and milliemauks.

In the distance, as we started homeward a month ago, peak after peak of piebald mountains rose majestically to our view. Some of the peaks reached above 10,000 feet. We enjoyed their magnificence, even though a few days before in our monoplane we had, for a short time, dwarfed their altitude.

The Antarctic mountains are black where the precipitous cliffs prevent snow from clinging. They are white elsewhere, except where streaks of very old snow, dust strewn, ranges in tone from chrome yellow to dirty brown.

These Antarctic scenes appealed more to our imagination as they passed from sight than they had when we first saw them on our outward journey.

Much Work to Be Done.

There is still much work to be done in the Antarctic. This year we had hoped that we might make a flight to join Rear Admiral Byrd at his base on the Ross Barrier and we expected to find our way home with the whalers hunting in that vicinity.

The absence of firm, flat ice, from which we could start with our heavily-laden planes, made that flight impossible, but our efforts to solve the problem of establishing an meteorological base at the south of the Pacific Ocean, which was our main purpose, have been successful.

We are the first this year, as we were last year, of the Antarctic commuters to return to the northern hemisphere. For 14 years without a break, men numbering from 1500 to 2000 have sailed from north of the equator to the Antarctic. They wrest from that icy region a livelihood, scientific facts or fame.

The majority are hardy Norsemen engaged in whale fishing, earning their living, yet undergoing hardships equal to, if not greater, than those which modern explorers need bear. These fishermen glean many scientific facts and useful bits of geographical information. Some have gone year after year to places as yet unvisited by other expeditions and a great mass of important information is stored in the library of the Whalers' Association at Tonsberg, Norway.

Some Stay Through Winter.

Most of these men go, as we have done, to the Antarctic for the six months of summer, but others stay, as have Rear Admiral Byrd and his party, throughout the winter. These whalers, while wintering in not quite such southern latitudes as the Ross Sea barrier, are in even greater isolation.

Statistics show that work in the polar regions is even safer than many other branches of industry at home. A smaller percentage of men has been lost on polar expeditions and polar industries than in coal mining or automobile driving. Yet the expedition, either industrial or scientific, which sets out for the Antarctic is fortunate if it escapes without a tragedy. Several steamers have been overturned by the force of the wind and waves in the far Southern seas; not a person survived.

Other vessels, rammed by the ice, have sunk before their crews could save even a vestige of provisions. In some cases these crews have been rescued after living for many days on the raw, warm blood of penguins, the only food available.

Toll of Flying Men.

The knowledge of these things makes those of us who use airplanes successfully in the Antarctic, starting and returning to comfortable and well-equipped resorts, feel rather reluctant to accept in any degree a heroic role. Yet the polar regions have already taken their toll of flying men. We grieve for those Norwegians who seem to have disappeared forever in the Ross Sea and our companion, Carl Ben Eielson, killed in the Arctic.

But even so, the loss of lives and machines is small. Mawson, Riiser-Larsen, Byrd and myself, with our pilots, have used 10 planes in flying many thousands of miles over the South Polar regions. Only one plane, one of Byrd's except that lost with the Norwegians, has been damaged by the elements.

The flying conditions at the time we choose to fly are not, to my mind, as hazardous as those sometimes encountered by mail pilots in the United States. There is more bad weather in the South, but in really bad weather it is useless for an explorer to attempt a flight.

Still the fact remains that until November, 1928, when with Eielson we made the first Atnarctic flight, the conditions in the South were strange and unknown, and it is for the courage of the adventurer—the seeker after new knowledge—that the pilots who these last two years have flown machines in the South should receive credit.

For myself I can perhaps claim exemption, for while not actually flying in the Antarctic until 1928, I had for years been in polar expeditions, observing them with the point of view of a flying man. I knew something of the conditions we must face and realized that, with the selection of good equipment and the exercise of caution, the dangers could be surmounted.

Caution and Efficiency.

It is the caution and efficiency born of experience that has enabled Byrd and me to return with much work done and with the men who have helped us in perfect health. Even our equipment which served us for a year in the Arctic before doing duty for two years in the South, did not suffer unduly.

Expeditions are, after all, a form of investment in the market of scientific knowledge and the airplane has made it possible to make the profits large in the department of geography. Since setting out for the Antarctic just 18 months ago we have, notwithstanding the fact that we returned to other work for six months last year, added to the charts of the Antarctic more than 1200 miles of coast line.

We have discovered 14 islands, scores of mountain peaks, new land and many straits and channels. These discoveries include Hearst and Stefansson Strait, Cape Byrd, Cape Mawson, Mount Ranck and the Detroit Aviation Society Plateau.

In our planes we have flown more than 5000 miles over Antarctic pack ice and mountains and pushed this year with the research ship, William Scoresby, through 4000 miles of ice infested water.

Other Accomplishments.

From the ship we took many ocean soundings, water temperatures and water samples and on the way made numerous biological collections.

Naturally we are grateful and much indebted to many firms and individuals for help. Without their aid the work could not have been done. But the work in the field has been carried out by a staff of four men—two pilots, an engineer and a radio man, besides myself.

By using equipment already paid for by service in the Arctic, our expedition was relieved of considerable expense in outfitting for the Antarctic. Transportation, wages, traveling expenses and upkeep were the principal items of expenditure.

We have been helped by many ships, particularly by the William Scoresby and the Norwegian Transport ships.

Many passenger shipping concerns have given us service at cost of operation and, due to the smallness and the mobility of my party, the total expense for our two seasons' work in the Antarctic amounts to less than $60,000.

But our work in only a preliminary reconnaissance to enable us to formulate a plan for extensive and intensive study. If we can manage to establish and maintain several permanent stations in the Antarctic collecting and collating meteorological records daily with those collected in more northerly latitudes, we can reasonably hope to improve the accuracy of daily and seasonal weather forecasts to the point where they will be of immeasurable value to agriculturists, shipping concerns and aviators.

SOVIET ATHEISTS ADVISED AGAINST RELYING ON FORCE

Congress of Unbelievers Told to Abandon Idea Religion Can Be Overthrown Overnight.

PROPAGANDA AMONG WOMEN IS URGED

Games and Books of Children, It Is Stated, "Must Be Permeated With Materialistic Principles."

By the Associated Press.

MOSCOW, March 21.—Official warning to be moderate in carrying out the anti-religious campaign of the Soviet Government and the communist party was the interpretation placed today on speeches before the opening of the All-Union Congress of Atheists.

Speakers told the congress that propagandists must abandon the idea that religion can be exterminated in Russia overnight. They declared that excesses committed by atheistic workers and village officials in the fight on religion must forthwith cease.

The congress was warned that no attempt must be made to close churches by force, to remove church bells, to coerce peasants into joining the league of the godless or to proclaim entire districts as "atheistic regions."

Propaganda Among Women.

Alternatives of peaceful argument, persuasion and scientific explanation were listed by Emelyan Yaroslavsky, chairman of the Society of Militant Atheists, who declared that propaganda must be intensified, particularly among women who, he said, were more ignorant and superstitious than men.

Special attention was also to be given to children, he said. The games, the books and in short all the activities of children must be "permeated with atheistic and materialistic principles."

"Quality rather than quantity must be the watchword in our activities," he said. "We must not strive for big figures in the number of churches closed, but rather for the progressive conversion of the peasants and the workers into atheists by rational, scientific and enlightened work.

Danger in Excesses.

"Nor must the closing of the churches be considered the first problem in collective farm areas. We must first make atheists of the peasants, and then the peasants will close the churches themselves. Any excesses or force in this direction will only make them more fanatical and religious.

"We must avoid mistakes, because all these are magnified by the imperialists abroad and react against us. The Government's five-day working week proved to be a great blow to religion, but religious holidays among the peasantry should further be replaced by ordinary days of rest or revolutionary holidays."

Pope Cartooned.

This moderation, however, did not prevent speakers striking back at Pope Pius for his recent denunciation of the anti-religious campaign, and for his mass Wednesday at St. Peter's. The "Godless One," official atheist organ, printed a drawing of the Pontiff sitting placidly on a throne while victim after victim of the inquisition was hanged and tortured before him.

The caption, "Your blood-stained hands are too short to strangle soviet workers," was carried over the picture, while in the accompanying columns it was said:

"Those who overthrew on earth the thrones of the Czars, manufacturers and land-owners, those who build a new life with their own hands, are in no need of a god or heavenly protection.

"Our laborers no longer wish for the chiming of bells, the light of holy candles, or the burning of incense. They want to build palaces of culture, to erect tall radio masts and to cover their country with a long chain of universities."

CLASH OVER TOBACCO SEARCH

Ten Persons Shot by Police in Rumanian Village.

By the Associated Press.

BUCHAREST, Rumania, March 21.—Ten villagers were shot and wounded yesterday in a scuffle with gendarmes. All men of the village, Cegerbagca, near Satu Mare, were lodged in jail, charged with obstructing the gendarmerie in the search of peasants' homes for contraband tobacco.

INCOME TAX COLLECTIONS SHOW $4,800,000 GAIN

Total to Date $384,853,426 and Indications Are Budget Estimate Will Be Realized.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The Treasury announced today that income tax receipts as of March 19 were $70,652,867.41, making the total received so far this month $384,853,426.20. On the corresponding date last year the collections had reached $379,981,531.78. The increase over 1929 collections to date still was attributable to the heavy receipts reported on March 18 as a result of overtime work by collectors all over the country.

Today's figure showed a falling off in comparison with the total receipts for March 19, 1929, which exceeded $100,000,000. This decrease was expected in view of the speeding up of the bulk of collections. There was nothing in the latest figures to alter the expectations of Treasury officials that the budget estimate of $550,000,000 in income tax collections for the first quarter nearly would be realized.

USE OF NAVY PLANE GRANTED TO FOLLOW ECLIPSE OF SUN

Total Phenomenon, April 28, Also to Be Photographed From Air in California.

By the Associated Press.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 21.—Use of a Navy airplane to follow an eclipse has been requested by Naval Observatory officials in Washington, and the request will be granted, it is announced.

The eclipse, a total one of the sun, will be an exceedingly brief affair. Scheduled to take place April 28, it will have a period of totality of only one and one-half seconds, and its path of totality, in Eastern California, will be only half a mile wide.

While the Navy is not sending a formal expedition, Mrs. Isabel M. Lewis, an astronomer in the Ephemeris Department of the Naval Observatory, will go to the scene at her own expense. Two photographic planes from North Island will be sent to Honey Lake, Cal., in the eclipse area, to operate in connection with her work.

FOSSILS OF ANT-EATERS DISCOVERED IN ARGENTINA

Complete Specimens of Prehistoric Animals Found by Museum Expedition.

By the Associated Press.

BUENOS AIRES, March 21.—Valuable prehistoric fossils have been discovered in the region of Hualfin, Province of Catamarca, by the scientific Mission of La Plata Museum, headed by Dr. Angel Cabrera.

The discoveries include complete specimens of megatheriums, huge animals of the ant-eater type long extinct, rodents and other animals.

The mission also explored an ancient Indian Cemetery, where it found interesting engraved vases and verified collective burial. One tomb contained 15 skeletons dressed in magnificent funeral garb.

PRINCESS OF MONACO AND MATE SEPARATED

Court, Sitting in Paris, Gives Each Custody of Children for Six Months.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1930, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Cos. (The New York World and Post-Dispatch.)

PARIS, March 21. — Princess Charlotte of Monaco and Prince Pierre (formerly the French Count de Polignac), who were married 10 years ago Monday, were legally separated yesterday by an order of the Monacan high court, sitting in the legation of that principality here.

Raymond Poincare, former President of France, acting as arbitrator in his capacity as a private lawyer, suggested the agreement on which the judgment was based.

The court's pronouncement recognizes important financial interests for Prince Pierre. It adds that he will no longer be obliged to live in Monaco. This clause in the decree is interpreted as meaning that he better live elsewhere.

Under the terms of the separation, Princess Charlotte, daughter of the reigning Prince Louis, and the former French Count each are to have their children half of the year. These children are Princess Antoinette, 9 years old, and Prince Rainier, 7. They are with their mother, who recently has been living at Ospedoletti on the Italian Riviera.

The domestic differences of Charlotte and Pierre have been the cause of a four-fold conflict—conjugal, political, dynastic and financial—among members of the Monacan reigning family and also among the people of Monaco.

Alleged Italian intrigues to gain through Charlotte an influence in Monaco now exercised by France have led many citizens to sympathize with Prince Pierre despite his French origin.

The aristocracy of Monaco has been greatly perplexed by the situation.

Due to the combined efforts of the United States naval guard aboard the steamer and the guard aboard another American ship which was nearby, the marauders were repulsed.

SENATE ADOPTS NORRIS PLAN TO ANNUL TARIFF AS TO MONOPOLIES

Passed by 41-34 Vote, It Provides for Suspension of Duties if Combine Is Shown to Control Any Domestic Commodity.

FIGHT BY OLD GUARD CONFEREES LIKELY

Any Citizen Would Have Right to File Complaints With Customs Court — Proposed Levy on Hides Again Smothered.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON.
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, March 21. — A striking innovation in tariff bills was adopted by the Senate yesterday, in the form of an amendment offered by Senator Norris (Neb.). It provides that tariff duties shall be suspended on any commodities in which a domestic monopoly is found to exist.

Although the Republican Old Guard is certain to make a determined effort to eliminate the amendment when the House and Senate conferees meet to agree on the final form of the bill, the vote by which it was accepted —41 to 34—insures a stiff fight for its retention. The proposal, characteristic of the veteran Norris, took the Senate by surprise, and produced a division along the lines of the old Democratic-Progressive coalition.

Any Citizen Could File Complaint.

Under the amendment, any citizen would have the right to complain that a monopoly existed in the production or sale of any commodity protected by a tariff. It would then be the duty of the people's counsel, created in another provision of the bill, to make an investigation, and if the facts warranted, to institute proceedings before the United States Customs Court. If the Court found that a monopoly existed, it would be mandatory upon the President within 30 days to issue a proc-

Thinks Whalen Is Right.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch

POLICE COMMISSIONER WHALEN of New York is right and you are wrong. It is his sworn duty to defend the Government and see that the laws are obeyed, especially those which concern the very existence of our nation. No sophistry, based on a misinterpretation of toleration, liberty, right of free speech, etc., can justify denunciation of such duty.

When Russian Communists are sent here by their Government and are joined by fanatical and traitorous Americans for the purpose of abusing our toleration and freedom and calling upon all laborers, especially the unemployed in distress, to rise up and overthrow our Government, confiscate and redistribute all property amongst themselves and forcibly suppress all religions as obsolete superstitions, it is time for the officers of the law to interfere and restrain them. Such were the ultimate avowed purposes of the Fosters and Minors who led that New York mob composed mostly of East Side, Bronx and Brooklyn aliens. The American Communists ought to be convicted as traitors and deported with the aliens. Their punishment for a similar effort to overthrow the Soviet dictatorship would be death in Russia.

Water Taxes in the County.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THE Americans fought against the tea tax. Gandhi is marching to the sea to protest the British salt tax in India. But if he lived in St. Louis County he would have a real live issue in the water tax. Think of paying $24.92 for three months on a private residence—$100 a year for water. Show me the man who can eat $100 worth of salt in a year, yet I can show you any number of people who are paying $100 or more per year for water in their homes, and water is the cheapest thing on earth. Three-fourths of the earth's surface is water. Hope we get annexation to escape the water tax.

The Bus Company's Failure to Operate.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch

BEING one of the 25,000 bus patrons inconvenienced by this so-called "wild cat strike," I take this opportunity of announcing a protest.

As can readily be seen, these men were forced to organize by their own employers inasmuch as their working conditions and pay were so greatly reduced that it was hardly possible for them to exist.

Now these men are only asking the right to organize (not an increase in wages) and they are entitled to this right. So why should this company refuse it flatly and also refuse to serve the public, which is in need of its transportation? Is it not the duty of the People's Bus Co. to live up to its promise of daily transportation for its patrons, or has it the right to discontinue the lines without permission from the city?

Something should be done as thousands of people are being inconvenienced by the company's stubborn action in trying to freeze out the employes. Let's have the busses run or let's run them out of St. Louis.

What a Lotto Player Thinks of the Cops.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

RECENTLY we read an able editorial concerning needed increase on the police force. It touched our hearts. In fact, we are so deeply impressed we feel we must offer a suggestion. It is this: put to work some of the men already on the force.

An almost daily occurrence at the Ashland Club is the arrival of four or five uniformed or plain clothes men. They demand admittance. They tell us they hear we ladies are playing lotto to win a rose-embroidered towel and headquarters has sent them to stop the party. Warrant to enter? They have none. It appears the Prosecuting Attorney's office has its own ideas of how policemen should spend their time. So they sit in our ante-room for two hours, waiting for us to open the door, and realizing quite well we do not intend to open it until our game is finished and we are ready to go home.

Outside, across the street, lingers Mr. City Taxpayer, some 30 of him, also waiting with delighted childlike anticipation for a promised raid to materialize. Elsewhere is Mr. Common Citizen, not so happy. He has just been made victim of a daylight robbery, and he wonders why in time a policeman never shows up around his place. Alas! Alas! There are not enough. At the risk of making him madder still, we are going to remind him he pays the salaries of the men who sit idly smoking and chaffing one another outside our door.

Well, the whole affair is too much of a puzzle for us. It requires skill to solve and naturally is beyond us lotto players. We politely refer it to the Post-Dispatch editor who, we have heard, is good at this exercise.

ASHLAND CLUB MEMBER.

THE BUS SITUATION.

Two of our readers expressed in the Letter Column yesterday belief that the holding company which controls both the street car and bus lines is seizing upon the bus strike to force the people back to the street cars.

That the people have been leaving the street cars for other forms of transportation is the outstanding feature of local transportation. Col. Albert T. Perkins, formerly general manager of the street car company, reported to the directors early this month that from its peak in 1923 street car riding in St. Louis has declined about 10 per cent. In the same period the population has increased 20 per cent. It is not in St. Louis alone that the people prefer automotive transportation to street car riding. It is true everywhere, and it has presented a great problem to the street car business. It is a business for the most part so overcapitalized that in the opinion of many experts only the process of receivership can adapt it to modern conditions.

For the street railway company to use the bus lines as a club with which to drive the people back to the street cars could be only a vengeful use of the busses expressing the company's resentment of its failure to have its way in the community and sell this dying horse to a distant and unsuspecting market. If the company did make such use of the busses the duty of the city would be clear. It would be its duty to invite another bus line to do business in St. Louis and give it a permit to do so. Failing that, the city could provide a municipal service to meet the demand. The bus business is a profitable business in all large cities, and the bus riders of St. Louis are in no peril of being deprived of this form of transportation.

A much happier outcome of the bus strike, and one better suiting the convenience of the public, would be a settlement of the strike. It can be settled with no damage to either party in the controversy. The bus lines are not likely to go into bankruptcy. They are a property of one of the greatest power corporations in the country, and one with abundant resources. If the Board of Aldermen will appoint a committee to reorganize the transportation service of the city, leaving to the street cars routes over which street car riding is profitable and giving to the busses all the remaining territory, there will be no trouble about making both forms of transportation profitable and enabling them to pay fair wages to their employes.

THAT RUMLESS SECTOR.

Mr. Wickersham has been informed by "one of his most competent investigators" that prohibition is being "better enforced than any other Federal law." And we know just where that most competent of investigators has been; he has been traveling up and down the 12,000 nonirrigated Missouri miles that Charley Hay motored in the senatorial campaign of 1928.

THE FREEMAN REVIVED.

It was in 1923 that the Freeman, after three brilliant years, found the American people too little interested in purely intellectual debate and so succumbed. It left as its material monument a published volume of its editorials, and that volume has been a textbook and an inspiration to all those who practice the art of free and untrammeled opinion. There had never been anything like it in the United States, and even that innovation was not for long.

It is a pleasure now to see the Freeman reappear. It does not seem from its first number that it has become more fruitful after having for so long lain fallow; but it is still the Freeman of old. It is stately and dignified. The advertiser knows it not. It is still under the editorship of Suzanne La Follette. It is a relief to see Albert Jay Nock, who has been knocking about in the world of opinion ever since the Freeman died, restored to that license in which he disported himself to the delight of all those who at last weary of blah and detest what Oscar Wilde called "still thinking at 80 what they thought at 18."

We give the Freeman hail. We venture the opinion that it will not again be so lightly neglected by a people whose interest in the world of thought has fairly pulled abreast of their interest in the world of action.

DESTITUTE CHILDREN OF ST. LOUIS.

Caring for destitute children is one of the fundamental duties of civilization. Sympathy is quick to go out to those orphaned or deserted, or whose mothers are unable to earn a living. Crime, disease and suffering are the inevitable results unless society shoulders its task to give such children a fair chance. The city of St. Louis accepted this responsibility in 1912 when it created the Board of Children's Guardians. How it has fallen short in caring for these charges is shown in figures just compiled by the Citizens' Committee on Public Relations.

The appropriation for the fiscal year just ending was so low that the board, which in this phase of its work aided 123 mothers and 397 children in the previous year, now is able to assist only 99 mothers and a correspondingly lower number of children. The allowances have been reduced far below the sum regarded by social workers as the minimum. A mother with three children last year received an average of $8.53 per month per child, a total of $309 for the year, although Federal figures set the minimum budget at $1000. Other cities not only assist a larger number of children but give them a larger allowance. Only about one-sixth the children requiring such aid in St. Louis receive it, by estimate of the Child Welfare League of America, which places this city "very near the bottom" in a nation-wide comparison.

The only alternative, if these children cannot be supported in their homes, is institutional care. This is not only more costly to the community, but does not provide the home influence which humanitarians value so highly. Society does not intend to punish the children of fathers who are in public institutions, yet want will attend them as a result of their parents' crimes or misfortunes unless adequate provision is made. The city's failure to provide throws a heavy burden on relief organizations, whose budgets have no margin over their normal needs.

The appropriation for 1929-30 was $179,028, to which an emergency sum of $25,200 was added late in the year to prevent complete breakdown of the board's work. The total sought for the fiscal year which begins April 10 is $232,688. This will not allow material increase in the field as compared with work done in other cities, but merely will care for the most pressing cases. It is hoped the Board of Estimate and Apportionment will not cut down this request, since it is in reality a modest one. Economies may be necessary in the civic budget, but it is poor thrift that saves at the expense of the widow's mite and her children's bread.

SUGAR AND LUMBER AND OIL.

The sugar crowd has got a tariff increase.

The lumber people have secured a duty on their product.

Oil is left out on the cold, unprotected free list.

That is the record of the sugar-lumber-oil combination to date. The oil Senators, Messrs. Thomas and Pine of Oklahoma, feel they have been betrayed.

The tariff on sugar was raised a fortnight ago. It caused a sensation. The thing was done through a change of heart of several Senators who previously had voted with the coalition of Democratic and Progressive Republicans. Seemingly the coalition had cracked. The explanation offered was that the sugar-lumber-oil entente, accredited to Senator Grundy, was the biggest job of log-rolling Washington had ever seen.

Now the log-rolling junta has smashed. The Senate yesterday put a tariff on lumber when Senator Hawes of Missouri and Senator Sheppard of Texas voted for it. But the proposal to place a duty on crude oil and petroleum products was defeated. This result was due to the fact that a number of sugar Senators—Fletcher and Trammell of Florida, Metcalf of Rhode Island, Vandenberg of Michigan and Howell of Nebraska—on whom the oil crowd counted, failed to come through.

It should be mentioned, perhaps, that Senator Patterson of Missouri, who has voted for every increase, balked at last on oil, by being absent.

It is said that the tariff the oil industry was asking would have saddled an annual tax of $700,000,000 on the American people. No figures were given as to the additional cost that will be imposed on the consumer by the lumber tariff, but the unfairness of this schedule was severely arraigned on the floor of the Senate, and the economic fallacy of the whole excessive protection program was bitterly denounced.

As the situation now sums up, oil is the solitary friendless interest in Washington. Oil, however, has a luckless companion—none other than ultimate consumer.

SYDNEY FRANKLIN, MATADOR.

Sydney Franklin, the Brooklyn boy who made good as a bullfighter, was badly gored in a recent encounter in Spain with a horned battler from Andalusia. Franklin is no tyro. He first entered the bull ring in Mexico seven years ago, and his presence in Spain means he was graduated into the major league. As "El Yanqui," he is very popular with Spaniards, though regarded with somewhat the curiosity and misgivings that we would bestow on a Castilian attempting to rival Babe Ruth as a home run hitter. We are not aware of the turn of fortune which projected Franklin into so bizarre a calling for a Brooklynite, though it is said he was determined to prove that a person of non-Spanish blood could master the art of the matador.

There is some feeling among us superior Anglo-Saxons that it is not art, but butchery. Perhaps it resolves itself into a matter of taste; but we doubt anyone could come away from a finished performance without admitting that the job of dispatching a fighting bull calls for a high degree of physical skill, sound judgment and perfect co-ordination. Moreover, that Franklin should have been gored before an audience which must have put him keenly on his mettle shows that, in this sport, the bull has more of a chance than is popularly believed.

THE NEW CANCER TREATMENT.

Dr. Walter B. Coffey and Dr. John B. Humber of San Francisco made an interesting exposition of their cancer treatment before the senior class of St. Louis University Medical School. Several points brought out by them should be emphasized. They deplore the publicity that has attended their work, and say they wanted another year of experiment before the result of their research was made known. It seems they found it impossible to work any longer in quiet. But most important, they want it understood they do not claim to have discovered a cancer "cure." Although their treatment of 1300 patients seems to indicate some other remarkable results, it is too early to say that cancer, one of the most stubborn and mysterious of all human ailments, has yielded to science. Both Drs. Coffey and Humber realize that hopes of cancer sufferers have been raised many times, only to be dashed, by premature announcements that a "cure" has been discovered. They do not wish to be the cause of a similar anticlimax.

Officially, medicine does not yet recognize any conclusive cancer cure, although radium, X-ray and the surgeon's knife have been used with good effect in certain types of cases. Moreover, medicine does not claim to understand the nature or cause of cancer. In the meantime, medical scientists throughout the world are working on the problem and there is reason for confidence in a final solution.

HEINE SIGNS.

Heine Manush has deserted the army of the unemployed. There has been a difference between him and the management of the Browns as to the quid pro quota. That's all over now. "Let Dives keep his ducats," shouted Heine. "I'm going to play ball."

It happened this way: The Browns and Brooklyns were engaged in what purported to be a baseball game. Well, it just wasn't a baseball game. There were the Brooklyn pitchers with practically nothing on the ball at all. Yet the Browns were helpless. Pale, melancholy flies and ineffectual grounders trickled impotently from their bats. Heine sat in the grand stand, a looker-on in Vienna, and writhed. He stood it as long as he could. Finally the old urge would no longer be denied. So Heine hunted up the official who carries around the dotted lines, affixed his signature and is again a knight in armor.

With Heine outside the fold the Browns' punch, we understand, was something like Mrs. Doran's cocktail. Not a trace of wallop, not a sign of kick. It's different now. With his bat Heine can contrive lyrics and alcaics and Homeric quatrains in much the same facile fashion that his namesake used to do it with a pen. Yes, sir; when he takes his stance at the plate Heine is one of the bards sublime.

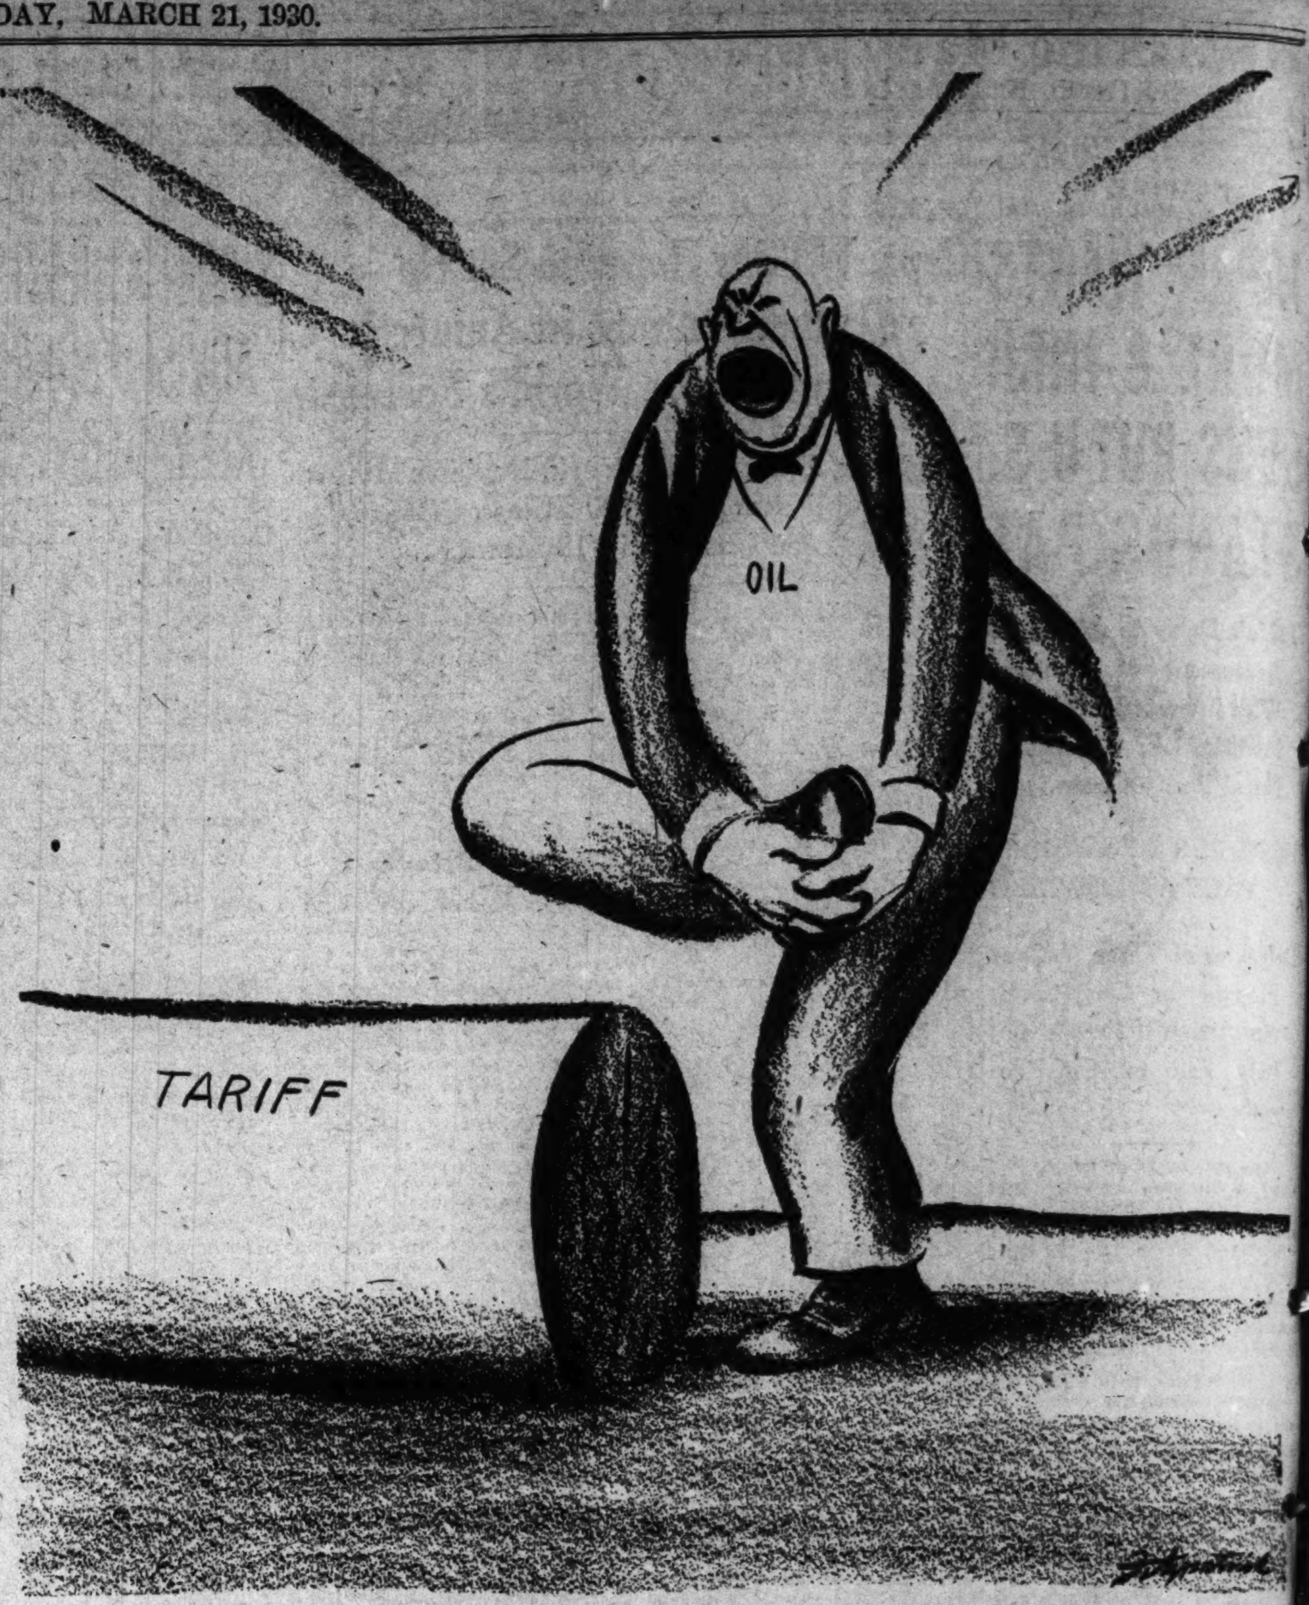
Now that the Senate has voted a tariff of $1.50 per 1000 feet of lumber perhaps it will give the home builder a spring board so he can follow the price of lumber up.



ONE LOG ROLLER WHO GOT HIS FOOT HURT.

Mrs. McCormick of Illinois

Mark Hanna's daughter, with Senate as goal, tested strength in race for Congressman-at-large, and led State ticket; now running for upper House, she is in hottest campaign Illinois ever saw; unconventional, direct, admittedly ambitious, Mrs. McCormick is a shrewd politician; a regular, but with a certain independence.

Duff Gilfond in the New Republic.

SOON after her husband's death the daughter of Mark Hanna visualized her slim figure in a seat in the United States Senate and liked it. Unfortunately, the present incumbent, Senator Charles S. Deneen, had the seat. Well, the old man would have to be put out. Though the House held no glamour for Ruth Hanna McCormick—other women had made that! —she saw the possibility of gauging her strength in the State by making a bid for the job of Congressman-at-large. "Whew!" exclaimed the spitting politicians of Illinois. A woman! And a funny one at that. You couldn't depend on her. Hadn't she and her husband bolted with Roosevelt in 1912? Didn't she once work for labor legislation in the State? You couldn't tell about her! Their suspicions were confirmed when, on announcing her candidacy, she cast aspersions on their own beloved "boloney."

"Usually when a candidate announces his candidacy," she said, "we read in the paper that owing to the demand of his constituency and the pressure of his friends, he has reluctantly agreed to make this great sacrifice and run for office. In all candor and honesty I must say that nobody asked me to run. I have had no demand upon me from constituents, friends, enemies, neighbors or family, and, as far as I know, nobody wants me to run. But I hope at the end of the campaign that I am going to find a sufficient number of people who think I ought to run."

She did—and strangely enough, she found them among the politicians. Not that they wanted her to win, but they couldn't afford to oppose her. Backed by the smart women's clubs which she herself had organized in behalf of her husband, she represented the "better element." That was worth playing for. The objectionable Len Small, who had supported Deneen against her husband, threw her his support. So did the opposing Glenn-Emmerson faction, also politically obligated to Deneen. So did Thompson, defeated by Medill McCormick in his first campaign for the Senate, but seeking to mend his political fences. True, she had said bitter things about him once, but bygones were bygones; he could help her now. In the counties where he was popular, she did not disown him.

In a gleaming Marmon—she admits that she's rich—she sailed into every one of the 101 counties in Illinois, the crowds flocking out to see her. "Mark Hanna's daughter!" they whispered, craning their necks as she appeared in a smartly tailored suit and satin blouse. "Them clothes don't look as if a maid bought them!" said the women, commenting on a prevalent rumor. "She ain't no beauty!" said the men, eyeing the plain, unrouged, thin-lipped woman on the platform. When she started to talk politics, the glow in her lovely brown eyes lit up her face and set it afire.

At the end of the campaign, her hulky chauffeur was fit for a sanitarium, but Mrs. McCormick of the bird-like ankles and transparent wrists was exultant; she led the State ticket in 1928. A month after taking her seat in the House, she blithely announced her candidacy for the Senate. Even the people who expected it gasped; it was an unheard-of performance.

With the Republican primaries in the offing—April 8 is the date—political leaders of the faction-ridden State are refusing to commit themselves; they are playing the winner. But on the division of their forces hangs Mrs. McCormick's political fate, for the Republican nomination in Illinois is equivalent to election. In the meantime, Senator Deneen is worried.

A wiry, long-legged girl, Ruth Hanna McCormick was educated in private schools, but her real training came from Mark Hanna, the Quaker. When she was his secretary in Washington, she had to be in the office at 9 though she had danced half the previous night. Curled up in a chair, she was privileged to listen in on his political conferences, many of them tete-a-tetes with McKinley or Roosevelt. Though they lasted till dawn, her mind could not wander because her father questioned her later.

To be a successful politician, he told her, one must have the hide of a rhinoceros and a sense of the ridiculous. Ruth developed both.

Arriving in Washington in her own right last spring, she opened up two offices besides the one given her in the House office building. One, not without point, is in the Labor Building, where the sheet, Labor, is published. The gentlewoman from Illinois easily has more secretaries than the President, who has only the country to worry about.

In the House, slouched in her seat and looking as comfortable as a cat on a hearth, she has not bothered to take the floor once. How could anybody who sat in McKinley's lap as a little girl get a kick out of addressing the House?

If she bluffs, it's only in little things; in the bigger ones she is refreshingly free of the buncombe that swells most of her colleagues. If, like her papa, she's an autocrat, she's a likable one and smart. If personal ambition is her motive in running for the Senate, then, thank God, she admits it. If she is, alas, a regular Republican like her opponent—minus his liberal attitude toward the World Court—she nevertheless has a certain independence which, as we saw, worries the politicians and makes her "uncertain." She is a dry while the Chicago Tribune, published by her husband's family, is wet. Still, in the contest between a wet and a dry for the position of National Committeewoman from Illinois, she backed the wet, bringing down the horrid abuse of the drys on her head. The dry was a Deneenite, and for Mrs. McCormick prohibition does not come first.

Her dull opponent has plenty of money behind him; he is an intensive campaigner and knows all the political tricks. Besides, in a politically backward State, he is helped by his sex and by holding the office for which she is a candidate. But he has everything to lose, while she has everything to gain; he is scared, while she is having "lots of fun."

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

WASHINGTON, March 21.

FROM the banks of the Rapidan comes new evidence of man's tendency to capitalize on his fame—this time in the person of Ray Burraker, the 12-year-old mountain lad who gave a 'possum to the President.

Stories of the shrewdness of Ray have filtered down from the mountain country of Virginia into Washington. This alert, fearless young chap, who wears "store" clothes and a bow tie since his widely heralded visit to President Hoover's fishing camp that Sunday morning, is not awed one whit by the place he has attained. Instead, with a cool and calculating manner he is out to make the most of it.

Quick was he to sense the fact that his picture had "news value." So now when photographers swarm around for him to pose, he demands $1. Nor will he permit more than one photographer to snap him at a time.

ANOTHER source of income for the young mountaineer was a broken gate at the entrance to the grounds of the school which President Hoover built for the mountain children.

The contractor who built the school was in the habit of giving Ray a nickel for holding the gate open for him each day. When newspaper men, photographers and others visited the school, Ray exacted a toll of 5 cents. However, the gate has been repaired now and this source of income is lost to him.

He talks to newspaper men with an amazing ease and fearlessness. His reply to a query from one of them if he thought he would like his school teacher was: "I don't think that is any of your business."

Ray evidently inherits much of his astuteness from 69-year-old Grandpa Burraker. Grandpa admitted to newspaper men, the day the school opened, that he didn't come up the mountain for the school opening particularly.

"I thought President Hoover would be here," he said, "and I wanted to have a few words with him."

GRANDPA also said the school was a good idea "if it is run right." He was asked what he meant by the expression "run right." Grandpa, who had never before seen the inside of a school, looked his questioners straight in the eye, and replied: "Aw, you know what I mean——."

George Burraker, Ray's younger brother, 9 years old, is overshadowed by the more famous member of the family, but is none the less interesting. The little fellow, dressed in an old pair of overalls, backed squarely up to the flag pole when the newspaper men arrived, and with a broad grin on his face talked freely.

"What's that in your pocket, George?" someone asked, pointing to a bulge in his overalls.

"'Backer," he replied, and brought forth for inspection a large package of chewing and smoking tobacco mixed in a conglomerate mass.

He was a great source of information until Ray came forward and usurped the role of spokesman.

SEDUCTIO AD ABSURDUM: The Principles and Practice of Seduction. By Emily Hahn. (Brewer and Warren, Inc., New York.)

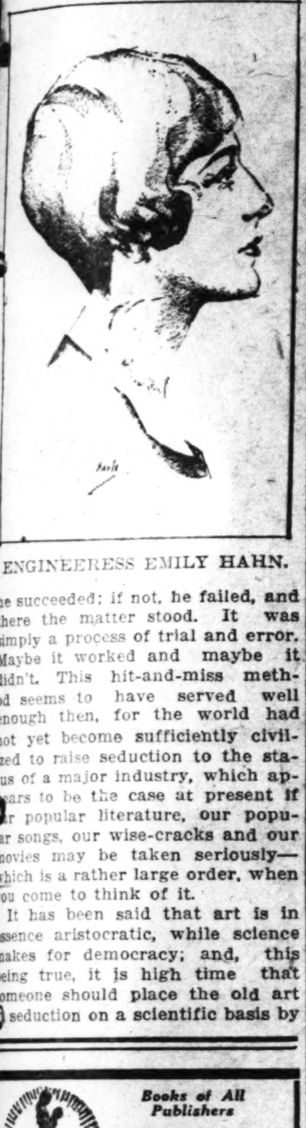
IN the dark ages of Mid-Victorianism seduction seems to have been regarded and practiced more or less as an art—a black art, it is true, but nevertheless not an affair of systematized knowledge and procedure. If a given individual happened to be especially gifted and inclined in that direction, he succeeded; if not, he failed, and there the matter stood. It was simply a process of trial and error. Maybe it worked and maybe it didn't. This hit-and-miss method seems to have served well enough then, for the world had not yet become sufficiently civilized to raise seduction to the status of a major industry, which appears to be the case at present if our popular literature, our popular songs, our wise-cracks and our movies may be taken seriously—which is a rather large order, when you come to think of it.



ENGINEERESS EMILY HAHN.

It has been said that art is in essence aristocratic, while science makes for democracy; and, this being true, it is high time that someone should place the old art of seduction on a scientific basis by way of making it both safe and sure for democratic uses. It may be objected here by an occasional reactionary that, according to current report, the multitude has been doing rather well by the old purely instinctive method. But while this would appear to be true, there must be a vast amount of bungling and a consequently enormous overhead expense in emotional energy.

Standardization had to come; and so it has, if the volume here noted may be accepted as authoritative. Nor is it, perhaps, a matter for marvel that this epoch-making effort must be credited to a lady. Formerly, tradition had it that the practice of the ancient art was the prerogative of gentlemen only—which may be doubted. But times have changed, and, after all, which half of the race is in the better strategic position to observe and criticise the technique employed?

Miss Emily Hahn seems to have been especially endowed both by nature and by training for the task here undertaken. The portrait exhibited herewith testifies eloquently as to natural endowments, and her publishers vouch for her scientific attainments. She was, indeed, the first woman ever to graduate in engineering at the University of Wisconsin, and according to persistent rumor, much empirical knowledge of the sort required for this work is to be collected in the groves of Academe by a willing worker.

Engineeress Hahn, having collected, winnowed, classified and synthesized a vast body of data on the subject, has employed the case method in presenting her scientific conclusions. Nineteen distinct and, we are assured, successful experiments are described in detail; and if a funnier book—or essentially a saner one—has been produced on the subject during these hectic years, this writer wants to read it. Though the cleansing laughter that is in it rises ever from the ragged edge of printability, no one with a moderate sense of humor is likely to take offense.

THE MALTESE FALCON. By Dashiell Hammett. (Alfred A. Knopf, New York.)

It seems a pity that this should be called a detective story. Yet that label is on it. Truly, it is a story about a detective, but it is so much about a detective that he becomes a character, and the sheer force of Hammett's hard, brittle writing lifts the book out of the general run of crime spasms and places it aloof and alone as a brave chronicle of a hard-boiled man, unscrupulous, conscienceless, unique.

The detective is Sam Spade. The book is Sam Spade. The courage is Mr. Hammett's. Courage because Mr. Hammett, writing, as he did, a detective story, subjected plot and all the gymnastic tricks of the usual uninspired detective story, to one clear-cut and memorable character. Yet this book should be read by all lovers of detective fiction. It moves rapidly. It has plot. The element of mystery begins without any preliminaries in the first chapter. Sudden death follows. Weird characters move throughout the book, yet each is delineated with such surehanded skill that he becomes lifelike. The book is entirely without tricks. There are no mysterious doors, no sliding panels, no clews the solution of which would try the patience of a saint. It is a new kind of detective story.

Mr. Hammett's prose is blunt, straightforward and packs a wallop. It is modern, but his sentences do not hang in the air. There is no studied awkwardness, no stilted striving for effect. The story moves on ball bearings and despite all the easy flow of words one suspects that the author tooled it with the conscientious effort of a good craftsman.

JAMES SCULLIN.

FUNERAL OF JAMES SCULLIN TO BE TOMORROW AFTERNOON

The funeral of James Scullin, former City Marshal and brother of the late John Scullin, street railway builder, will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Herbert L. Sullivan, 28 Plant avenue, Webster Groves. He died last night of uremia at the Sullivan home, aged 80.

Mr. Scullin came from New York to Missouri in 1869, and worked with his brother on the contract for construction of the present Missouri-Kansas-Texas line from Sedalia to Parsons, Kan. Later, in St. Louis, he was engaged with his brother in the construction and management of the Scullin (Union Depot) car lines, first horse-drawn and then electric over the present Tower Grove, Bellefontaine, Cherokee, Eighteenth street and Grand avenue routes.

After retiring from street car work, he went into the real estate business. He was elected City Marshal in 1901 on the Democratic municipal ticket headed by Rolla Wells for Mayor, and served a 4-year term. Besides his surviving daughter, he had a son, William R. Scullin, a lawyer, who died several years ago. Harry Scullin, president of the Scullin Steel Co., is a nephew, and Mrs. Charles McLure Clark and Mme. May Scullin de Gheest, the latter residing in Paris, are nieces. A brother, Henry Scullin of Potsdam, N. Y., survives him.

A series of Lenten sermons for young women will begin Sunday night at the convent chapel of the Helpers of the Holy Souls, 4012 Washington boulevard. The sermons will be preached by the Rev. Bakewell Morrison S. J., and the Rev. Thomas Knapp S. J. and will continue throughout the week.

Bride Is 75, Groom 70.

By the Associated Press.

AURORA, Ill., March 21.—Mrs. Annie Willis, 75 years old, of Yorkville, Ill., and Abbott F. Buck, 70, of St. Paul, Minn., were married at Yorkville yesterday. Two great-granddaughters were ring bearer and flower girl. They met in St. Paul last summer when Mrs. Willis was visiting a granddaughter.

Fifty Years a Nun.

Sister Electa Joseph of the Order of St. Joseph, will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of her entrance into the order tomorrow. A solemn mass will be sung at 9 o'clock at the Church of St. Vincent de Paul, Ninth and Barry streets. Sister Electa Joseph has taught the first grade of that parish school for the last 21 years.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

MISS MEDORA STEEDMAN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Fox Steedman, 34 Westmoreland place, who has been attending Bryn Mawr College, has departed for Paris, to be away indefinitely. Miss Steedman was accompanied by Miss Winifred Tittmann, daughter of Mrs. Harold H. Tittmann, 329 Belt avenue, with whom she traveled abroad last summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Steedman are at their winter home in Santa Barbara, Cal., where they have been since autumn. Miss Steedman made the trip West by airplane to spend the holidays with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason Scudder, Ladue road, will return home next week from Ormond Beach, Fla., where they have been spending the late season with Mr. Scudder's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles White Scudder, 75 Vandeventer place. They will make the trip by motor. Mr. and Mrs. Scudder Sr. will return April 1.

Mrs. Alexander Burton Carver of New York and her small son have departed for their home after a brief visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Edmunds, 33 Vandeventer place. Mrs. Carver and her baby accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Edmunds to St. Louis after a trip to Nassau in the Bahamas, where Mr. and Mrs. Edmunds and Mr. and Mrs. Clinton L. Whittemore spent the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McLure Clark, 15 Hortense place, are guests at the Barclay Hotel in New York. They will sail tomorrow for Rome to join their son-in-law and daughter, the Marchese and Marchesa Giovanni Carignani of Naples, for the spring esason.

Mrs. Robert McKittrick Jones, 6 Westmoreland place, will entertain the music section of the Wednesday Club Monday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Upthegrove, 5128 Westminster place, have returned from a trip to Harding's Ranch and Phoenix, Ariz.

Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Burford, 345 Westgate avenue; Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hoffman, 11 Windermere place, and Clement William Nelson, 6152 Vernon avenue, are among the St. Louisans sojourning at Hot Springs, Ark. They are guests at the Arlington Hotel and will remain through the Lenten season.

Mrs. Roland W. Switzer, 4388 Westminster place, with her daughters, Miss Grace and Miss Stella Switzer, returned home last night from Asheville, N. C., where they have spent several weeks at the Grove Park Inn.

A number of other St. Louisans were in Asheville at the same time. Dr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Woodruff, 4 Kingsbury place, and their daughter, Miss Louise, are still there, and Mr. and Mrs. P. Taylor Bryan recently returned, as did Miss Frances Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Graham Wilson Jr., 4382 Westminster place, who was visiting her aunt, Mrs. Frank Peckham.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Plant, 243 West Swon avenue, Webster Groves, have returned from Santa Barbara, Cal., where they have been prior to the Christmas holidays.

Several St. Louisans are guests at the Edgewater Gulf Hotel, Edgewater Park, Miss. Among them are Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ferguson, 6232 McPherson avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald B. O'Reilly, 5621 Waterman avenue; Mrs. George Raithel, 60 Kingsbury place, and her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John K. Raithel, 7700 Shirley drive.

Mrs. George Engelsmann, 3446 Hawthorne boulevard, and Mrs. Henry Hermann, 25 Dormora drive, will depart tomorrow for New York to spend ten days.

Mrs. Dave E. J. Noonan, 7300 Forsythe boulevard, accompanied by Mrs. Oscar Wright, 7300 Westmoreland drive, are expected home Tuesday from a two months' tour of Florida and Cuba.

Invitations have been sent out by Mrs. Harry Adelbert Pyle, 4615 Lindell boulevard, for a tea at the St. Louis Woman's Club, Tuesday afternoon, from 3 to 5 o'clock, in honor of the members of the missionary department of the Woman's Association of the Second Presbyterian Church. The name of Mrs. T. H. Cobbs, chairman of the misionary department, appears with that of Mrs. Pyle on the invitations.

An entertainment will be given this evening at 8 o'clock at the Reen Memorial Lutheran Church, by the members of the Reen Memorial boys' choir under the direction of Olive Piatt Bischoff. The program will be composed of selections from light opera successes. Among the numbers will be "Chinese Lullaby," to be sung by Mrs. Bishop and Joe Tanka, Chester Tanka, Victor Yoden and Utaka Yoden, members of the boys' choir. Miss Mabel Olian will play the accompaniments.

Mrs. A. L. Dodge, 1140 Edward terrace, Richmond Heights, and her children, Jean and Marie, are visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Spotswood Brown of Jacksonville, Fla. From there she will go to Washington to visit an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Flaherty. Before returning home, Mrs. Dodge will be the guest of another brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Parker Connolley, on Long Island.

V. EVERETT MACY, BANKER AND PHILANTHROPIST, DIES

New York Millionaire Succumbs at Phoenix, Ariz.; Had Been Ill With Pneumonia.

By the Associated Press.

SCARBOROUGH, N. Y., March 21.—Friends here have learned of the death early this morning near Phoenix, Ariz., of V. Everett Macy, multimillionaire banker and philanthropist. He would have been 59 years old Sunday. He had been ill with bronchial pneumonia.

Macy was a director of the Mechanics and Metals National Bank and the Seamen's Savings Bank. He was a former treasurer of the National Child Commission, a trustee of the Metropolitan Museum of art and chairman of the board of trustees of Teachers College, Columbia University.

Graduated from Columbia University in 1893 with a Ph. B. in architecture, Macy never practiced his profession, but went into business. His three children left for Phoenix immediately on receipt of word of his death.

of course we carry Pacquin's hand cream

It would be poor judgment not to! First of all we know what a splendid preparation it is—which means we can recommend it without reservation.

Then, too, thousands of women are acquainted with it and expect to find it in our Toilet Goods Department —Others try it without hesitation knowing that every product must pass our own strict censorship before being presented with a Wolff-Wilson and Liggett's recommendation behind it.

To find out how Pacquin's is different, we suggest that you try a large jar at 98c, or the tube at 48c.

New York Day by Day
By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, March 21.

THOUGHTS while strolling: The heady excitement of a Fifth avenue morning. Low, long racy cars. Silks, jewels, perfumes. Galloping pedestrians—going nowhere. Lumbering busses swaying like elephants. Helen Gould steps from a limousine in front of her home.

Something substantial about a father who carries a baby in his arms. A clerk from Christie's in London. The street hawker and his basket of white, fluffy puppies. Fred F. French, the solemn looking builder. Style copyists making quick furtive sketches in front of department store windows.

Arthur Hopkins, a Cleveland, O., boy, who made good in the city. The old Penwick Cafe now The White Way Chop House. More Mexican candy kitchens. What has become of the mannish girl with the bachelor clothes? Oscar Eagle and his wife, Esther Lyon. Gallipolis folks.

Gilbert Miller's face usually shines like a silk hat. Capt. Blancart of the Ile de France window shopping. What a crossing I had with him one time! I can still feel it. Youths who raise those faint beards and sit on the floor at Greenwich Village parties. Rube Wolf, the orchestra leader.

N. T. G., Broadway's restaurant showman. And the best in the business. Edward Ransome, the new six-foot tenor at the Metropolitan. The chestnut vendors are gone. Marbles are being shown in the Third avenue candy stores. Robins are tugging at worms in the park. Spring tra-la.

Cellar book shop sign: "A good book and a quiet nook is our idea of heaven." A cafeteria features a strolling magician at lunch time. And a haberdashery offers a free cup of coffee to all customers.

Next winter I'm going to have one of those electric log fires. New Chinese laundry heralds: "The slickest slick in town." J. M. Flagg's pompadour. Elmer Davis Aurora, Indiana's literary hope, is getting gray. Sandwich men sucking at pipes and chirping like sparrows.

IN our social circle—the younger Grand Central set—they were discussing first impressions of New York. Mine was the absence of telephone poles and wires along the streets.

ANOTHER outstanding impression for the visitor is the smallness of theaters and their foyers. The first theater I visited was the Globe, and I could not enjoy the stupendous musical extravaganza for counting up the house on my fingers and wondering how they made expenses.

IN those days, incidentally, Lillian Lorraine rushing out over the audience in a swing of roses, was the toast of the town. She tossed fresh posies into the air and Broadway beaux dropped in nightly to see her.

A FEW years later Julia Sanderson was singing "They Wouldn't Believe Me" at the old Knickerbocker. This song also drew a group of faithful nightly, among them Louis Werba and this chronicler, who both knew the doorman and got in free.

AND the gayest night haunt in town was the Domino Room at uptown Bustanoby's with the first and at the time the only ladies' bar in town. Every night you saw there the Dolly Sisters, Diamond Jim, the Castles and others riding the top wave.

UPTOWN at this period the chaste architectual splendors of the Hotel Ansonia—dubbed "Stokes' Folly"—were being discussed. And the pinacle of a Broadway night out was a drive in a low-necked lorry to Pabst's in Harlem for one of those sweating stone mugs of beer. Or maybe two.

ACQUISITIONS AT ART MUSEUM

Recent acquisitions of City Art Museum include a Paisley shawl, black lace parasol and two fans, one ivory and one of black ostrich feathers presented by Mrs. Carolyne Schlosstein, and an early nineteenth century Chinese handkerchief, presented by Mrs. Lillie Row Marquitz of Kirkwood.

A miniature portrait of a lady, painted on ivory by George Engleheart, was purchased for $297.

"Hazel suffered from constipation," says Mrs. Ed. Williams, 1223 North 11th St., St. Louis. "She was sallow and bilious; didn't have any appetite; couldn't digest her food.

"California Fig Syrup has changed all that. It regulated the bowels quickly; improved her appetite and digestion. She has improved right along until friends say she's a regular prize-winner for health."

Mothers by thousands praise California Fig Syrup. Physicians endorse it. Its rich, fruity flavor appeals to children; its pure vegetable goodness is safe for any child. The prompt relief it brings bilious, headachy, constipated children helps because it helps tone and strengthen bowels and stomach. Next time unpleasant breath, coated tongue or feverishness warn of constipation, try it with your child and see how it helps!

When buying, look for the name California! That marks the genuine, famous for 50 years.

SENATE PASSES NORRIS PLAN TO ANNUAL DUTIES ON MONOPOLY PRODUCTS

lamation suspending the duty on that commodity. The suspension would remain in force until the Court found that the abuse had ceased.

"It seems to me," said Norris, in offering the amendment, "that every believer in a protective tariff should be as anxious to maintain competition on this side of the tariff wall as he is to prevent competition from abroad. We have found that under a high tariff monopolies sometimes are formed behind the wall, to the detriment and cost of the consumers.

"We should remember that no producer is entitled to a protective tariff as a matter of right—it is a legislative favor. When its true object is circumvented by its beneficiaries, and monopolies are formed, and unjust prices exacted, it is the duty of the Government to withdraw the favor that made the abuse possible.

"That is all my amendment would do. It applies to nobody who is not violating the anti-trust laws. It would not apply until the court had found such a violation to exist. The punishment is extremely gentle, and the sentence gives the offender the key to his own cell. It merely says: 'You are hereby deprived of a governmental favor until you stop violating the law.' I do not think anyone can complain against that."

Glenn Makes Only Protest.

Senator Glenn, Illinois Old Guardsman, objected on the ground that "any crazy man" would be able to file a complaint, and that the Customs Court would be congested with endless investigations. Norris retorted that "any crazy man has the right under existing law to accuse anyone of any crime in the statute books—providing he can get out of the asylum long enough to swear out a warrant," but he said he could recall very few instances of that sort. He assumed that the people's counsel would exercise some judgment in entertaining complaints and instituting investigations.

The proposal obviously caused acute distress among the Old Guard, but apparently none of the regulars, aside from Glenn, could think of an answer to the argument advanced by Norris. The fact that the penalty was aimed only at law breakers seemed to render the amendment singularly impregnable to attack. Nevertheless, strenuous efforts will be made to eliminate it in conference. One of the first and most important commodities that would stand to be deprived of tariff protection would be aluminum products, in which Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and his family enjoy a monopoly.

"Sugar Senators" Beat Hide Duty.

The riddled remains of another member of the Grundy combination was borne off the Senate floor yesterday afternoon—mute evidence of the fact that it is dangerous to count on the vote of "Sugar Senators" after they get what they want. The victim in this instance was the proposed duty on hides, leather and shoes, and it met death less than 24 hours after a similar fate had overtaken its brother and companion—the proposed duty on oil.

The hide duty was sought by Senators who confidingly voted two weeks ago for an increase in the sugar duty, in the fond expectation—if not on the express promise—that "Sugar Senators" would return the favor. Among those who voted against the proposed tariff on hides were Senator Smoot (Rep.), Utah, sponsor of the sugar increase; Fletcher and Trammell (Dem.), Florida, and Vanderberg (Rep.), Michigan.

Hawes Switches Tariff on Lumber.

The imposition of a duty on lumber yesterday afternoon by a margin of one vote, made possible by the switch of Senator Hawes (Dem.), Missouri, carried out another phase of the Grundy plan, and left oil and hides as the only unlucky items in the combination.

Grundy and Senator Borah provided a dramatic climax to the vote on hides, shoes and leather. On the roll call, Borah voted for the proposal. Completion of the ballot showed a tie, 35 to 35. Just at that moment Grundy came rushing in, and cast his vote for the duty, making the total 36 to 35. Thereupon, Borah abruptly changed his vote, making the result 36 to 35 against it. Borah later explained privately that he wanted a duty on hides, but was unwilling to accept responsibility for imposing a duty on shoes, especially when it meant joining with Grundy.

WESTERNER NAMED MOSES' AID

Senator Steiwer to Direct Part of G. O. P. Campaign.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Senator Steiwer of Oregon was chosen vice chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign committee last night at a special meeting called by Chairman Moses. It is the understanding of the committee that Steiwer will take charge of the campaign in the Western states at headquarters to be selected by himself later.

Moses intends to leave next month for a European visit of six weeks or two months. This was one of the reasons for selection of a vice chairman. The committee's decision puts a Westerner in charge of the Western Republican campaign. There was considerable discontent on the committee at one time over the reference of Moses to the group of Western Republican Independents in the Senate as "the sons of the wild jackass."

MORE PLAZA GROUND BOUGHT

Two Appropriations Approved by Citizens' Committee.

Appropriations for purchase of a piece of property in the Union Station Plaza site and another in the Memorial Plaza site were approved by the Citizens' Bond Issue Supervisory Committee yesterday.

The former piece is at 1930 Chestnut street, a lot 20 by 73 feet with a one-floor store building, owned by Mollie J. Berkley. The price is $9500, as fixed by condemnation commissioners, although the assessed valuation is $6200. The Memorial Plaza purchase is at 1224 Pine street, a lot 25 by 108 feet with a two-story structure, owned by the Eclipse Electrical Co. It will cost $35,500, as determined by condemnation commissioners, but city appraisers had valued it at $28,000 and the assessment is $17,250.

INTERNAL REVENUE RECEIPTS SHOW $180,000,000 GAIN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Internal revenue receipts for the first eight months of the current fiscal year made public yesterday totaled $1,675,007,483, an increase of more than $180,000,000 over the corresponding period for the fiscal year 1929.

The bulk of this increase was shown in the income tax collections which up to Feb. 28 totaled $1,256,937,756, with the gains shown principally in individual and partnership returns. These exceeded by $141,475,771 the receipts for the previous year. The total corporation taxes paid in for the period was $666,057,058.

Tobacco taxes also showed a considerable gain, totaling $298,333,594, of which cigarettes accounted for more than $237,000,000. Cigarettes alone had a gain of more than $16,500,000 but cigars and chewing tobacco showed losses of more than $797,000.

strength of the British, Japanese and American navies.

Three Delegations Favor Early Move for Reduction Pact.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, March 21. — The American, British and Japanese naval delegations are understood today to be preparing for quick, definite action next week in the production of a limitation and reduction pact.

In American circles it was said that the moment the Japanese Government indicates acceptance of the proposals now being considered in Tokio for an agreement among the United States, Great Britain and Japan, France and Italy will be called upon to put their cards on the table in an effort to settle their parity disagreement.

If France and Italy still cannot see any purpose in further negotiating on their difference, then the other three Powers will quickly frame an agreement along the lines of the Washington treaty and France and Italy will be invited to sign such parts as they wish.

In other words, it was said, there will be a three-Power pact, with France and Italy possibly signing some clauses which do not affect their parity disagreement.

Audience With the King.

The American delegation this morning held a meeting under the leadership of Secretary of State Stimson, and it was believed they discussed what action will be taken when Tokio's reply is received. In American conference circles, it was said, the United States and Great Britain intend to stand pat on the proposals which the Japanese Government now is considering. Secretary Stimson visited Prime Minister MacDonald in Downing street before this morning's American delegation meeting. Later Premier MacDonald had an audience with the King, and in well-informed quarters it was understood he discussed with His Majesty the present state of the naval conference. Reijiro Wakatsuki, head of the Japanese delegation, also had a visit with MacDonald this morning.

Indications from Tokio that the Japanese might require another week before replying in regard to the Japanese-American tentative agreement caused no surprise in the American delegation. Diplomats remarked that the Japanese normally require considerable time in consulting the Governmeint because of the distance and difficulties in language transmission.

"All Quiet on the Carlton Front."

An official of the French delegation said that the situation was precisely as it had been with "all quiet on the Carlton front." He added: "I hope you deny any report of a break-away by the French delegation from the conference."

MacDonald last night conferred with Foreign Minister Grandi on the Italian stand. But it was understood his efforts resulted only in reiteration of the Italian stand that parity with France was the first, last and only policy of the Rome Government.

Today Grandi and Jacques Dumesnil of the French delegation held a two-hour conference. Dumesnil later said he would go to Paris, merely to take advantage of the week-end, and would return to London on Monday. Grandi said that nothing of importance took place at his conversations with Dumesnil. He said that during the week two proposals involving important concessions had been made by the Italian delegation but that no reply had been returned by the French.

The five-Power naval conference is two months old today. At the opening, King George summarized the hopes of Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan and the United States as their delegates assembled before him in the gorgeous setting of the royal gallery of the House of Lords. He called war "A grim and immense tragedy" and expressed faith in the inspiration of the delegates to lessen "the heavy burden weighing on the peoples of the world."

Tardieu May Delay His Next Visit to London Parley.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, March 21.—Asked today whether and when he would go to London, Premier Tardieu replied that he planned to go to London when something definite at the conference seemed to require his presence.

Aristide Briand, French Foreign Minister and naval delegation head, who came here from the naval conference at London, conferred today with Tardieu.

Briand said he had returned to Paris to assist in pushing French ratification of the Young plan through Parliament and that he expected to return to the London naval negotiations next week.

ELIZABETH CUENY TO USE MOOLAH TEMPLE FOR CONCERTS

For 14 Years She Has Presented Musical Events in the Odeon.

The Civic Music League's program and other entertainments under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Cueny will be presented at Moolah Temple, 3821 Lindell boulevard, during the season of 1930-31.

The arrangement was announced today by Miss Cueny who used the Odeon for 14 years until recently when differences arose between her and Henri Chouteau, owner of the building, over two lectures for which she handled ticket sales. Her last presentation, Sergei Rachmaninoff, the pianist, was in the gold room of the Hotel Jefferson last week.

SOUTH DAKOTA U. WINNER IN ORATORICAL CONTEST

Washington U. Takes Second Place in Twelfth Annual Missouri Valley Competition.

William McCann of the University of South Dakota, who praised "The New Russia" as a country where people long deprived of freedom were now enjoying personal liberty, won first place in the twelfth annual meeting of the Missouri Valley Oratorical Association last night at Washington University.

Howard L. Hibbs of Kansas City, Mo., a senior in Washington University, was awarded second place for his address, "Mirage." Stacey Picknell of the University of Kansas, who spoke on "The Last Line of Defense," received honorable mention.

The winner of the contest described Soviet Russia as a progressive land whose educational efforts to spread mass education deserve commendation. He credited the memory of Lenin with being the motivating spirit behind the upbuilding.

Drake University and the state universities of Missouri, Texas and Oklahoma were represented.

British Envoy Kept Waiting.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Sir Ronald Lindsay, new British Ambassador to the United States, was kept waiting 15 minutes yesterday for his initial call on Acting Secretary Cotton of the State Department by a conference to which President Hoover called Cotton slightly before 4 o'clock. When Cotton and Lindsay met in the Secretary of State's office, they shook hands cordially and at once fell into easy conversation. Afterward they posed for newspaper photographers.

Success Came Late in Life

"For the first time in years I am able to eat the things I like without becoming nauseated and suffering cutting pains afterward, and lying awake hour after hour unable to sleep," says Mrs. Marion L. Toenges of 509 Cass St., Chicago. "Ever since I started taking Acidine I am clear of all that. At first I took a dose after each meal. Now I take one at night and another after I get up—my stomach is so sweet I am eating whatever I want and my nerves are calm now."

That shows how easy it is for people with a sick, acid stomach to help themselves now. It is usually caused by excessive acidity from failure to digest starchy foods. Acidine liquefies the undigested food, sweetens the stomach, the inflammation is soothed and the tension on the nerves is relieved. Try Acidine. It tastes good and costs so little at any drug store.

CENSUS OF SALES IN ST. LOUIS AREA

Federal Survey to Be Finished About July 1 Intended to Aid Business Houses.

A census of distribution (wholesale and retail sales) is being carried on the metropolitan area of St. Louis for the first time, in connection with the fifteenth decennial population census. Unlike the population count, which will begin April 2 and take two weeks, this started here on Jan. 23 and will be finished about July 1.

The innovation is planned to provide valuable information for business men about the character and details of distribution. Heretofore the census has covered production through its check of manufactures, but modern commerce demands more information to promote economy and efficiency.

Samuel W. Wood, chief special agent of the Census Bureau, is here directing the distribution census for the metropolitan territory, which embraces St. Louis, East St. Louis, Granite City, Alton, Belleville and the lesser towns and unincorporated area surrounding St. Louis on both sides of the river. This district has been laid out officially in co-operation with local interests. Wood said of the work:

Wood has 23 enumerators engaged in St. Louis, East St. Louis, Granite City, Alton and Belleville. In the remainder of the metropolitan area, where there are comparatively few sales establishments, the population enumerators will obtain answers to the distribution questionnaires. For establishments doing business of $60,000 or more annually there is a six-page form but for the smaller enterprises, including neighborhood shops, there is a single sheet.

CITIZENSHIP PARITY OF SEXES PROVIDED IN REVISED BILL

Congressman Cable's Measure Already Approved by Immigration Committee.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—A revised bill to provide citizenship parity between men and women, and designed to meet the desires expressed during hearings held on his recent proposal, was introduced yesterday by Representative Cable (Rep.), Ohio.

In general, the measure is similar to the old one. It was this bill upon which Representative Ruth Bryan Owen of Florida testified regarding her own experience in facing an election contest because she had lost her citizenship by marrying a British Army officer. She later was repatriated.

The revised bill would abolish expatriation for women because of residence abroad. It would put the native-born woman on an equal basis with the native-born man as to citizenship. Also it would permit a woman who has married and lost her citizenship to return outside the immigration quota.

The new bill has the approval of the Immigration Committee and will be presented to the House as soon as Representative Cable completes his report on it.

TOOMBS TO BE TAKEN FROM PRISON FOR TRIAL

Four Indictments Still Pending Against Former Insurance Firm President.

Roy C. Toombs, president of the defunct International Life Insurance Co., will be brought here from the penitentiary April 14 to be tried on one of the four indictments still pending against him. Two of the indictments charge fraudulent overissue of the stock of the insurance company, the same offense for which Toombs on Feb. 24 began serving a three-year sentence. The other indictments charge grand larceny. The Circuit Attorney will select the charge on which he is to be tried.

Circuit Attorney Miller considered Toombs' three-year sentence and $3000 fine to be insufficient punishment for the wrecking of the insurance company by removing $3,500,000 of its assets. He applied for a writ of habeas corpus to take the prisoner from the penitentiary, and Judge Hamilton granted the writ today.

POLICE DEPARTMENT BUDGET MAY EXCEED $5,500,000

Commissioners to Confer Today With Comptroller Nolte, Who Is Expected to Seek Cut.

Comptroller Nolte and the Board of Police Commissioners will meet at Police Headquarters today to discuss the Police Department's budget for the fiscal year of 1930-31.

While no definite announcement has been made, it is understood the department's budget will total more than $5,500,000, the Board of Estimate and Apportionment being required by law to appropriate the sum asked for. It is expected that Nolte will plead for a reduction in the budget.

Funeral of Joseph I. Swan.

Funeral services for Joseph I. Swan, 88 years old, who died of bronchitis Wednesday in his residence, 6169 Pershing avenue, will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon at First Congregational Church. He was a retired iron dealer. He survived his wife and daughter, who died several years ago. He was an active member of his church from the days when it was at Tenth and Locust streets. His only relatives are two nieces of New York City. Burial will be in Colchester, Conn., his early home.

WHITES AND NEGROES IN CLASH

Chicago Police Quell Outbreak Following Basketball Game.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 21.—Several squads of police broke up a riot between Negroes and Whites on the South Side last night, just a block from the University of Chicago campus.

The riot followed a basketball game in the University gymnasium between Calumet and Wendell Phillips high schools. After the game, part of the crowd rushed to the Fifty-fifth Street car line and the outbreak started as they were attempting to board cars. The trolley of one car was twisted so that it was usless, several windows were broken and traffic was tied up before police dispersed the crowds.

DEFIES MISSISSIPPI HOUSE AND FLEES TO LOUISIANA

Witness Was Ordered Jailed for Failure to Answer Investigators' Question.

By the Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, March 21.—Carl Marshall is in New Orleans after putting a state boundary between him and the disciplinary agents of the Mississippi House of Representatives, which sought to imprison him for refusal to answer questions propounded by an Investigating Committee.

The committee invesgtigating the alleged settlement of a threatened $10,000,000 anti-trust suit against Warren Brothers, Boston highway material firm, by payment of $80,000, asked Marshall whether any Mississippi state officials had shared in the money. He was ordered jailed when he refused to answer and immediately pardoned by Gov. Bilbo. He disappeared when the House decided to ignore the pardon.

Marshall said he left to prevent a possible armed clash between militia and sergeants at arms of the House of Representatives.

Missouri U. Journalism Week.

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 21.—Dr. Frederick Wilhelm von Prittwitz und Gaffron, German Ambassador to the United States, has accepted an invitation to be the principal speaker at the twenty-first annual journalism week banquet at the University of Missouri on May 9. "Made in the Printing Office" will be the theme of the banquet this year."

STATE DRUG INSPECTOR REBUKED FOR ENTRAPMENT

M. J. Miller, Druggist, Freed on Charge of Selling Poison to a Minor.

M. J. Miller, a druggist of 1007 Market street, was discharged by Judge Butler today in the Court of Criminal Correction on a charge of selling poison to a minor without the consent of the parents. Judge Butler took occasion to rebuke M. S. Faber, a deputy inspector from the Food and Drug Commissioner's office, "for using the same tactics as prohibition agents—entrapment—in the attempt to make a case."

Miller was arrested March 4 last after Cornelius Busesi, 18, 3616A Watson road, had purchased three and one-half ounces of denatured alcohol from him. Busesi at the time was acting for the deputy inspectors. Faber, placed on the stand, admitted that Busesi looked "more than 18," and that he was chosen for the job because he was "a fooler" in appearance. Miller testified that he asked Busesi if he was a minor and that Busesi said he was not.

Edward Foristel, attorney for Miller, said his client admitted the act, but believed, when he made the sale, that Busesi was of age. Three other druggists, arrested under similar circumstances, soon will come up for trial.

MEXICAN ACCUSED OF THREATS AGAINST PRESIDENT DEPORTED

Nicolas Alcorta, Arrested Here, Also Charged With Threatening Life of Ortiz Rubio.

Nicolas Martin Alcorta, a Mexican, 22 years old, arrested in a rooming house here last month after Mexican authorities had intercepted his letters to a friend in San Luis Potosi alleged to have contained threats against the lives of President Hoover and President Ortiz Rubio of Mexico, was held incommunicado today by Matamoros authorities, pending orders from Mexico City.

Alcorta was deported yesterday, turned over to Mexican immigration officers at Brownsville, Tex., by Immigrant Inspector B. E. Barnes of the St. Louis office. He is in the custody now of Manual C. Guerra, immigration chief at Matamoros.

SOVIET WARNING TO EXPERTS

Official Organ Says Russians No Longer Can Remain Neutral.

MOSCOW, March 21.—Declaring it no longer possible for Russian engineers, technicians and experts to maintain a mere attitude of neutrality during the Government's struggle to attain the goal of socialistic construction, Pravda, official Communist organ, gives these men their choice of embracing either the revolution or counter-revolution.

They cannot, Pravda says, follow merely a passive policy, but must throw their heart and soul into the Soviet's five-year industrialization plan, agricultural collectivization scheme and other measures leading to 100 per cent socialism.

LIBERAL ARTS COLLEGES UNITE

Decide to Aid Each Other in Campaigns for Funds.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 21.—A nation-wide organization of liberal art colleges to give mutual aid in campaigns for money was organized yesterday by the Liberal Arts colleges conference. The new organization will be allied with the American Association of Colleges. All Liberal Arts colleges which pay a fee of $100 are eligible for membership.

A committee of 15 was created to determine methods of raising funds to aid the Liberal Arts colleges. It was ordered to report in January, 1931, at Indianapolis, Ind., at the meeting of the American Association of Colleges.

STADIUM BARS COLLEGE

$750,000 Athletic Field for Butler Keeps it From Association.

CHICAGO, March 21.—The plea of Butler College of Indianapolis, Ind., for reinstatement on probation in the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools today was denied by the executive committee of the association.

Butler was dropped because a new $750,000 athletic field house and stadium it had erected had reduced the school's endowment to a point below the required standard. Hilton U. Brown, president of the board of directors of Butler, made a personal appeal for probation.

Rejects Pay Rise for City Workers.

The Board of Estimate and Apportionment today refused to approve a salary increase bill presented by employes in the office of the Recorder of Deeds. The bill, providing increases for all employes except the Recorder, William L. Tamme, would have added $22,000 annually to municipay expense.

FOUR O'CLOCK EYESTRAIN

The conditions of modern life, officework under artificial illumination, dust-filled city air, smoking and motoring all produce inflammation and eyestrain. Iris, America's Eyebath, is recommended by oculists to relieve and prevent such conditions. Keep a bottle of it always in your desk. It not only contains the old reliable eye formula of boric acid, but many healing oils to soothe irritated tissues. It will give almost instant relief from "four o'clock strain." In two sizes in sterile flasks with eyecup, 50c and $1.00 at all Walgreen Drug Stores and at drug and department stores everywhere.

GROUP OF RAPID TRANSIT ADVOCATES ADOPT REPORT

Officers to Be Elected at Next Meeting; Harry Bortin is Chairman.

Fifteen members of a tentative organization calling itself the Citizens' Conference Committee on Rapid Transit met yesterday at the office of Harry Bortin, a consulting engineer, in the Planters Building, adopted a rapid transit report written by Bortin and voted to form a permanent organization. Another meeting will be held next Thursday to elect officers. Bortin has been acting as temporary chairman.

The committee decided to publish Bortin's rapid transit report for public distribution. A summary of it was published in the Post-Dispatch last Monday. In general it expresses the view that St. Louis needs rapid transit, can afford it and should take immediate steps to construct the facilities on the general plan recommended by the Smith-Kinsey report published in 1926.

DR. COOK MADE PHYSICAL DIRECTOR OF BOYS' CLUB

Paroled Arctic Explorer Voted Life Membership in the Brotherhood Republic.

By the Associated Press.

IN Sterling Wheelbarrows there is a marked difference in design and performance

HANDIE-BARO for homes and gardens is a light weight, small sized barrow—for easy wheeling by dad, mother or child. Yet scientifically built for great strength, long life—as a quality barrow should be—even for home use. Sterling Wheelbarrows—for industrial plants, foundries, contractors—have for years set the economic standard in—1. More loads wheeled per man per day. 2. Increased manpower, thru perfect balance. 3. Lowered maintenance, longer life with interchangeable parts. 4. Increased efficiency, through exact types for every job. 5. Prompt delivery.

9 REASONS WHY You should buy Sterling Wheelbarrows

1 Sterlings are different. Type for every purpose.

2 Ten-spoke wheels, self-lubricated, steel axle.

3 Trays, one-piece, riveted, reinforced with rod.

4 Legs, heavy channel, riveted, cross braced and rigid.

5 V-shaped pressed steel tray braces.

6 Handles, maple, painted—or steel tubing.

7 Accident insurance, parts interchangeable.

8 Built for service, easy wheeling and balance.

9 Immediate shipment from large warehouse stock.

DEALER NOTICE! To sell Sterling Wheelbarrows it is not necessary to carry big stocks. You can make quick pickups or have any quantity shipped from our complete local warehouse stocks. Catalog illustrating complete line mailed on request.

AL CAPONE SURRENDERS TO POLICE IN CHICAGO

Gangster Confers With Detective Chief; Six Arrested in Raid on His Miami Home.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 21. — "Scarface" Al Capone surrendered to Chicago police today and was in conference with Chief of Detectives Stege shortly before 2 o'clock.

By the Associated Press.

MIAMI, Fla., March 21.—Petition for writs of habeas corpus, filed by six men arrested last night in a raid on the winter home of Alphonse Capone, Chicago gangster, near Miami Beach, were denied in Circuit Court today.

The men were placed in custody of Sheriff M. P. Lehmann, but were allowed to make bond of $500 each for appearance in court on charges of prohibition law violations and vagrancy.

The raid, based on affidavits of Sheriff's Deputies that they saw liquor in the house recently in making a search for "Crane Neck" Nugent, wanted in Ohio on murder charges, resulted in the seizure, officers said, of 10 sacks and three bottles of liquor an da quantity of champagne.

WEISENBURGER URGES CITY TO SOLVE OLD PROBLEMS

Chamber of Commerce President Tells Program at Dinner of Business Men.

St. Louis cannot progress unless the communty solves some of its old problems, President Weisenburger of the Chamber of Commerce told a group of 350 business men last night at Hotel Statler. Those present are to participate in intensive personal efforts next week to call attention of citizens to what the chamber considers to be the city's seven most pressing needs. A civic missionary campaign is planned.

The seven points of the chamber program are: Strengthening of the city's trade contacts, retention of its railway leadership, stimulation of air leadership, solution of the bridge problem, modernization of transit facilities, unification of the city and St. Louis County under a metropolitan government and completion of big pending municipal improvements.

ST. LOUIS WILL PAY $65,920 IN TAXES TO EAST ST. LOUIS

Total an Increase of $16,849 More Than in 1929; $64,291 Levy on Free Bridge.

Illinois taxes to be paid by the city of St. Louis this year on the east end of the Municipal Bridge and other property in East St. Louis will be $65,920, or $16,849 more than last year, due to an increase of about 30 per cent in the tax rate.

The total rate for State, city, county, schools and the levee and park boards in East St. Louis will be $6.50 on the $100 assessed valuation this year, the highest on record there.

The portion of Municipal Bridge in Illinois, occupying 37 acres, is taxed $64,291 this year, and other minor property owned by St. Louis in East St. Louis, at $1628. The Missouri end of the bridge is exempt from taxes, but past efforts to remove the Illinois taxes have been unsucessful.

M. J. SHANLEY, CAFE MAN, DIES

One of Six Brothers Operating New York Restaurants.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Michael J. Shanley, one of six brothers whose name for a generation was synonymous in New York with good food, died suddenly today of a cerebral hemorrhage at his home. He was 63 years old.

The six Shanley brothers came to New York from Ireland as youths. In 1893, Michael, and his elder brother, Thomas J., started their first restaurant at Sixth avenue and Twenty-third street. It became so instantaneous a success that with the assistance of their brothers they opened a chain of restaurants, which became famous for old fashioned food. Their most elaborate place, in Times Square, where the Paramount building now stands, went into bankruptcy in 1923, after which Michael Shanley retired.

ST. OLAF'S CHOIR TO EUROPE

To Visit Scandinavia, Germany, France, Italy and England.

By the Associated Press.

NORTHFIELD, Minn.—Prof. F. Melius Christiansen will take St. Olaf's College Choir to Trondhjem, Norway, next summer to participate in a celebration commemorating the 900th anniversary of the introduction of Christianity into Scandinavia.

After a tour lasting a month in Scandinavian countries the choir will sing in France, Germany, Italy and England.

Asks Police to Find Husband.

Mrs. Charles M. Skalla, 4121 Washington boulevard, requested police today to assist in finding her husband, a 24-year-old armature salesman, whom she has not seen since he left New Year's day on a trip through his Illinois territory. Mrs. Skalla said he wrote from Duquoin on Jan. 13 and that a letter from one of his customers at Lawrenceville indicated he had been there Feb. 8. She has not heard from him since.

POLICEMAN FIRING AT AUTO WOUNDS CHINESE LAUNDRYMAN

Lum Poe, 57 years old, a Chinese laundyrman, 1825 Park avenue, was shot in the left arm and slightly wounded yesterday afternoon as he was waiting for a street car at Eighteenth street and Chouteau avenue by a detective who fired five times in halting a suspected automobile thief.

The fugitive, Oliver Hammond, 23, 1812 Hickory street, overtaken in the rear of the 1900 block La Salle street, was found to be driving a car stolen last month from James Burroughs, 3819A State street, East St. Louis, and bearing license plates taken March 3 from the sedan of Arthur Moehle, 1919 Lynch street. Police reported finding titles for a motor cycle and truck in his room. A woman companion was held as a witness.

Detective Walter Bauer, one of several detectives who started after Hammond at Eighteenth street and Chouteau avenue, said he fired three shots in the air and two at the machine. The laundryman was treated at the city hospital and taken home.

$1000 Verdict for Parrot's Bite.

BALTIMORE, Md., March 21.—Mrs. Anna Drury won a jury verdict yesterday for $1000 damages in her suit against a downtown store for injuries from a parrot's bite. The parrot bit her finger last June 13. The finger was said to have been permanently scarred.

MARRIAGE CONTRACT OFFERED IN BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 21.—A marriage contract signed two years before Ethlyn Gibson, former follies dancer, was divorced from her first husband is included in a suit by the dancer against Leon Glaser, broker, asking $350,000 damages for breach of promise.

The contract was signed by Glaser and Miss Gibson before a notary public Nov. 5, 1926. Miss Gibson was divorced from Billy West, screen comedian, in 1928.

In the contract, Glaser is alleged to have promised to "love, worship, honor, respect, idolize forever Ethlyn Gibson, to the end of eternity.

It stated that Miss Gibson "is so situated as to make the marriage of both parties impossible, but after the obtaining of a divorce, to be sought by Miss Gibson, Glaser "does hereby agree to love, honor and marry" her immediately "as it has been his wish since meeting said Ethlyn Gibson, as Leon Glaser loves and worships Ethlyn Gibson as his wife."

Miss Gibson declared in spite of their agreement Glaser married Betty Cohen, daughter of A. B. Cohen, wealthy diamond merchant, in December, 1929.

1000 GREEK WOMEN IN MAIL ORDER ROMANCE

Their Photographs Won Them Husbands Who Sail From New York Today.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 21.—One thousand Greek women have written to America for husbands, inclosing photographs, and the husbands are on the way.

The photographs, sealed in one package, are in the care of Amelio Emboldi, purser of the Cosulich liner Saturnia. They were given to him at the last Greek port of call on the vessel's last voyage to this country, with instructions to distribute them among the unmarried male members of the Order of Apepa, a fraternal society of 33,000 American citizens of Greek origin.

One thousand of the society's members have engaged passage on the ship, which sails today for Greece, anticipating marriage to women of their own nationality. Those women in a group in the Helens, the Aphrodites, the Melpomenes—many have names from the old mythology—plan to meet the ship in Piraeus harbor of Athens, the capital of Greece.

Ulysses' odyssey lasted 10 years; this one will take about 10 days. Once beyond the 12-mile limit, wine chests and photographs will be unsealed. The wine will be served in the bar; the photographs will be displayed in the lounge. During the voyage Constantine, Pericles, Aristides, Jason and Xenophon each will familiarize himself with the features of his prospective wife. The wedding ceremonies are planned to coincide with the celebration of a century of Greek independence.

When the Saturnia enters the harbor of Piraeus, the boats will be met by the women in tiny boats, garlanded with flowers, and singing ancient songs.

On board the ship last night the men were addressed by Henry Morgenthau, former Ambassador to Turkey, and George E. Phillies, Buffalo attorney, supreme president of the Order of Apepa.

The Greek Government, as a further inducement, has canceled the passengers' obligations to military service and has lowered passport fees from $11 to $1.40.

NORMANDY BOY TO PLAY IN CHICAGO UNDER DAMROSCH

Soldan High School Student Wins Scholarship of Women's Symphony Committee.

Clifford Benson, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Benson, 1201 Vera street, Normandy, is one of three Missouri High School musicians selected to play in the 392-piece orchestra which will play in Chicago next week at the National Conference of Music Supervisors. The orchestra will be conducted by Walter Damrosch. Benson will play second violin.

Alvin Dinkin, 17, of 5191 Kingston avenue, a student at Soldan High School, won first place in an audition conducted yesterday at the Musicians' Club, 3535 Pine street, and obtained a scholarship to the National High School Orchestra Summer Camp at Interlochen, Mich. The scholarship, valued at $300, provides for eight weeks of instruction and training in orchestra routine. It is offered by the Women's Committee of the St. Louis Symphony Society.

Eugene Goosens, guest conductor of the Symphony Orchestra, and Frederick Fischer, assistant conductor, conducted the auditions. Dinkin is a violinist.

Tomorrow's
ST LOUISANS

During the past four years registration in the elementary schools has increased by 1327 pupils. The present high schools, built to accommodate 12,550 pupils, have now an attendance of 16,609. All these will be well cared for if present plans of the School Board can be continued . . . But what if the present necessary funds are reduced?

On March 25th, a City School Tax Election—as scheduled every four years—will be held to vote on the usual 85-cent School Tax. This means no increase. It is merely authorization of the 25-cent St. Louis School Tax Rate which reinforces the State Tax of 60 cents per $100. You have been paying it for nine years. Every thinking citizen will want it continued. Yet there is danger that through apathy or lack of interest not enough votes will be cast to take care of this important civic need.

Do your part! Vote for the 85-cent School Tax on March 25th! And bring two other voters with you. St. Louis—growing, prosperous, a national leader in public education—cannot afford to fall behind now in providing adequate facilities for its school children of today—its citizens of tomorrow.

In effect, this is a 25-cent investment in good education for the St. Louisans of tomorrow. It will make possible uncrowded buildings, free books, sufficient teachers and the steady betterment of St. Louis' educational facilities.

St. Louis is the only large city that builds, operates, maintains and expands its public schools wholly out of current revenue. All this is done out of the 85-cent tax. It has a smaller public school indebtedness than almost any other principal city of this country.

A Year of Outstanding Accomplishment

The management of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) takes both pride and pleasure in directing the attention of the Company's host of friends and patrons to its accomplishments during the past year.

The financial statement just released evidences 1929 as the most successful year in the Company's history.

To the great public, whose enthusiastic and continued patronage has made this possible, the Company returns appreciative thanks.

To the army of 27,122 employes, who have so ably carried out the policy of the Company in giving to the public a complete and satisfying service, much credit is due.

During the past year, this Company has taken a great stride forward by acquiring control of Pan American Petroleum and Transport Company and subsidiaries with its five million acres of oil lands, thus providing an assured source of crude petroleum and securing expanded marketing facilities.

This Company has likewise extended its marketing facilities in the great Rocky Mountain area through the Midwest Refining Company.

Now the touring motorist will find Standard Oil Company (Indiana) emblems of friendly, satisfying service in much new territory.

The motorists of the Middle West have been quick to accept the New Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline, introduced late in 1929. They have grasped the significance of a fuel that meets perfectly the needs of the new high compression engine and lends new life to the veterans of the highway.

An accurate idea of the degree of acceptance by the public of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) products is reflected in sales of 39,017,894 barrels of finished petroleum products in 1929 as compared with 35,432,806 barrels in 1928.

The latest achievement of the Manufacturing Department is the development of a new motor oil—which finds expression in New Iso-Vis and New Polarine, being introduced with great promise to the public, coincident with the publication of this message.

The success of the Stock Purchasing Plan is emphasized by pointing out that after being in effect nine years, approximately 75% of the stock distributed under this plan remains in the hands of employes—which demonstrates the value of employe partnership.

The Stock Purchasing Plan, the Annuity Plan and the Death Benefit Plan constitute the management's tangible expression of its appreciation of the unwavering loyalty and tireless efforts of the employes.

The Board of Directors is gratified by the constantly mounting number of stockholders—now 81,022. This is approximately 30,000 more than were of record a year ago.

With this rapidly spreading ownership it seems certain that 1930 will be another year of achievement—greater in progress, greater in opportunity to serve the millions of people who call the Middle West home.

STRAWBERRY SHORT CAKE COMES WITH SPRINGTIME

This Delicacy Is One of the Favorite Dishes of the American People.

From two quarts of strawberries select one-third of the largest berries for the top, then crush the remainder and sweeten to taste with powdered sugar, letting them stand at least an hour.

Prepare the shortcake dough by sifting together one and a half cups of pastry flour four teaspoons of baking powder and a half a teaspoon of salt. Cut in a scant half cup of shortening and wet to a soft dough with ice cold milk. Work quickly and lightly and handle the dough as little as possible.

Put the dough into a greased shallow pan and bake in a quick oven (450 degress F.) for about minutes.

When done, remove from the oven, let stand for a couple of minutes, then split and butter generously. Fill with a thick layer of the crushed berries and add some of the juice. Cover the top half with the large berries. Dust thickly with powdered sugar and serve with the remainder of the crushed berries and iced thick cream.

To have this delicacy just right, the cake should be lukewarm and the cream ice cold.

SAVORY BAKED RICE WITH PEANUTS AND TOMATOES

Rice Baked With Nuts and Tomatoes Provides a Tasty Meatless Meal.

This is an excellent dish to serve instead of meat. Wash one cup of rice in plenty of cold water, put in a large saucepan with one teaspoon salt and two quarts boiling water. Boil rapidly for 20 minutes, stirring occasionally with a fork to prevent the rice sticking to the bottom of the pan. If the water boils away, add more.

While the rice is cooking, melt three tablespoons butter in a saucepan and add one small onion sliced fine, two tablespoons shredded green pepper, and cook slowly for five minutes. Then add three cups of canned tomatoes and simmer for 20 minutes.

Drain the rice when it is tender and rinse with cold water. Return to the saucepan and pour the tomato mixture over it, adding one teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and one cup finely chopped peanuts. Mix lightly and pour into a greased baking dish. Spread a thin layer of butter breadcrumbs over the top and bake 25 minutes in a moderate oven. Serve hot.

Nourishment does not make a meal fun is just as important as food!

Breakfast should nourish. There's no question of that. But—this is just as important—breakfast should also stimulate. It should jog up the spirits. For the sake of good digestion and good living, we need some fun along with our food—especially in the morning. Try this scheme. Serve pancakes—the modern kind, made with the new Pillsbury's Pancake Flour. Here's a breakfast that is more than good food—it's interesting food. The sort of breakfast that brings a sparkle to a man's eye—a sparkle that's extremely important to the day's success. You'll find this worth while—keep Pillsbury's Pancake Flour in the house—use it, regularly!

DID YOU KNOW—

That the Apricot was originally a native of northern Asia? Introduced into California by the Spanish Missionaries, the fruit found a soil and climate peculiarly adapted to it. How well is evidenced by the fact that California produces more than 75% of the world's dried Apricots!

RECIPES FOR DISHES IN WEEK'S MENUS

Select the Right Kind of Dessert Required to Balance the Meal.

Nut bread, pineapple charlotte and caramel marshmallow pudding are sure to please the fastidious.

Nut Bread.

Sift together three cups flour, one teaspoon salt, six teaspoons baking powder and one tablespoon sugar. Beat one egg, add one and one-half cups milk and one-fourth cup dark molasses. Stir this into the dry mixture and then add one cup coarsely chopped walnuts or pecans and two tablespoons melted shortening. Mix well, pour into a greased bread pan, filling it about two-thirds full, and let stand for 20 minutes. Then bake in a moderate oven for 50 minutes. When done, turn out to cool and if possible let stand 24 hours before using.

Pineapple Charlotte.

Soak three tablespoons gelatine in one-fourth cup cold water for 10 minutes and then dissolve in one cup of boiling water. Add one tablespoon lemon juice, one-third cup sugar and one and one-half cups canned crushed pineapple. Cool the mixture until it begins to thicken. This may be done quickly if the pan of gelatine is placed in a pan of cracked ice or ice water and stirred frequently to keep it smooth. If not stirred the gelatine will likely harden in a tough layer on the bottom. When the mixture begins to thicken and is about the consistency of thick cream, stir in one cup of cream that has been whipped stiff. Beat with an egg beater until it is very fluffy and quite stiff. Line a round mold, or individual molds, with lady fingers or strips of sponge cake and fill with the charlotte. Chill, turn out and garnish with maraschino cherries cut in half.

Marshmallow Caramel Pudding.

Break enough stale bread into pieces to make two cupfuls. Use the crumb only. Scald one quart of milk and pour half of it over the bread. Let stand until the bread is soft. Put four tablespoons sugar in a small, heavy saucepan and stir constantly over a slow fire until the sugar is melted and light brown in color. Remove at once from the fire and stir in carefully the rest of the milk and three tablepoons butter. The mixture will sputter when the milk is added, so be careful not to get too close to it. Stir over a moderate fire until the sugar melts again and the mixture is smooth. Then pour over the softened bread with two well-beaten eggs, one teaspoon vanilla and one-half cup sugar. The grated rind of one lemon may also be added, but is not essential. Pour into a greased baking dish and bake in a very moderate oven—for 50 minutes or until firm. When done, cover the top with halved, fresh marshmallows and brown very lightly. Serve warm or cold. Hard sauce flavored with chocolate or coffee may be served with the hot pudding.

Corn Muffins.

Take one cup cornmeal, one cup flour, one-half teaspoon salt, four teaspoons baking powder, one cup milk, one egg, two tablespoons butter.

Mix and sift the cornmeal, flour, salt and baking powder. Gradually add the milk, the well-beaten egg and lastly the melted butter. Bake in well-greased muffin pans in a hot oven.

Cheese Fingers.

These are excellent to serve with the salad course. Blend one-fourth pound soft American cheese with one tablespoon tomato catsup, add one tablespoon butter, a dash of cayenne and a little salt. Spread over very thin slices of bread, cut each slice in strips one inch wide and toast quickly in a hot oven. Serve at once.

SCALLOPED APPLES

Nice Accompaniment for Almost Any Meat or Fowl.

Put three tablespoons butter in a saucepan, and in it heat three cups soft bread crumbs. Do not allow the crumbs to brown.

Mix one quart sliced apples with one-half cup sugar, one-fourth teaspoon cinnamon, one-half teaspoon nutmeg and one-half cup water.

Put one-fourth of the crumbs in the bottom of a baking dish, add about half of the apples, then one-fourth of the bread crumbs and the remaining apples.

Cover with the remaining crumbs. Bake in a slow oven about four hours. Serve with orange sauce.

PLANNING MENUS FOR THE FAMILY MEALS

Roast Fresh Ham and Cheese and Fruit Ring Salad On Sunday's Menu.

In planning this week's meals try, first of all, to introduce variety in the manner of serving some of our everyday foods and in the combinations of flavors used. The early spring vegetables, rhubarb, and strawberries are appearing more frequently on market stands and while they are still high in price, housewives can feel justified in using them ocassionally as a treat because of the interest they give to meal time. Like all foods their flavor is really best when they are strictly in season, but they seldom taste quite so good as when we have them for the first time after a long winter.

The problem of Lenten meals is occupying the mind of many a housekeeper these days and she is on the lookout for sugestions that can be applied to meatless menus Many of these will be found in the meal plan given for the week and meals planned for Wednesday and Friday have been selected especially to meet these needs. Generally speaking the luncheons are made up of vegetables or a salad with a simple dessert. Eggs are cheaper in price and can be used more freely, and as they supply valuable nutritive qualities, they should have a large place in the family dietary. We have used them more liberally this week in breakfast menus and in cooking.

A roast fresh ham supplies a welcome change in the meat line from the varieties used for the last few weeks. If the family is large a small, whole hame is the most economical; if there are only three or four members half a ham will be sufficient. In either case be sure you ask for young pork. Have the bone removed so that the meat may be stuffed. Make the stuffing by mixing two cups of stale, dry bred crumbs with half cup finely cut celery, one tablespoon minced onion, one tablespoon minced parsley, one and a half teaspoons salt, one-quarter teaspoon pepper and one tart apple finely chopped. Next add one teaspoon poultry seasoning and enough boiling water to moisten the mixture. Stuff the cavity in the ham and fasten with toothpicks or skewers. Place the ham in the roasting pan with the rind up, having it clashed in little squares. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and flour and roast in a hot oven for 30 minutes. Reduce the heat and continue cooking, allowing 30 minutes for each pound. If the ham is basted during cooking with sweet cider or wit ha mixture of unsweetened grape juice and water—equal parts—it will have a very delicious flavor. Use two cups of cider and baste about four times.

Plum sauce made from canned plums is tart enough in flavor to blend delightfully with the pork, and offers a change from the usual apple or cranberry sauce.

For Sunday night a jellied cheese and fruit salad ring gives variety in the serving of these everyday foods. Cottage or cream cheese is best, using one-half pound for five servings. Rub the cheese through a strainer to make it very smooth and mix with 1½ cups rich milk, one teaspoon sugar, one-half teaspoon paprika and the same of salt. Next add two tablespoons lemon juice and two tablespoons gelatine that has been soaked in one-quarter cup cold water for 10 minutes and dissolved over hot water. When well blended fold in one-half cup cream whipped stiff and pour into a ring mold. Chill, turn out and fill the center with three cups mixed fresh or canned fruit. A combination of diced oranges, fresh pineapple, canned pears and grapes with a few chopped toasted almonds is good. Garnish with small lettuce leaves and serve with golden fruit dressing made as follows: Beat two eggs and mix with ⅓ cup mixed orange and lemon juice and three tablespoons sugar. Cook in a double boiler, stirring constantly, until thickened. Set in cold water to cool. This is excellent with any fruit salad.

Maple Sweet Potatoes.

Boil or steam long, narrow sweet potatoes in their jackets until almost tender. Remove the skins, cut in lengthwise slices and brown them quickly in deep, hot fat Drain on brown paper, transfer to a shallow baking dish, dust sparingly with a little salt and granulated sugar and pour over a tablespoon of maple syrup for each slice of potato. Bake in a hot oven for five minutes.

COTTAGE CHEESE PIE

This is a tasty Lenten dish which is well worth trying.

The ingredients needed are two-thirds cup sugar, three eggs, jar cream or cottage cheese, two-thirds cup milk or cream, one tablespoon cornstarch, one tablespoon butter and one teaspoon vanilla.

Mix two-thirds cup of sugar with one tablespoon of cornstarch and a pinch of salt. Separate the egg yolks, add one tablespoon butter, one teaspoon vanilla, beat thoroughly and add sugar and cornstarch. Then add cream cheese and two-thirds cup of cream of milk and whip up the mixture thoroughly. Beat egg whites and fold in the mixtures. Bake in hot oven, one-half hour.

INEXPENSIVE DINNER FOR A GUEST MEAL

A Company Meal Must Necessarily Make a Good Appearance.

The following menu is suggested as an inexpensive one for the housekeeper who wishes to entertain without a great outlay of time or money. Most home cooks like to dress up company meals a bit, yet there are times when the question of expense is a very vital factor. The time has passed when a company meal means that the table must be loaded down with the richest and the most elaborate dishes. True hospitality is just as readily expressed in a simple meal where the foods are carefully selected, perfectly cooked and daintily served. These, after all, are the most necessary requirements.

The menu presented is planned for the woman who has to depend on her own efforts for the preparation and serving of the meal. Almost all of it can be prepared long enough in advance to avoid any last-minute rush.

MENU:
Tomato bouillon with cream
Baked ham with orange sauce
Baked stuffed potatoes Buttered fresh peas
Deep dish rhubarb pie with hard sauce
Coffee Tea Milk

If serving four or six people, it will probably be better to use a very thick slice of ham, or use one of the small ready-cooked canned hams that are so delicious. These may be had in the half size and are certainly convenient, as all they need is reheating.

Tomato bouillon may be made in the morning and reheated in the double boiler for serving. The potatoes may be baked and stuffed and then reheated.

Most of the foods make use of the oven, as this often saves confusion and is a better method when foods have to be kept hot.

Tomato Bouillon.

Put one quart of canned tomatoes and one cup of water in a saucepan with a medium sized sliced onion, a stalk of celery, one-half teaspoon sugar, one teaspoon salt and two whole cloves. Boil slowly for 30 mniutes, then strain, rubbing the pulp through a fine strainer. Thicken very slightly with one tablespoon of flour, mixed to a smooth paste with a little cold water. Taste to be sure the bouillon is well seasoned and serve hot in bouillon cups with a large spoonful of whipped, slightly salted cream on top.

The orange sauce for the baked ham gives quite a novelty touch to this rather prosaic food. Melt two tablespoons of butter, add two tablespoons of flour and when well blended, stir in one cup of cold water. Stir constantly over a slow fire until thickened, and then add the grated rind of one orange, one-half cup of orange juice, one tablespoon lemon juice and one-half cup of diced firm orange pulp. Stir very lightly and reheat in a double boiler.

Reheat the ham by removing it from the can, placing it in a covered roaster and cooking in a hot oven for 35 minutes. If the uncooked ham is used, buy a slice about two inches thick, place it in a baking dish and cover with equal parts of milk and water. Cover the dish and bake in a slow oven for one hour. Uncover and brown slightly on top before serving.

Boil the peas with one or two sprigs of fresh mint and add a teaspoon of sugar to the water. Cooked in this way they will have quite a different flavor.

Bake the potatoes and when done, cut a slice from the top of each, scoop out the inside and mash with butter, milk, salt and pepper. Season lightly with a tablespoon of minced parsley and a few drops of Worcestershire sauce. Stuff the potato shells with this and reheat before serving.

DAINTY BANANA TARTS

When a Festive Dessert Is Wanted, Try This Recipe.

Another way to make a quick dessert, if the tart shells are baked, is to fill the shells with the whipped cream highly seasoned with the mashed banana.

Mash the banana and add it to three-fourths of the whipped cream, then fill the shells and top with the plain sweetened whipped cream.

The bananas give a dark, flecked appearance through the cream, so it makes a more attractive tart when enough of the cream is left white to place on the tops of the tarts.

WHOLE WHEAT BISCUITS

Quite a Pleasant Change From the Ordinary Biscuit.

Mix and sift two cups whole wheat flour, one teaspoon salt, four teaspoons baking powder and two tablespoons sugar.

Add one-quarter cup melted butter or other shortening to two-thirds cup milk and stir into the dry ingredients. The dough should be soft.

Turn out on a lightly floured board, pat and roll and cut into biscuits.

Place on a baking sheet, brush over with melted butter and bake about 15 minutes in a hot oven.

Corn Omelet.

Separate four eggs, beat yolks until thick; add four tablespoons milk, one-half cup drained stewed corn, one-half cup bread crumbs, one-half teaspoon salt. Add one-half teaspoon salt to whites of four eggs; beat until stiff. Fold egg whites into first mixture; heat frying pan, grease well, and cook slowly over low flame until set. When mixture is sufficiently set, place omelet in oven for a few minutes to brown. Fold left side over right and turn out on hot platter; garnish with parsley.

TASTY OYSTER MAIN DISH

Housewives Will Find This Something Entirely Different.

The Southern School of Cookery features this way of serving oysters.

Gumbo Oysters.

Take one pint oysters, one tablespoon minced onion, one tablespoon flour, one cup chicken broth, one teaspoon minced green peppers, one cup cooked or canned okra, one cup tomatoes, salt and pepper to taste, small crackers and a one-inch cube of salt pork cut into small dice.

Saute the diced salt pork with minced onion until nicely browned, add the flour, and when well blended, put in the broth, minced green pepper and cooked okra and tomatoes. Season with salt and pepper and strain in the oyster liquor.

When this is hot, put in the oysters, and as soon as they are plump, pour the mixture over the hot crackers.

HEART TEA BISCUITS

Mix and sift one quart flour, eight teaspoons baking powder, and two teaspoons salt. Work in three-fourths cup butter with tips of fingers or two forks. Add one pint rich milk and mix to a dough. Turn out on a lightly floured board, pat, roll about one-quarter inch thick and cut with a small heart shaped cutter. Place on a baking sheet and bake in a hot oven about 12 minutes.

Hostess DEVIL'S FOOD BAR today!

By Alice Adams Proctor

RICH with butter and chocolate . . . and fresh as if it had come out of your own oven this morning, this Hostess Devil's Food Bar makes everybody cake-hungry just to look at it. And it's a big long cake—enough for everyone to have two or three generous slices!

As soon as you cut it you can tell that here at last is devil's food that's better than most home-made. Every crumb is soft and tender and darkly rich . . . and all over top and sides there is a deep, fudge-like frosting, wonderfully thick and delicious!

Why Hostess Devil's Food is so Good

Only the finest tested ingredients are good enough for Hostess Cakes. Specially milled and blended flour, eggs carefully inspected, butter that tests "90 score." Even the sugar must be 99.7% pure. And the finest quality chocolate—not cocoa—is used in both cake and frosting.

Ingredients such as these are found only in the best home kitchens. They would actually cost you more than the price of this cake—and think of being sure of perfect results, think of the work and time you save!

You'll find that the other kinds of Hostess Cakes are equally delicious. The Layer Cakes—Cocoanut and Pineapple and Chocolate—are great favorites. Also our Lemon Loaf, made with freshly crushed lemons. And those good old-fashioned Hostess Cup Cakes (2 for 5¢) frosted with vanilla or chocolate icing.

Hostess Cakes are delivered to stores so promptly and so often that we can give you a money-back guarantee of freshness on every one of these cakes. Read the guarantee below. And be sure your grocer understands it is Hostess Cake you want.

GENERAL BAKING COMPANY

TASTY FILLINGS FOR HOMEMADE PIES

Made From Fruit and Custard for Double and Single Crust Pies.

Pie crust must be good but the filling is also an important item, and unless it is well flavored and of the right texture, it can spoil the best pie crust made.

Fillings may be divided into the fruit, the custard and the fruit combination groups.

In the first, the fruit is usually cooked with the pie, though occasionally, a single crust, previously baked, is filled with fresh sugared berries and served without cooking the fruit.

The custard group includes the real custards and those that are made with a thickening of corn starch or flour. Cocoanut, chocolate, butterscotch and plain custard pie are in this group.

The fruit combinations are many and varied, including the lemon and pineapple mixtures.

Apricot Pie.

Line a pie plate with pastry and fill with well drained stewed apricots that have been sweetened to taste. Grate the rind of half a lemon over the apricots and sprinkle with one-half cup of thinly sliced dates. Cover with a top crust and press the edges firmly together, using a fork. Trim the edges and prick the top crust in several places with a fork. Bake in a hot oven for 15 minutes, then reduce the heat and continue baking for 20 minutes longer or until well browned. In most ovens, it is best to put the lower shelf about two inches from the bottom of the oven and to cook the pie on this lower shelf.

Butterscotch Pie.

This is an old fashioned favorite and belongs to the custard group. Roll pie crust to an eight-inch thickness and shape it over an inverted deep pie pan. Press the edges and prick the crust all over with a fork. If this is not done, it will not keep its shape, but will bake in large bubbles. Bake in a hot oven for 15 minutes. Slip from the pan and let cool. Make the filling as follows: Beat the yolks of two eggs and mix them with one and one-half cups of milk. Mix one cup of dark brown sugar with one-quarter teaspoon of salt, three tablespoons of flour, two tablespoons of butter, the milk and eggs, one teaspoon of vanilla and four tablespoons of powdered sugar. Stir constantly over a slow fire until thickened and boiling. Beat the whites of the eggs until stiff and whip them into the cooked filling. Cool slightly, pour into the baked pie shells and set aside to cool. Just before serving spread with slightly sweetened whipped cream.

Lemon Pie Filling.

Mix one cup of sugar with three tablespoons of cornstarch and stir in the beaten yolks of three eggs, the grated rind of one lemon and two cups of boiling water. Stir constantly over a slow fire until smooth, thickened, transparent and boiling. Remove from the fire, add one tablespoon butter and one-half cup of lemon juice. Pour into a baked pie shell and cool. Whip the whites of the eggs until stiff and beat in four tablespoons of powdered sugar. Spread in a thick layer over the pie and bake for eight to 10 minutes in a very moderate oven. If the meringue is cooked too quickly, it will be tough and thin instead of fluffy and tender.

Cranberry Pie.

Wash three cups of dark red cranberries and chop them coarsely. Mix with one cup of seedless raisins, three-fourths cup of sugar, three tablespoons of flour and the grated ring of half a lemon. Line a pie plate with pastry and fill with the cranberry mixture. Cut the rest of the pastry in inch wide strips and place them criss-cross over the top of the pie. Bake in a hot oven for 40 minutes.

FAVORITE APPLE DISHES

Fruit Particularly Wholesome This Season of the Year.

This is the very time of year that cooked apple dishes are most acceptable.

Apple Fritters.

Make plain batter. Take four large, sound apples; peel, core and quarter. Dip each quarter in batter, and fry to light brown in deep hot fat. Each fritter will at first sink to the bottom of the kettle; then as the heat starts baking powder into action and dough begins to swell, it will rise to surface, and should be gently turned, the turning to be repeated until fritter is finely colored. Most fritters are done within five minutes, time needed to cook them being determined by one which should be cooked as a tester.

CHEESE TOAST WITH BACON IS TEMPTING

Makes a Nutritious Luncheon With the Addition of a Fruit Salad.

Cheese toast with bacon is excellent in flavor and is satisfying enough to form the main part of a meal. An apple and celery salad or an orange and date salad may be served with it, as dessert.

Milk is a growing food, that is, it supplies those substances that are necessary for growth and development. Cheese is made from milk, and it too, is a growing food. Since it contains the solid part of milk without a large proportion of water, it is richer in protein—the growth element—than milk. Therefore, a combination of milk and cheese is a very nutritious one.

Cheese Toast.

To make cheese toast for four people, use four large slices of bread, two cups of white sauce, one-half cup of grated cheese and eight thin slices of bacon.

Put four tablespoons of butter in a sauce pan. Measure four tablespoons of flour, and put them in a small bowl or cup. Measure two cups of milk. Melt the butter, and when it is bubbling add the flour and stir constantly over a slow fire until smooth. Then add the milk slowly, still stirring. Keep the fire low and continue the stirring until the sauce is thickened, smooth and boiling. Place this saucepan of sauce in a larger pan of hot water. Add one-half cup of grated American cheese to the sauce with one teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon paprika and one-half teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Let this keep hot over the hot water.

Heat a frying pan, put the bacon in and cook carefully until crisp. Then place the cooked bacon on a plate in the oven.

Make four slices of toast and place each one on a hot plate. Cover with a generous amount of sauce and put two pieces of bacon on each slice. Serve as soon as possible.

Coffee Cream Sauce.

Combine two slightly beaten eggs with one-fourth cup sugar, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon cocoa. Stir in one cup clear strong coffee and cook over boiling water until mixture coats the spoon. Strain and chill. To serve, fold in one-half cup cream, whipped.

BAKED CORN BEEF HASH

Tempting When Served With Rich Tomato Sauce.

Turn out contents of two small cans of corned beef into a greased loaf pan. Press into shape in pan. Cover with six strips of bacon and bake in a hot oven of 400 degrees Fahrenheit for 20 minutes, or until the bacon is brown.

Meanwhile make a sauce by blending two tablespoonfuls of melted butter with two tablespoonfuls of flour. Mix until smooth and add one can of tomato soup to which enough water has been added to make two cupfuls. When smooth add one teaspoonful each of Worcestershire sauce and chopped relish.

Turn out corned beef on a serving dish and pour the sauce around it; garnish with parsley.

Humiliating

—these troubles that come from harsh, non-absorbent toilet tissue

AILMENTS of this kind bring mental as well as physical suffering. For these are troubles one must bear in secret.

Yet millions have them. In fact, doctors estimate that over 65 per cent of all middle-aged men and women suffer from some form of rectal disease.

How are these troubles caused?

In many cases, inferior toilet tissue is directly responsible. 580 doctors and 223 hospitals, recently questioned on the subject, agreed that "harsh toilet tissue may cause serious injury."

ScotTissue, Sani-Tissue and Waldorf are famous bathroom tissues specially processed to satisfy the three requirements doctors say toilet tissue must have to be safe: absorbency—softness—chemical purity. Each sheet is made up of millions of "thirsty fibres."

These specially treated fibres are extremely soft and cloth-like. Crumple a sheet in your hand. It feels as suave as old linen.

Roll it into a little ball and drop it in water. It sinks almost instantly—proof of unusual absorbency. Ordinary toilet tissue remains floating.

Only the finest fresh materials go into Scott Tissues. They are neither acid nor alkaline in reaction. Each sheet is fully sterilized in manufacture.

Children use Scott Tissues easily; the sheets tear squarely at the perforations. The rolls are closely wrapped to fit the standard built-in fixtures. Why take chances—when it costs no more to buy these fine quality toilet tissues.

NOTE: ScotTissue and Waldorf are the two largest selling brands in the world . . . Sani-Tissue is the new popular priced white toilet tissue embodying the famous thirsty fibre qualities.

EGGS HAVE A PLACE IN THE DIETARY

Food Wisely Chosen Means Good Health and Satisfied Appetites.

Eggs are valuable not only as a source of readily available protein, fat and minerals such as phosphorus, sulphur and iron, but also for their vitamin content. The yolk of egg is as rich a source of fat soluble A as butter fat, and also contains water solubles B and C in considerable amounts.

The easy digestibility of raw or soft cooked eggs has made this form of food a favorite for the dietary of small children and convalescents. Hard cooked eggs are comparatively less digestible simply because they are in a state which requires more thorough mastication, or mechanical separation into small particles so that the digestive juices can act more readily.

Eggs attain an even more valuble place in the diet by combining with carbohydrate materials or serving with other foods rich in carbohydrate. Scrambled or poached eggs on toast serve as a very complete dish, while the eggs alone would be out of balance due to the lack of carbohydrate.

In cooking, no other one material serves such numeorus uses as eggs. They are depended upon for thickening liquids as in the case of custards, for providing the structure of cakes, for lightness as in souffles as well as for supplying flavor and color in all sorts of food.

Household Care of Eggs.

Bacterial action is the principal cause of egg spoilage.

Egg shells in their natural state are coated with a thin transparent covering, which serves as a protection against the invasion of bacteria. This covering is easily soluble in water and is removed when the eggs are washed, leaving the porous shell exposed. For this reason, washing of the eggs should be postponed, if possible, until just before using.

Eggs should be kept in a cool place, preferably in the refrigerator, as low temperatures discourage the development of bacteria.

Egg yolks or whites may be kept for a considerable length of time after removing from the shell if they are held in a covered container placed in the refrigerator. By covering the yolks with water, drying of the surface will be prevented.

Eggs are judged by their freshness. Though there are several successful methods of preserving eggs, there is no satisfactory substitute for fresh eggs in dishes in which eggs predominate. In spite of the fact that in some markets white eggs are preferred and in others dark ones, the color of eggs has no relation to composition or flavor.

DISHES MADE WITH HONEY HAVE APPETITE APPEAL

Persons Having an Appreciation of Flavor in Foods Enjoy Honey.

Cooking with honey offers different flavored dishes from those which the average family partakes of year in and year out.

Honey pudding, for instance, which is made with one-fourth cup butter, two-thirds cup honey, one-half cup milk, one egg, one cup puffed raisins, one-half cup bran, one cup flour, one-half teaspoon soda and one-half teaspoon salt.

Cream butter and honey; add milk and well-beaten egg and floured raisins. Then add the bran and flour sifted with soda and salt. Put in greased mold and steam for two hours. Serve with sauce.

Orange Charlotte.

Ingredients needed are three teaspoons gelatine, one-fourth cup cold water, one-half cup boiling water, one cup honey, one lemon, one cup orange juice, three egg whites and lady fingers or sponge cake.

Soak gelatine in cold water and dissolve in hot water. Add honey, lemon juice and orange juice. When congealed beat well and add beaten egg whites. Pour into mold lined with lady fingers or sponge cake cut in strips. Chill and serve.

Salmon Salad Sandwich.

One cup salmon, one-half cup diced celery, one-quarter cup mayonnaise, dressing. Mix salmon, diced celery and dressing and allow to chill. Spread between buttered slices of bread on which lettuce leaf has been placed.

Chopped shrimps may be substituted for salmon.

The Famous North Woods Recipe . . .

A layer of beans
A layer of pork
A layer of beans
A cup of brown sugar
A cup of molasses

The real buried treasure of the far forests is ready for your dinner tonight. For Van Camp's has not only reproduced the "bean hole" beans recipe but added is the flavor-rich taste of "outdoor" cooking to stir jaded appetites and make men-folks ask for more. So easy to try—just insist to your grocer—"Bean Hole Beans—of course."

Good For Its Food Value!

The creamy richness of choice, Indiana sun-ripened tomatoes—with the finest creamery butter and savory spices and seasonings make Van Camp's Tomato Soup the finest of foods for any luncheon or dinner. Its appetizing, flavory goodness is so distinctive that once you've tried it you'll always say—"Van Camp's—of course!"

UP SIDE DOWN CAKE OF GINGERBREAD

This Pastry Is Good With Whipped Cream or With Melted Cheese.

Spicy, fragrant gingerbread, dark and soft and luscious—most of us have to admit its spell, and diets or no diets, everyone welcomes its appearance! Furthermore, there are varieties of this bread that is more like a cake that will satisfy all tastes—whether one desires something rich and delectable or a plainer sort to eat "out of hand" with a glass of milk, buttermilk or tangy lemonade.

For general all-round purposes the following recipe is good, for it may be baked in a pan about three inches thick, cut in squares and served plain or with whipped cream, a chocolate or hard sauce, or it may be baked in layers and put together with a fruit filling and a topping of whipped cream or an orange or cocoanut icing; it may be baked in cup cake pans and iced with chocolate, cocoanut or nut icing.

If it should happen that there is gingerbread left over and it becomes slightly stale, cut it in squares, split the squares and place thin slices of American cheese over each square. Heat this until the cheese melts and then serve at once with large cups of good coffee and there will be a demand to make extra gingerbread just to have it grow stale!

Soft Gingerbread.

Cream together one-fourth cup of fat and three-fourths cup soft brown sugar. The more these two are worked together the finer textured the gingerbread will be. When thoroughly blended add one egg and beat until smooth. Then stir in one cup of dark molasses and two-thirds cup of boiling water. Sift together two and one-half cups of flour, one teaspoon baking soda, two teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt, two teaspoons ginger, one teaspoon cinnamon and one-half teaspoon each allspice and cloves. Stir this into the liquid mixture and beat until smooth. Pour into a greased baking pan that is about three inches deep. Bake in a moderate oven for 35 minutes.

Serve warm with whipped cream or in any of the ways described above. It is delicious when cut in squares and a hot chocolate sauce poured over it.

Hot Chocolate Sauce.

Mix together one cup of sugar and one tablespoon flour and stir in three-fourths cup of milk. Heat slowly to the boiling point, stirring until the sugar is dissolved. Add two squares of unsweetened chocolate cut in pieces and one teaspoon butter. Continue stirring until the chocolate is melted and the mixture blended. Boil for five minutes and remove from the fire. Flavor with one teaspoon of vanilla and a few grains of salt. This may be reheated whenever necessary.

An excellent variation on this gingerbread recipe is made by combining it with pineapple to make an "upsidedown cake."

To do this melt two tablespoons of butter in a heavy iron frying pan. Then pour in two tablespoons of molasses or three tablepsoons of brown sugar. Spread this over the pan and then place slices of canned pineapple (the small size is best) close together all over the bottom of the pan. Sprinkle whole pecan nut meats in the spaces between the pineapple. Pour enough of the gingerbread batter in the pan to fill it three-fourths full. Bake in a moderate oven for 40 minutes.

Then turn out on a large plate and serve warm with a sauce made from the pineapple juice. The batter that is left over may be baked in small cup cake tins and served another day with a marshmallow icing.

This same gingerbread recipe may be poured into individual pudding molds and steamed for an hour. This gives a different texture to the baked gingerbread and makes a delicious pudding.

One cup of raisins or a mixture of raisins and dates may be added to the batter to make a fruit pudding. Serve this with a hard and liquid sauce.

BAKED FILLETED FLAT FISH KNOWN AS FILET OF SOLE

Whichever Name Is Used, The Dish Is Both Appetizing and Wholesome.

Flatfish is a name applied to a large group of fishes which have the body compressed, both eyes on one side of the head. The blind side usually is colorless, resting on the water bed. A name often applied to the flounder family. Flatfish are white-meated, lean food fish.

This fish is usually sold filleted. Often sold as filet of sole, and cooked as such.

Baked Filleted Flatfish.

Fillets of flatfish may be purchased in most of the markets, or flatfish, such as flounder, will be filleted by the market man while you wait.

Cut fillets in portions for serving. Dip each piece in melted butter or oil. Chop one good-sized onion, two stalks celery and one young carrot very fine. Sprinkle well with salt and pepper. Spread over top of fish. To one-half cup dry bread crumbs add two tablespoonfuls melted butter, two tablespoonfuls Parmesan cheese. Top the vegetables with the crumbs. Pour one-half cup of hot water in dish around the fish. Bake in moderate oven 40 minutes.

MAKE A PUMPKIN SOUFFLE

This Dish Is One of the Latest Culinary Achievements.

A pumpkin souffle is new and makes a very appetizing luncheon or Sunday night supper dish.

Make one cup of thick white sauce and mix with it one-half cup of grated soft cheese, the yolks of three well-beaten eggs and salt and pepper to season. Next add one cup canned pumpkin and then fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites.

Pour into a well greased baking dish that is about three inches deep. Bake in a moderately hot oven for 40 minutes or until well puffed, firm and brown. Serve at once.

Thought for the Day.

It should be kept in mind that any general diet rules that are given are more or less general, and almost always have to be modified or changed in some way to suit different individuals. Seldom are any two people constituted alike, and seldom are their dietary problems exactly similar.

Italian Lamb.

Cut into small pieces leftover lamb. Place in a greased baking dish alternate layers of meat, cooked spaghetti and tomato. Season with salt and pepper. Repeat until dish is full. Pour the meat gravy over this and if not moist enough add a litle hot water. Sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs and bake one hour in a moderate oven.

Here's The Way To Judge Bread...
This test-by-toasting quickly reveals true bread quality
Make It With Your Own Toaster

All-round quality and goodness proved by the evenly browned, smooth-textured toast your loaf makes

"Yes, Ma'am, white or whole-wheat as you prefer."

THE test suggested here will quickly give you a sound way to judge true bread quality right in your own home.

You are the only judge of the winning bread. You alone see and taste it.

How You Make Test

Place a slice of Wonder Bread in your toaster and toast until it's the even golden brown you prefer. Until it's as crisp as you like it. Check carefully the actual toasting time. Then toast a slice of any other bread the same length of time.

Compare Them

Now compare the rich, golden-brown Wonder toast with the other. Note the evenly browned surface and the lack of scorched edges. And note, too, how much more quickly Wonder Bread toasted!

Then break the Wonder toast. Notice the delicate bread fragrance. Now try the other slice. Taste a bit of each.

In a few minutes you will have proved—that slo-baked bread is best. Not only for toast, but for every purpose.

There is no secret to Wonder Bread success in these tests. It makes better toast, is better to eat, because it is beyond question the finest bread baked today.

This superiority you find in Wonder Bread is in no small part due to its ingredients. Every year we spend $2,000,000 extra for super quality ingredients. A specially milled "short patent" flour is used—made from the very heart of the nutritious wheat berry. Also double the usual quantity of milk, twice pasteurized. And the purest sugar.

Every Loaf Slo-Baked

Then Wonder Bread is slo-baked. By means of this special process the natural flavor of the rich, wholesome ingredients is sealed in, and the freshness prolonged.

In order to fully appreciate what Wonder Bread offers to you, try it yourself for one week. Note how much better it is for all your housekeeping needs. And remember, it costs no more than you're now paying.

A fish salad made of lobster, tuna, crab or even salmon with the salad dressing included is easily served when formed into individual molds.

Or a very attractive platter can be made of such a salad molded from a fish mold and appropriately garnished with strips of pimento, slices of stuffed olives and ripe olives, celery curls and radish roses.

If fish is not desirable as salad try molded egg and vegetable salad. Great originality can be worked out with this salad by arranging slices of egg and vegetables in various patterns in the mold.

Potato chips or chow mein noodles plus baking powder biscuits or brown bread sandwiches are the only necessary accompaniment with such salads.

MAPLE SYRUP FLAVOR USED IN COOKERY

Maple sugar flavor is becoming one of the favorite flavors for dessert sweets. However the word sugar has been dropped and the flavor is known as maple flavor.

Maple syrup is used very generally for imparting maple flavor to cakes, puddings and candies as these recipes will demonstrate.

Maple Nut Cake.

Ingredients needed are one-fourth cup butter, one-third cup sugar, one cup milk, one-half cup maple syrup, two eggs, two and one-half cups pastry flour, one-fourth teaspoon salt, four teaspoons baking powder, and one-fourth teaspoon ginger.

Cream the shortening and sugar. Add well beaten egg yolks then add the sifted dry ingredients alternately with the milk. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Put oiled paper in the bottom of cake pan but do not oil sides. Bake one-half hour in a moderate oven. Ice with maple frosting.

Maple Frosting.

One cup maple syrup, two egg white and one-half cup chopped pecan or walnut meats.

Boil the syrup until it spins a heavy thread. Pour over stiffly beaten egg whites beating constantly. Beat until it will pile up. For a creamy icing add two teaspoons of butter.

Sprinkle the chopped nut meats over the icing on the top of the cake and on the sides.

Maple Cottage Pudding.

One and one-third cups pastry flour, three-fourths cups sugar, two teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon vanilla, pinch of cream of tartar, three-fourths teaspoon salt, one-half cup milk, two eggs, one-half cup melted butter and one-half cup finely chopped nut meats.

Sift dry ingredients including the sugar. Make a hollow in the center and add eggs beaten well with cream of tartar, milk, butter and flavoring. Beat well. Pour in a deep oiled pan two-thirds cup syrup and two tablespoons cold water. Pour in batter without mixing.

Bake in a moderate oven 30 minuets. Turn out on serving platter and sprinkle with chopped nuts. Serve with whipped cream. Sliced pineapple, peaches or other fruit may be put into syrup mixture before the batter is added.

Maple Nut Sauce.

Two cups maple syrup, one cup thin cream or evaporated milk, one teaspoon melted butter, one-half cup chopped pecan or walnut meats.

Mix syrup, butter and cream. Cook slowly until it forms a soft ball in cold water. Keep warm over a pan of hot water until ready to serve. Pour over coffee, vanilla or lemon ice cream or sherbets. Sprinkle top of each dish with nuts, chopped fine.

Apple Caramel Tapioca.

Take one-half cup tapioca, one and one-half cups maple syrup, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon vanilla, one teaspoon grated lemon rind, two cups boiling water and two cups chopped apples.

Soak tapioca overnight. Combine all ingredients in an oiled baking dish. Bake one hour or until the tapioca is transparent. Have covered during the first half of baking. Serve with cream.

TEMPTING TOMATO CHOWDER

Favorite Dish for a Meatless Dinner or Luncheon.

This is a nice main dish for a Lenten meal. To make it take four tablespoons each of fine chopped onion, green peppers, carrots and turnips; one cup boiling water, one teaspoon salt, four tablespoons butter, three tablespoons flour, two tablespoons brown sugar and three cups stewed tomatoes.

Cook finely chopped vegetables in boiling water and salt 10 minutes. Remove from fire and stir in creamed butter nad flour.

Add sugar and tomatoes and stir into first mixture. Reheat in top of double boiler. Serve with cracknels or oyster crackers.

CARDS LOSE THEIR PUNCH AND DROP FINAL WITH YANKEES 9 TO 1

ROOKIE CHAPMAN LEADS ATTACK FOR NEW YORK; GOOD PITCHING BY HAINES AND GRABOWSKI WASTED

By J. Roy Stockton

Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 21.—The Cardinals lost to the New York Yankees here this afternoon in their final spring meeting, but took the series, two games to one.

The score was 9 to 1.

Jess Haines worked three innings and was charged with four hits and two runs, but one of the scores followed a break of fortune when Sparky Adams tried to catch a base runner advancing on a grounder and was late with his throw. Grabowski succeeded Haines in the box.

Street's men made four hits off Ed Wells in four innings, but were unable to count. A double play stopped them in the second.

They were unable to do anything against Shend, and after Grabowski had pitched three innings, in which he allowed only one mark, Jim Lindsey went to the box for the Red Birds, and the American Leaguers batted him hard, piling up runs.

About 1700 persons attended.

The game:

FIRST INNING—CARDINALS—Douthit's high fly dropped between Combs and Lazzeri for a single. High fanned. Adams struck out. Lazzeri threw out Bottomley.

YANKEES — Combs singled to right. Koenig forced Combs, Adams to Gelbert. Ruth flied to Roettger. Gehrig grounded to Adams, whose attempt to get Koenig at second failed, and both runners were safe. Lazzeri singled to center, scoring Koenig and putting Gehrig on third. Haines threw out Cocke. ONE RUN.

SECOND — CARDINALS — Hafey doubled to right. Roettger grounded to Koenig and Hafey was out, Koenig to Chapman, when he tried to go to third. Gelbert hit into a double play, Lazzeri to Koenig to Gehrig.

YANKEES—Chapman doubled into the left field bleachers. High threw out Dickey, Chapman going to third. Wells flied to Douthit, Chapman scoring after the catch. Combs walked. Koenig singled to center and when Douthit fumbled the ball Combs went to third and Koenig to second. Ruth flied to Hafey. ONE RUN.

THIRD—CARDINALS — Smith fouled to Dickey. Haines flied to Cooke. Douthit singled off Koenig's shins. High singled over second Douthit going to third. Adams fouled to Gehrig.

YANKEES—Adams threw out Gehrig. Lazzeri fouled to High. Cooke flied to Roettger.

FOURTH — CARDINALS—Bottomley flied to Combs. Hafey flied to Ruth. Roettger singled past Koenig. Gelbert singled off Wells' glove, Roettger stopping at second. Smith flied to Ruth.

St. Louis U. High Five Loses to Decatur, 19 to 17 in National Catholic Tourney

CHICAGO, March 21.—The St. Louis University High School was eliminated fkrom the National Catholic Interscholastic Basketball tournament at Loyola University here this afternoon when it was nosed out, 19 to 17, in its second round contest by Catholic High School of Decatur, Ind.

The teams were never more than four points apart at any stage of the contest, St. Louis leading 5 to 4 at the end of the first quarter and the score being tied, 7 to 7, at the half, and 11 to 11 at the end of the third quarter.

The long shooting of Shea and Minette, who contributed two field goals apiece, kept St. Louis in the running for most of the game, but Gass, Decatur forward, dropped in two baskets at critical moments in the final quarter to beat the St. Louisans.

The slow-breaking, cautious offensives of both the St. Louis and Decatur teams made taking the ball far past mid-floor difficult in the early stages of the first period, Shea being the first of the St. Louisans to get a shot from beneath the net. Harris hacked Shea as he was attempting to make the basket and he sent St. Louis away in the lead by sinking one of the two free throws he was awarded.

Minette put through a field goal on an out-of-bounds play beneath the basket a minute later. Harris made the first Decatur marker, a long field goal from the side line, but Connors maintained the St. Louis three-point lead by dribbling in to tip in a basket. Gass scored a basket from short range as the first quarter ended with St. Louis leading, 5 to 4.

Lose arched a field goal through from past mid-floor to send Decatur into the lead as soon as the second quarter began, and Gass added a free throw when he was blocked by Minette.

Minette tied the score at 7 to 7 with a long field goal just as the half ended.

Still Tied at Third Quarter.

Fehlig held Harris as he was attempting to shoot, and Harris dropped in both free throws to send Decatur into a two-point lead as the third quarter began. Gass, taking the ball off the Decatur back board, dribbled the length of the floor and went up to tip in a field goal that increased the Decatur margin to four points.

Fehlig put St. Louis back in the running with a basket from the free throw line, and Shea tied the score with a long field goal from the side line, the third quarter ending 11 to 11.

Decatur Takes Lead.

Shea broke the tie and put St Louis two points into the lead by opening the fourth quarter with a long field goal, but Myiatt dribbled into the free throw line to tie the score at 13 to 13 with a basket, and Gass dropped another field goal to put Decatur in front.

Gass was fouled by Fehlig and missed the free throw, but took the ball on the rebound to drop in a basket.

Minette came out of the game for instructions, being momentarily replaced by Flanagan. Connors brought St. Louis back, into the running with a long basket from the corner as Minette reentered the fray, but Myiatt balanced it off with a short field goal.

Fehlig put a field goal through from long range to make the score Decatur 19, St. Louis 17, as the final gun sounded.

De La Salle Wins.

De La Salle High of Chicago, defending champions, overcame the highest obstacle in its path to the finals, by defeating a fine team from St. Xavier High, Louisville, Ky., 11 to 9, in the opening second round contest of the Loyola University tournament.

Figured to be a great battle, the game was all of that, and the issue was not decided until late in the final period when Phil Krause, husky De La Salle forward, sank a field goal from outside the foul circle. St. Xavier led by 5 to 3 at the half and the count was even at 7-all at the close of the third period.

CARNERA STOPS ZAVITA IN ONE ROUND, BOUT IS FINANCIAL 'FLOP'

By the Associated Press.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 21.—In a fight which promoters said was a financial flop, Primo Carnera, Italian pugilist, last night disposed of Frank Zavita, Newark heavyweight, in one minute and 51 second. It was Carnera's eleventh straight knockout victory.

At the start, Zavita rushed Carnera, but the Italian floored him for a count of nine with a left uppercut. After a bit of sparring, Carnera came in again and ended the fight with a left to the head and a right ot the body. Zavita appeared nervous and did not land a solid punch during the bout.

Several thousand persons saw the fight, but the promoters, without announcing any figures, said the crowd did not come up to expectations and that they suffered a loss. Carnera weighed 275; Zavita 235.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Primo Carnera, the ambling Alp, plans to continue his "fungo hitting," through the Mid-West and along the Pacific Coast, following an engagement in Jacksonville, Fla., last night.

Carnera's playmates have not been named, but it was disclosed that he will box in Kansas City March 26 and Denver a week later. He is then booked for engagements in Seattle, Oakland, San Francisco and Los Angeles. So far in his American appearances Primo has wiped out 11 heavyweights for a net profit of about $100,600.

PAROCHIAL FIVES IN QUARTERFINAL ROUND OF MEET

The quarter finals in the Parochial School basketball tournament will be played this afternoon and tonight at the St. Louis University High School gymnasium.

Action will begin at 3 o'clock, when the Holy Innocents quintet opposes the St. Rochs aggregation. St. Edwards will meet St. Michaels at 4 o'clock. The Blessed Sacrament five will go against the St. Adelbert's squad at 7 o'clock and the final game of the quarter finals, at 8 o'clock, will bring together St. Francis Xavier and Visitation.

St. Edwards, which won the tournament last year, are the favorites in the present tournament. They are expected to defeat the St. Michaels boys and then go on through to the finals.

CONTINENTALS WIN JUNIOR GIRLS' MUNY BASKETBALL TITLE

Herman Holshouser, the big right-hander from whom Manager Killefer expects so much, started for the Browns and was opposed by Block. Hale was back on third for the Browns with O'Rourke at short and Roetz on second. Young Ted Gullic played first.

The Browns' president flew here from St. Louis in a bit over nine hours. He landed in a corn field some distanca from the Fort Pierce airport and spent the night awaiting the arrival of his major league club. He will go to West Palm Beach and stay for two or three days.

In today's game, Barr and Gearin were the umpires.

About 200 persons saw the game.

FIRST INNING — BROWNS — McNeely popped a single to center. O'Rourke singled past second sending McNeely to third. A pass to Badgro filled the bases. Another one given to Gullic forced McNeely over with a run. Hale hit into a double play, Geygan to Turgeon to Stanton, O'Rourke scoring. Bennett singled to center scoring Badgro. Roetz singled to left, Bennett stopping at second. Manion walked, and the bases again were filled. Holshouser, ninth Brownie at bat in the inning, singled to left, scoring Bennett and Roetz. McNeely up for the second time singled to left, scoring Manion. Holshouser stopped at second and Blatz relieved Block in the box for Milwaukee. O'Rourke forced Holshouser, Geygan unassisted. SIX RUNS.

MILWAUKEE—Benton walked. Turgeon struck out. Klumpp forced Benton, Holshouser to O'Rourke. Jenkins drew a pass. Holshouser tossed out Pick.

SECOND—BROWNS — Badgro struck out. Gullic was safe when Stanton dropped Shanks throw of a tap in front of the plate. Hale forced Gullic, Blatz to Benton. Bennett singled to right, Hale stopping at second. Roetz flied to Klumpp.

MILWAUKEE—Geygan flied to Badgro. Badgro then ran to the fence in deep right center, juggled Stanton's drive and held it for the out. Shanks struck out.

THIRD — BROWNS — Manion rifice fly to Pick, O'Rourke scorrificed, Shanks to Stanton. McNeely singled to right for his third hit, Manion scoring. O'Rourke walked. Badgro also was passed and the bases were filled. Gullic walked and McNeely was forced over with a run. Hale sent a sacsingled to center. Holshauser sacing. Bennett singled to center, scoring Badgro and moving Gullic to third. Gullic and Bennett worked a double steal, the former scoring. Benton threw out Roetz. FIVE RUNS.

MILWAUKEE — Blatz was called out on strikes. Benton flied to Badgro. Turgeon was thrown out by Hale.

FOURTH — BROWNS — Strelecki, former Brownie, went in to pitch for Milwaukee. Manion flied to Pick. Holshauser struck out. McNeely was thrown out by Geygan.

MILWAUKEE — Holshauser tossed out Klumpp. Jenkins rolled to Gullic. Pick flied to Badgro.

FIFTH—BROWNS — O'Rourke singled to right. Badgro was called out on strikes. Gullic hit into a double play, Geygan to Turgeon to Stanton.

MILWAUKEE—Geygan singled to center for the first Milwaukee hit off Holshauser. Stanton followed with another, a single to right center which moved Geygan to second. Holshauser tossed out Shanks. Strelecki was called out on strikes. Benton singled to right, scoring Geygan and putting Stanton on third. Hale threw out Turgeon. ONE RUN.

SIXTH—BROWNS — Kuppisch went to left field, Rasch to center field, Vanek to third base and Bugge to short for Milwaukee. Hale was safe when Bugge dropped his fly. Bennett struck out. Roetz reached first and Hale second when Bugge fumbled Roetz' grounder. Manion doubled to left, scoring Hale and putting Roetz on third. Turgeon threw out Holshauser, Roetz scoring, Manion reaching third and O'Rourke second on a passed ball. Badgro walked, willing the bases. Gullic hit over the center field fence for a home run, scoring behind McNeely, O'Rourke and Badgro. Vanek threw out Hale. SEVEN RUNS.

MILWAUKEE — Klumpp flied to Bennett. Kuppisch flied to Badgro. Rasch was called out on strikes.

INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET AT NORTHWESTERN U. DRAWS LARGE FIELD

EVANSTON, Ill., March 21.—Track, swimming and wrestling stars from 72 high schools in eight States tuned up their strides, overhand strokes and headlocks today for Northwestern University's eighteenth annual interscholastic athletic carnival.

Preliminaries were on today's program for all three competitive classes, with the finals billed for tomorrow afternoon.

KING TUT SOUGHT FOR BOUT WITH M'LARNIN

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 21.—The Chicago Stadium had a representative here today trying to land a match between King Tut and Jimmy McLarnin for April or May.

Manager Ernie Fleigel says he is ready to make the match, but that McLarnin must make the same weight as when he fought Mandell, which was 142 pounds. Madison Square aGrden wanted Tut for Jack Berg, March 28, but his match with Tenorico here prevented. Tut will take a later date for Berg.

DOEG ADVANCES TO SOUTHERN NET FINALS

By the Associated Press.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 21.—John Hope Doeg defeated Emmett Pare of Dayton, O., holder of the National Clay Court singles championship, in the semifinal of the southeastern tennis tournament here today, 6—0, 3—6, 6—2, and 6—3, and tomorrow will meet J. Gilbert Hall, National City court doubles champion in the finals.

Hall defeated Marcelle Rainville of Montreal, Canada, today, 7—5, 6—3, 6—3.

CUE CHAMPION IN THIRD PLACE IN TITLE MEET; HALL IS LEADER

By the Associated Press.

FRENCH LICK, Ind., March 21.—With four straight victories to his credit, Joseph P. Hall of San Francisco, Pacific Coast champion, today was a favorite to win the national amateur three-cushion billiard championship in the tournament here.

Hall is the only undefeated player, being a full game ahead of Frank I. Fleming of Champaign, Ill., former national champion. Max Shimon of Milwaukee, defending title holder, is third with three games won out of five played. Hall has three games remaining, all against strong opposition. Tonight he plays Robert B. Harper of Denver, Rocky Mountain champion, and tomorrow, the final day of the tourney, must meet both Fleming and Shimon.

The San Franciscan won his fourth game last night, defeating John H. Toledano of New Orleans, Southwestern champion, by 50 to 37 in 67 innings. Fleming moved into second place by defeating Toledano, 50 to 31 in 67 innings, while Shimon was losing to A. J. Harris of Chicago, a former champion, 50 to 47 in 77 innings.

Harper stayed in the race by defeating Dr. Harris last night, 50 to 49 in the most sensational game of the tournament. The score was tied at 44, 46, 47, 48 and 49, Harper making the winning point on a difficult time shot. Bernard Fritz of Nashville, Southeastern champion, won his first game in five starts yesterday, defeating Ervin D. Tucker of Dedham, Mass., New England champion, 50 to 39 in 86 innings.

Today's schedule—11 a. m., Harris vs. Toledano; 1:30 p. m., Fleming vs. Fritz; 3:30 p. m., Harper vs Tucker; 7:15 p. m., Fleming vs. Shimon; 9 p. m., Hall vs. Harper.

Taylor Winner Over Battalino; Decision Booed

DETROIT, March 21.—Bud Taylor, veteran Terre Haute (Ind.) boxer, defeated Bat Battalino of Hartford, Conn., the featherweight champion, in a 10-round non-title bout at Olympia Arena last night.

The decision in favor of Taylor was unpopular with the crowd which raised a chorus of boos.

The Terre Haute boy scored a knockdown in the second round and the champion remained on one knee until the count of eight. This knockdown apparently was the margin by which Taylor won. Battalino piled up points steadily during succeeding rounds.

Taylor spun Battalino around with a hard left to the jaw in the seventh. The Hartford boy fought back but appeared groggy for the remainder of the round. They stood toe to toe and exchanged punches in the ninth. Battalino appeared to have the advantage excepting for Taylor's two hard blows.

Taylor weighed 127½; Battalino 127.

KANSAS CITY AND MUSKOGEE WIN TITLES IN THREE DIVISIONS

WESTERN A. A. U. RING CHAMPIONS

Jerry Jenkins, Kansas City, 112 pounds.
Joe Borich, St. Louis, unattached, 118 pounds.
Joey Parks, St. Louis, unattached, 126 pounds.
Howard Wenfrow, Muskogee, Ok., 135 pounds.
Elmer Polkinghorne, St. Louis, Downtown Y. M. C. A., 147 pounds.
Gene Parkington, East St. Louis, Knights of Columbus, 160 pounds.
Roy Jacks, Kansas City, 175 pounds.
Leslie Schulte, St. Louis, Business Men's Gymnasium, heavyweight.

NEGROES.

Henry Jackson, St. Louis, 126 pounds.
Frank Charleston, St. Louis, 135 pounds.
Henry Paul Jackson, St. Louis, 147 pounds.

Major honors in the Western A. A. U. boxing tournament at the Coliseum last night went to St. Louis, since four championships were won by boys from local gymnasiums. A fifth went to Gene Parkington of the East St. Louis Knights of Columbus, when he knocked out Joe Vernon of Muskogee, Ok., in the second round. Kansas City captured two championships and Oklahoma one. Twenty-five bouts were fought.

Two of the title matches were forfeited. In the heavyweight class Hugh Light of Kansas City was too weakened from a previous match to meet Leslie Schulte of the Business Men's Gymnasium. In the 112-pound class Herman Ross of Belleville failed to make an appearance against Jerry Jenkins of Kansas City.

The most interesting fight of the evening was that between Joey Parks and Paul Hamilton of the Haskell Indian School, which went four rounds before Parks was given the titular decision, in the 126-pound class. Parks used a mean left and neat footwork to prevent Hamilton from boring into him with the punches that enabled the Indian to shade Ed Boxley of the East Side in his previous bout.

Roy Jacks of Kansas City was given the decision over Curtis Beaver of Haskell in the 175-pound class. Beaver fought well, but failed to land the punch that put out Virgil Sehl of the North Side "Y" in the first round of a preliminary match.

Elmer Polkinghorne of the Downtown "Y" came through in the 147-pound class by eliminating Louis Vollmer of the Business Men's Gymnasium on a technical knockout in the first round and by defeating Fred Schantz of Kansas City in the final match.

Three bouts in one evening was too big an order for Martin Hoeffken of the East St. Louis Knights of Columbus, and as a result Joe Borich, unattached, won the 118-pound class. Hoeffken had previously won from Cecil Adcott of Muskogee and John Reed of Haskell, both capable boxers.

About 1500 witnessed the encounters.

The results:

Preliminary Bouts.

Doc Anderson, Haskell Institute, defeated Morgan Lindenfelter, Railroad Y. M. C. A., three rounds, judges' decision. Weight, 126 pounds.

Martin Hoeffken, East St. Louis Knights of Columbus A. C., defeated Cecil Adcott, Muskogee, Ok., three rounds, judges' decision. Weight, 118 pounds.

Elmer Polkinhorne, Downtown Y. M. C. A., defeated Louis Vollmer, Business Men's Gym, first round, technical knockout. Weight, 147 pounds.

Howard Wenfrow, Muskogee, Ok., defeated Jess Freeman, Kansas City, three rounds, judges' decision. Weight, 137 pounds.

Gene Parkington, East St. Louis Knights of Columbus A. C., defeated Harold Shapiro, Downtown Y. M. C. A., two rounds, knockout. Weight, 160 pounds.

Curtis Beaver, Haskell Institute, defeated Virgil Sehl, North Side Y. M. C. A., one round, knockout. Weight, 175 pounds.

Hugh Light, Kansas City, defeated Arthur "Babe" Davis, Jewish Community Center, four rounds, judges' decision. Heavyweights.

Joe "Peanuts" Borich, unattached, defeated Emil Stenben, Muskogee, one round, knockout. Weight, 118 pounds.

Paul Hamilton, Haskell Institute, defeated Ed Boxley, East St. Louis Knights of Columbus A. C., three rounds, judges' decision. Weight, 126 pounds.

Tom Bertrand, East St. Louis Knights of Columbus A. C., defeated William Shamsky, Y. M. H. A., one round, knockout. Weight, 135 pounds.

Carl Buck, Downtown Y. M. C. A., defeated Marcus Brown, Y. M. H. A., three rounds, judges' decision. Weight, 147 pounds.

Joe Vernon, Muskogee, defeated Sam Pamatot, East St. Louis Knights of Columbus A. C., three rounds, judges' decision. Weight, 160 pounds.

Semi-Final Bouts.

Martin Hoeffken, East St. Louis Knights of Columbus A. C., defeated John Reed, Haskell Institute, three rounds, judges' decision. Weight, 118 pounds.

Joey Parks, unattached, defeated Doc Anderson, Haskell Institute, three rounds, judges' decision. Weight, 126 pounds.

Tom Bertrand, East St. Louis Knights of Columbus A. C., defeated Paul Hamilton, Haskell Institute, three rounds, judges' decision. Weight, 125 pounds.

Final Bouts.

Roy Jacks, Kansas City, defeated Curtis Beaver, Haskell Institute, three rounds, judges' decision. Weight, 175 pounds.

Elmer Polkinghorne, Downtown Y. M. C. A., defeated Fred Schantz, Kansas City, three rounds, judges' decision. Weight, 147 pounds.

Gene Parkington, East St. Louis Knights of Columbus A. C., defeated Joe Vernon, Muskogee, two rounds, knockout. Weight, 160 pounds.

Joe "Peanuts" Borich, unattached, defeated Martin Hoeffken, East St. Louis Knights of Columbus A. C., three rounds, judges' decision. Weight, 118 pounds.

Joey Parks, unattached, defeated Paul Hamilton, Haskell Institute, four rounds, judges' decision. Weight, 126 pounds.

Leslie Schulte, Business men's Gymnasium, won on a forfeit from Hugh Light, Kansas City. Heavyweights.

Jerry Jenkins, Kansas City, won on a default. Flyweight.

Howard Wenfrow, Muskogee, defeated Tom Bertrand, East St. Louis Knights of Columbus A. C., three rounds, judges' decision. Weight, 137 pounds.

Negro Final Bouts.

Henry Jackson defeated James Burch, one round, technical knockout. Weight, 126 pounds.

Frank Charleston defeated Woodie [illegible], three rounds, judges' decision.

Wray's COLUMN

Coming Home to Roost.

JOHN PESEK is having trouble with his wrestling championship campaign. His latest hard luck is a broken collarbone which will prevent or delay his defeat of Jimmy Londos, with whom he was matched for the championship of the National Boxing Association and the 30 states represented by that body.

In a telegram to the Post-dispatch Pesek today wires:

"Was training my greyhounds when my horse fell with me and I fractured my collarbone. I think I will be ready to wrestle again in four or five weeks."

If John has a bone fracture he will not be on the mat again for several months and in that time he may be pushed out of the picture.

However, John has little to complain about. For years, in the days when he might have won the crown, he was content to remain policeman for the champion Ed Lewis, and his job was to keep dangerous undesirables from causing Lewis trouble. In later years, when he wanted to go somewhere on his own account, obstacles developed at every turn. Disappointments have been his only portion.

Perhaps they were coming to him.

The "Most Unkindest Cut."

PERHAPS the worst setback John ever experienced was when he tried to "pull a Zbyszko" on Joe Stecher, in Los Angeles, several years ago. John had promised to behave; but when he got Champion Stecher on the mat, he thought the time had come to show himself. He put Joe's back down twice. The referee acclaimed him champion, so dispatches stated.

Then the official went into a huddle, presumably with Tony Stecher, and when he emerged it was decided that Pesek had lost on a foul!

John has never recovered from that. Also, he has hardly gotten over paying for it "through the nose." What he had to do to restore confidence in wrestling family circles is something that only his subsequent record for two years might reveal. It will tell a little story all its own.

Uncle Sam Inquires.

THE gentle practice of double contracts, which prevails in our best boxing promotion circles today it is said, caused Uncle Sam to look into the case of Primo Carnera. Uncle Sam was interested in Primo on account of the alien income tax. Naturally, when he learned Primo's contract called for 35 per cent of more than $43,000, or $15,332, to be exact, Samuel wanted to collect on that amount.

However, Primo actually was engaged to show here for a flat sum of $9000, as was disclosed when investigators looked it up.

Promoter Malloy was not trying to bamfoozle the State Commissioner or misrepresent the situation, he says. He explained that if the contracts filed with the commission set forth a flat guarantee, under the laws of Missouri the promoter would have been required to post the full amount of all guarantees. The Arena show that night would have required a certified check for something like $22,000 posted in advance, to cover all guarantees.

The Illinois commission permits boxers working under guarantees to sign documents releasing the promoter from the necessity of posting such guarantees. Such releases throw the fighters on the good faith of the promoter in case the show is a loser.

Looks Like a Dud.

THE alleged "big shot" of the June fight campagin now makes a noise like a dud. It is the match between Max Schmeling of Germany and Jack Sharkey of Boston, object world's title and a lot of money.

It is unlikely that there will be any million-dollar gate result from this show. Athough it is more than two months distant, the event should be causing conversation in the gyms and cigar stores. But it isn't. It is never mentioned. Sharkey is no inspiration, and Americans have almost forgotten the little they knew about Maxie. If it develops later that Dempsey is to meet the winner, that will revive interest in the June match.

The only boxer talked of is Carnera — that big fellow has the fight atmosphere superheated. If he goes on with Dempsey, and Mike Malloy gets the promotion of the event, Mike will have achieved not only his first million-dollar gate, but probably the record attendance ever attracted to a show. Carnera vs. Dempsey would out-Rickard Tex's best efforts.

Incidentally, Mique surely hates to be called the "Tex Rickard of Chicago."

FIVE PLAYERS AND A MANAGER SUSPENDED BY SOCCER BOARD

Five players and a team manager were handed long suspensions by the Executive Committee of the Municipal Soccer League at its meeting yesterday afternoon. One player, Eckenrodt, was suspended for one year for his participation in a fight which interrupted the second game of the Kolster-Schenberg championship series. Eckenrodt was a spectator at the game. He played last season with the Marske team, and is considered one of the best forwards in the league.

J. Heindehry of the Schenbergs drew a lay-off of 10 playing Sundays, which will be in force next season. He is a brother of Tom Heidenry, and was expelled from the Schenberg-Kolster game. Manager Cromer of the Schenbergs was suspended for an indefinite period for breaking rules during the playing of the same game.

Berne Hennessy, McLaughlin and O'Brien of the Schenbergs all failed to appear at the hearing as requested and they were suspended indefinitely. The committee wished to question them regarding the fight.

Kolster vs. Kansas City.

As a reward for winning the Municipal Soccer League championship, the Kolster team will meet the Sueme team of Kansas City in a two-game series, the first to be played here Sunday and the second a week later at Kansas City. At its meeting yesterday afternoon the Executive Committee of the local public parks league decided to schedule the two games.

Last Sunday the Kolsters lost a city championship game to the Tablers of the professional league.

Ollie Miller, oldest referee in the Municipal League in point of service, has been appointed arbiter of Sunday's game, with Willie Brady and Nick Reidy assisting him as linesmen. The game will be played at Grounds 2, Fairground Park, starting at 2:30 p. m.

FLYERS LOSE TO KANSAS CITY IN SEASON'S FINAL

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 21.—The Kansas City Pla-Mors clinched first place in the 1930 American Hockey Association race here last night by defeating the St. Louis Flyers, 6 to 3, in the final game for both teams in the regular schedule.

A crowd of 5000 witnessed the contest. The Flyers, handicapped by the absence of Jamieson and Balleau, gave way in the first period to a Pla-Mor attack which netted five points in the first 15 minutes.

In the second period the Flyers held their own, scoring once and holding the Pla-Mors to a single goal. The Flyers scored twice in a final third-period rally and Kansas City went scoreless. Goyer's passes enabled Hill and Breen to score and Hill made the other St. Louis count unassisted.

Breen went to the penalty box thrice during the game for tripping.

The summary:

TONIGHT'S MAT CARD IS FILLED WITH SO-CALLED ROUGH ACTORS

By Damon Kerby.

A casual glance at the wrestling program at the Coliseum tonight indicates a big evening for those who like lots of action—even if it does smack of hippodrome, hysteria and hypocrisy. Every event except the curtain raiser has at least one man who is known to Coliseum patrons as a bad actor.

Roy Steele, "the Seattle headlock artist," gets that designation in the principal event, against Fred Grobmeier of Minneapolis. Steele will probably have spectators standing on their chairs tonight, hooting and hissing him for his actions against Grobmeier, who appears for the time being to be the white-haired boy to the local wrestling crowds.

If Steele is a bad actor, words fail in describing Rudy Dusek. He is in a class by himself when it comes to roughing up his opponent and getting the fans against him. Nor is Charley Fox, his opponent, a babe in the woods when he enters the ring. He has taken part in some of the roughest matches held at the Coliseum this season.

Frank Brunowiecz, the Boston wrestler, who meets a newcomer, Ted Zaharias of Denver, is still another who flops and falls in and out of the ring while the crowd cheers and jeers. He is the wrestler who said he was told to "make it just as rough as you want to." And Brunie does.

George McDowell, the St. Louis University boy who says he wrestles for the fun in it, will meet Kid Richards of East St. Louis in the opening event starting at 8:30.

Bruins Winners In First Game Of Title Series

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 21.—The first battles of the National Hockey League titans in the series to decide the winner of the Stanley Cup and the world's professional hockey championship have brought a continuation of record-breaking activities.

The Boston Bruins, defending champions who made records in their climb to the top of the American group, and the Canadian leaders, the Montreal Maroons, set another new mark by struggling through the longest overtime game the big league has even seen before Boston won, 2 to 1. The game, at Montreal, first of a series of the best three out of five between the first place teams, went through the regular 60 minutes and 45 minutes of overtime play.

At Ottawa, the New York Rangers, third place holders in the American division, held the Ottawa Senators to a 1-1 tie in the first game of the third place playoffs. This series is decided by the total score for the two games so the teams did not play overtime.

The second place teams, Les Canadiens of Montreal and the Chicago Blackhawks, are not due to start their two-game series until Sunday, the same night that the Rangers and Ottawa clash in their deciding contest. The second Boston-Maroon clash will be played in Montreal tomorrow and the rest of the series in Boston.

Tilden Defeats Austrian Player In Quarter Final

MOUND CITY QUINTET CLOSES SEASON WITH GOOD BASKET RECORD

MOUND CITY, Ill., March 21.—Mound City Community High School basketball team won the Pulaski County tournament, defeating three of the best teams of the county, and placed second in the district tournament. Scoring 912 points to opponents 460 points in winning 18 of 20 season games and six of seven tournament games. The locals set a record of 20 consecutive victories during the year.

In the past four years Mound City has won thre County tournaments, two district tournaments and placed second in the other two district tournaments. During the past three years Mound City has won 46 of 54 season games, only one being lost at home. The following players served under the Orange and Black this season: Forwards, Biggs, Steers, Hurst, Hasting, Finley; centers, Little, Lackey; guards, Danby, Moore, Capoot, Hickman.

Will Fly to Game.

Making the trip by airplanes, the basketball team of the Thirty-fifth Division Aviation of the Missouri National Guard will go to Jefferson City for a game with a road commission team, tomorrow afternoon.

SPORT SALAD

by L. Davis

Spring Fever.

MANUSH has signed and all is well;
The Browns are ready for the bell
To ring and raise the curtain.
While they should finish near the top,
The pennant they may fail to cop,
As baseball is uncertain.

If all the clubs that finished low
Bob up serenely from below,
There'll be a grand uprising.
The pennants won in training camps
By various potential champs
Is really quite surprising.

The A's who think they have it won
Before the season has begun,
Without their hosts may reckon.
For, to the Sox both Red and White,
Although dark horses in the fight,
The hand of fame doth becken.

Hope springs eternal in the breast
Behind the rooster's fancy vest,
And laughs at low position.
For any time the worm may turn
To pounce upon and fiercely spurn
The hated opposition.

There Goes Polly!

See where all parrots are to be mustered out of the U. S. Navy regardless of what the other nations do in regard to naval parity.

The cracker industry might protest against the wholesale scrapping of parrots. It's a good talking point anyway.

Extenuating Circumstances.

The music publishers are organizing to fight the "song pirates" who are stealing their stuff. However, as Gilbert and Sullivan might have put it:

"I AM a Pirate King, hurrah for the Pirate King!
The songs I sell may sound likell,
But at least I do not sing!"

Pirating theme songs is the lowest form of racketeering. Almost as bad as writing them.

The feller that wrote "Singin' in the Rain" started a torrent that is liable to engulf the nation in a flood of promissory notes that don't live up to their promise.

While Mickey Walker was trimming Jimmy Mahoney Jack Kearns was being trimmed for $6500 in cash, 10 suits of clothes valued at $1650; six silk robes and one dozen silk pajama suits.

A Tough Brake.

HE who steals his purse steals trash
But oh, you silken haberdash!
Sans silk pajamas "Doc" has dreams
Of riding on the old brakebeams.

Ha! Ha!

Art Shires is of such a retiring disposition that he has asked Comiskey to put him on the retired list.

We shudder to think what would happen if Commy should take him up on it leaving Art with nobody to tell it to but Sweeney.

BRITISH DRIVER WILL LIKELY MAKE SPEED TRIAL, TOMORROW

By the Associated Press.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 21.—A committee of experts, including racing officials, arranged to examine the beach here today to determine the time when Kaye Don, British driver, shall make an attempt to set a new world's record for automobile speed.

It was indicated last night, however, that the attempt would not be made before tomorrow, although there was a possibility that Don might race his machine against time late this afternoon. The 24-cylinder car is ready for the test, Don said.

He had planned to try for the record early today, but later changed his mind.

LOUISVILLE NEGRO Y VOLLEYBALL TEAM TO PLAY PINE STREET Y

The Pine Street Y. M. C. A. volleyball team, which has had a successful season, is scheduled to meet the Louisville Negro Y. M. C. A. sextet here in a game tomorrow night in the gymnasium of the Pine Street Y. at Ewing avenue and Pine street. The feature event will start at 9 o'clock.

There will be a preliminary game consisting of a volleyball match between the Invincibles, a strong women's team, and the girls from the Stowe Teachers' College. This match will start at 8 o'clock.

SHEA LOOKS FIT IN HIS OPENING WORKOUT HERE FOR BASS BOUT

The fact that Eddie Shea, in his first workout here for his coming bout with Benny Bass, knocked Joe Ghnouly, a sparring partner, flat on his back, does not necessarily prove Shea a terrific hitter but it convinced a lot of spectators at the National Gymnasium yesterday that the Chicago boy is timing his punches nicely. The speed of his hitting, the power of his short, snappy hooks and uppercuts as well as his general appearance indicated Shea is at his best.

Boxing without the protection of a head gear, Shea seemed to relish swapping punches with little Joe, and at the conclusion of three fast rounds he vainly sought another sparring mate. Lou Terry declined the invitation of Joe Glaser, who manages Shea, and Billy DeFoe also thought it advisable to pass up the $10 fee that would have been the reward for three rounds of work.

Anderson Will Box Today.

Today, starting at 2 o'clock, Shea will box about 6 rounds and it is likely that Eddie Anderson will be one of his opponents. Anderson reported at the gym yesterday but he timed his arrival so that he was too late to get the benefit of catching his stablemate's gloves. Anderson will prepare himself for a bout with Joey Sangor at Milwaukee on April 3, an engagement which prevents him from taking a place on the Bass-Shea card.

Bass, enroute from Florida, has stopped over in Philadelphia to visit "the folks" and will arrive here Sunday. Benny has been doing his training stunt in the open air in Florida and is reported to be thoroughly fit.

Three 10-round events and a six-round curtain-raiser are being arranged by Promoter Packs to support the 130-pound title match. Davey Abad, shifty Panama featherweight, Billy Wallace, Cleveland lightweight star, and Johnny "Peewee" Kaiser, local featherweight, have been signed by Packs for the 10-round attractions.

Moran May Face Kaiser.

Midget Mike Moran of Pittsburg, is the fighter sought for Kaiser and Wallace probably will be pitted against Augie Pisano of New York City. Joe Ghnouly, former Western A. A. U. bantam champion, who worked out with Shea in the gym yesterday, is slated to appear in the six-round go. He will likely draw Pete White of this city, or Matty White of Philadelphia, as his opponent.

Electrically Started Sea-Horse "24"

JOHNSON MATCHED UNITS

The Utility A (Left)

Electrically Started or Rope-Started Outboard Motor Boats, $260 to $1065 Complete

JOHNSON boats give outboard motoring a new meaning. Their Sealite construction is seamless, waterproof, non-absorbing. Hence they need no attention or care, no calking or bailing.

They are lighter—50% lighter than comparable wooden boats in water service. Thus Johnson boats are decidedly faster and more portable.

In breaking tests Sealite proves 35% stronger than ordinary wood construction—hence safer and guaranteed to outlast it.

Electric-Starting Sea-Horses
Larger Sea-Horses now offered with both electric starter that charges battery and auxiliary rope-starter. Lightweight models also, including world's fastest outboard. [illegible] f. o. b. factory. Electric starter extra.

See these new day boats at Johnson dealers listed below. Also the Champion Sea-Horse motors that match them—now with electric-starter and auxiliary rope-starter, or rope-starter only—both with Release Charger.

Write for color-illustrated catalog of complete line. Matched units of boat and rope-started motor may be had as low as $260. All prices f. o. b. factory.

DEMPSEY SAYS HE MAY TRY COMEBACK, BUT ONLY IN A TITLE BATTLE

JACK DENIES HE IS BROKE; WILL FIGHT ONLY IF HE REGAINS FORM

By Jack Dempsey.

As Told to Edward J. Geiger.

CHICAGO, March 21.—I make no positive statement about my comeback. If I feel along in July that I am ready for the ring, if I am thoroughly satisfied with my physical condition, I may make a comeback; but there is nothing positive about it. I'm going to Los Angeles next month and will spend April in training. And I mean training.

After that month's workout I will have a pretty fair idea of my physical condition as a fighter. Personally, I never felt better, never was in such good condition, but the condition of a man who walks about the streets and who is called to make a ring comeback are vastly different. To fight I must be fast and lively on my feet, my fists must work as they did of old, I must be able to withstand an attack, and my wind, my breathing, must be perfect.

Is Not "Broke."

I'm not in that shape now. I couldn't go into the ring today and last four rounds against a trained fighter, and unless I can get myself into 100 per cent condition I will not fight.

Please correct the impressions that I must return to the ring because of money matters. That's the bunk. I have enough to see me through life and Jack Dempsey is still capable of earning money. The urge for gold will not alone bring me back. And while on the matter of money, please correct the impressions that an "angel" is feeding me in my Chicago promotion. Every penny is Jack Dempsey's coin.

I'm going to train for three weeks in the mountains. Then I'll begin to box and I'll box with men who will cut loose. You know in that Tunney fight my legs failed me. Had I been able in that go to shift about as in the times before, Tunney would never have run away. But the legs just wouldn't respond.

And that is the big question now, the question I alone can decide. And after all you can have the punch, but if you cannot shift about to deliver that punch you are lost. Ring generalship is a big factor in anybody's fighting.

If I do fight again you can be sure it will be in Chicago, nowhere else. And it will NOT be under my direction as promoter. George Getz will promite the show as a civic enterprise for Chicago, and not for financial gain.

Title or Nothing.

I expect to meet Mr. Getz in Los Angeles when I arrive there. He is anxious to sign me for a September fight. But Jack Dempsey isn't going into the ring and take a licking for anybody.

You know I will only meet the best heavyweight when I fight. I told Mr. Getz that Griffiths and Von Porat will have to fight, the winner to meet the winner of the Sharkey-Schmeling battle and that winner will be my opponent if I return. I will not fight just to have a fight. I will go after the title or not at all.

Picks Sharkey to Win.

My personal opinion is that Sharkey is a good fighter, that he will beat Schmeling. I wanti to see the winner of a Von Porat and Griffiths battle meet Sharkey and then give me the winner. I will be in New York to see that Sharkey battle.

I might tell the world that when I do return to the ring I will demand big money for my services.

But Jack Dempsey doesn't have to fight. If I fight, I am going to be fit and ready as fighters must be. I'm not going into the ring, get punched about and probably knocked out for money's sake. If I do not think I can beat my opponent, I'll never again put my hands in a glove. I trust this will be accepted as my story.

SHIRES WILL MAKE PERSONAL APPEAL FOR REINSTATMENT

CHICAGO, March 21.—No little worried and somewhat remorseful Charles Arthur Shires is expected to change his mind about forgetting the White Sox and make a final, personal appeal for reinstatement to Charles A. Comiskey.

After receiving Comiskey's demand that he first explain his difficulties in the prize ring before he would be reinstated, Shires explosively announced he would play semi-pro baseball this season and ask to be placed on the voluntarily retired list.

A chat with some older and wiser heads of the game, however, is believed to have changed his mind. He is coming here from Texas with his younger brother, Russell.

QUARTER-FINAL RESULTS.

Beardstown 29, Waterman 27 (four overtime periods).
Peoria Manual 18, Abingdon 16.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., March 21.—Upsets were plentiful in the Illinois State High School basketball preliminary rounds held at the University of Illinois yesterday afternoon and last night, and as a result four teams which were hardly expected to survive the first rounds will participate in the semifinals tonight.

Bloomington won over Abingdon, 20 to 19, in the opening preliminary and Olney followed by defeating Carbondale, 21 to 18. At night, Beardstown battled Waterman in a four-overtime-period game, the former winning, 29 to 27, while Peoria Manual walloped Atwood, 18 to 16.

Pairings in the semifinals tonight will see Bloomington clashing with Olney and Beardstown meeting Peoria Manual.

Abingdon led Bloomington, 6 to 4, at the end of the initial quarter, but Bloomington forged ahead and held a 10-to-8 advantage at the end of the half and led at the end of the third quarter, 20 to 10. Abingdon scoring two free throws in the second quarter and a field basket in the third quarter. Abingdon staged a thrilling comeback in the final period, however, and threatened to tie the count, holding Bloomington scoreless during the quarter while they annexed nine points and were going strong when the gong cracked for the end of hostilities, with Bloomington on the long end of a 20-to-19 count.

Carbondale Disappoints.

Carbondale, who defeated Johnston City, last year's champions, in the opening round of their sectional tournament as doped as one of the strongest teams to enter the State finals but the Olney offensive when it finally got started was a trifle bewildering to the Southern Illinois lads and they were downed by a three-point advantage. Carbondale led at the end of the first quarter 7 to 4 and held a 10 to 8 lead at half time but Olney jumped into a 17 to 16 lead at the end of the third period and scored two field baskets in the final period while Carbondale was held to a long basket.

Beardstown's Hard-Earned Victory.

The feature game of the preliminary rounds was the Beardstown-Waterman clash. Waterman was doped as the probable winner but the tight Beardstown defense and stalling offense asserted itself during the fourth overtime period and Beardstown won 29 to 27. Waterman went into an 8 to 2 advantage in the initial period but the count stood tied at eight all at half time.

Sure Way to Get Rid of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. Then you remove it entirely.

To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your symptoms of dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and remove every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy entirely satisfies.

BOONE DESCENDANTS TO ATTEND MEETING

Historical Society to Hold Memorial Session Tonight—Relics on Display.

A curious sixteenth century watch, presented by Daniel Boone to his son, Nathan, has been lent to the Missouri Historical Society by the pioneer's great-great-grandson, Frank O. Boone of St. Charles, for the Danniel Boone exhibition in Jefferson Memorial, in Forest Park.

Hundreds daily are visiting the display. Ten or more members of the Boone family are to attend the Daniel Boone meeting of the society at 8:15 tonight, when Francis M. Curlee, who restored the Boone home in St. Charles County, will speak.

The huge silver watch on display was made by William Hopetown of London. It must have been close to 1600, because it has the first improvement in watchmaking, described by the Encyclopedia Britannica. The improvement, the substitution of a chain for a catgut in a part of the mechanism, was originated shortly before that year.

The chain was one of the earliest devices to compensate for slowing as the mainspring ran down. One end is wound around a tiny barrel and the other around a spiral drum, so that as the spring weakens the leverage increases through the spiral and strengthens the impulse to the works.

Nathan Boone's name is engraved in the ponderous silver case. Decorative engraving includes a complex design in which may be discerned a sun and a square and compass.

A lancet with a tortoise shell handle, used by Boone in the "wilderness" that was Kentucky and taken to Lexington, Mo., by William Mosby in 1825, has been added to the display by Dr. C. V. Mosby of 265 Union boulevard, another great-great-grandson of Daniel Boone. Such lancets, said Dr. Mosby, were included in most family kits for the blood-letting which was common in that day.

Two portraits of great interest have been added to the exhibition, which already included a contemporary engraving from the only one many historians knew of—the Harding portrait of Boone under the judgment tree. They are the previously unknown portrait attributed to Audubon, which is owned by Mrs. Dan R. Russell, and another portrait by Harding, lent by Mrs. Champe C. Conner.

QUIT MINISTRY FOR DRY JOB, FOUND OPERATING A STILL

Oklahoman Held Under $5000 Bond Following Raid by Federal Agents.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., March 21.—C. L. Thoroughman, who left the Methodist ministry in 1923 to become a Federal prohibition agent, is held under $5000 bond on a charge of operating a still.

The former minister, who resigned from the Government service last July, was arrested last night in a Federal raid four miles south of Lawton. Bee Domonbrum, a deputy prohibition administrator, said Thoroughman was found in charge of a moonshine plant. A large still, 70 gallons of liquor, an automobile and several weapons were seized.

Roy St. Lewis, United States District Attorney, announced the prisoner admitted ownership of the still.

EVENING TIME IS READING TIME—for the Business Man

The day is never long enough for the business man. You know how it goes. Breakfast is eaten in a rush. There is little time for more than a hurried glance at the newspaper. Then off to work...and the strenuous demands of modern business leave few moments of diversion...no opportunity for reading.

But at night everything is different. At home... stretched out in an easy chair with the evening newspaper ... the business man relaxes. For him especially, evening time is reading time.

Because of its accurate, comprehensive coverage of the day's news from everywhere ... its independent, thought-stimulating editorials ... sparkling sports reports, and complete market review, St. Louis business men prefer the

BEQUESTS TO FOUR CHURCHES MADE BY BISHOP SLATTERY

$20,000 to Go to Episcopal Theological School on Death of His Wife.

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, March 21.—Bequests amounting to $70,000 to become effective on the death of his wife, were contained in the will of Bishop Charles Lewis Slattery, which was filed yesterday. The value of the estate was not disclosed.

A $30,000 trust, the income to go to the testator's aunt, Mrs. Sarah Lewis Kaler, Rockland, Me., until her death, when the principal is to be added to the residue of the estate, was one of the stipulations.

The rest of the estate is to be held in trust, the income to go to Mrs. Slattery. On her death the following bequests become effective:

To the rector, wardens and vestrymen of the church of the Good Shepherd, Faribault, Minn., $10,000; to the rector, wardens and vestrymen of Christ Church, Springfield, Mass., $10,000; a similar amount to the rector, wardens and vestrymen of Christ Church, New York, to be used as a memorial to Emma McLellan Slattery, mother of the late Bishop; to the Episcopal Theological School at Cambridge, Mass., $20,000; and to the Cathedral Church of St. Paul at Boston, $10,000, for some permanent memorial to Mrs. Slattery.

The rest of the trust funds and residue of the estate is given in equal shares to the nieces of Bishop Slattery, Elizabeth Granger, Thermopolis, Wyo., and Sarah Slattery, Denver, Colo.

SEIZURE OF FREIGHTER BY U. S. ILLEGAL, FEDERAL JUDGE SAYS

Treaty Guarantees Free Passage in Strait of Juan de Fuca, Court Rules in Case of Chief Capilano.

By the Associated Press.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 21.—Release of the Canadian-American freighter Chief Capilano, seized under a writ of foreign attachment in the Strait of Juan de Fuca last Wednesday by a United States Coast Guard patrol boat, appeared likely today as a result of a ruling by Federal Judge E. E. Cushman.

Although the freighter was seized in American waters, Judge Cushman held that the seizure was illegal under a treaty which guarantees free passage through the strait to American and British vessels. He allowed attorneys for the Libellants until 3 p. m. today to obtain a writ from the United States Circuit Court of Appeals prohibiting him from signing an order quashing the attachment under which the Chief Capilano is being held at Port Townsend.

The ship was bound from Vancouver, B. C., to the Orient and had drifted into American waters because of adverse tides. The vessel was liebeled by Dant & Russell, Inc., of Portland, Ore., who claimed $20,000 damages for a lumber cargo lost when the Chief Maquilla, owned by the same company, foundered off the Aleutian Islands in 1928. Another attachment of $100,000 was later placed against the ship for alleged losses also suffered in the wreck of the Maquilla.

TWO YOUTHS CAUGHT AFTER OKLAHOMA BANK ROBBERY

One of Them Shot as They Fled on Foot; Cashier Locked in Vault.

By the Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., March 21.—Two youths, captured by a posse and placed in jail here within an hour after they had robbed the First National Bank of Wheatland of $3000 yesterday, said they were "just a couple of hungry country boys" who decided on the holdup after being unable to find work. They said they were Earl Bolen, 20 years old, and Clifford Garner, 22. Bolen was shot in the left shoulder by C. P. Lackey, oil truck driver, who joined the posse formed by Wheatland citizens. Garner told officers his pistol was not loaded.

Miss Flossie Stewart, cashier, and J. L. Howard, a customer, the only persons in the bank at the time, were placed in the vault after the Stewart operated an alarm which holdup. From inside the vault Miss sounded in several Wheatland business houses and in the telephone exchange.

Bolen was captured a half mile away while Garner surrendered to George Kerr, Deputy Sheriff, when the latter fired a shot into the ground near him a mile farther away. The two robbers had fled on foot.

Of the loot $2200 was recovered. The robbers said they threw away most of the silver because of its weight.

AUTOMOBILES

Pledge to the Public
On Used Car Sales

1. Every used car is conspicuously marked with its price in plain figures, and that price, just as the price of our new cars, is rigidly maintained.
2. All Studebaker Automobiles which are sold as CERTIFIED CARS have been properly reconditioned, and carry a 30-day guarantee for replacement of defective parts and free service on adjustments.
3. Every purchaser of a used car may drive it for five days, and then, if not satisfied for any reason, turn it back and apply the money paid as credit on the purchase of any other car in stock—new or used. It is assumed that the car has not been damaged in the meantime.

We can't conceive of any other policy that would be more fair to the used car buyer.

CHICAGO WHEAT CLOSES UNSETTLED AND HIGHER

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 21.—Wheat today advanced to a price 9c a bushel more than last week's bottom level.

Wheat closed unsettled, ⅝c to 1⅜c a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed ⅛c to 1c down; oats unchanged to ⅛c off, and provisions 5c to 15c advanced.

Brisk new upturns of wheat values here took place early, influenced to a great extent by sharp advances at Liverpool and Buenos Aires.

Reduction of Argentine wheat shipments, crop complaints from Ohio and comment on moisture situation in the American Southwest counted also as bullish factors. Opening ⅛-1⅜c up, Chicago wheat futures scored additional gains later. Corn, oats and provisions started higher also, with corn starting at ⅛-2⅝c rise, and afterward steadying at about ⅝c general advance compared with yesterday's finish.

Active general buying demand showed itself most of the time in the wheat futures market, with sellers comparatively scarce until July went above $1.10. At that price commission houses had increased selling orders. Meanwhile Argentine wheat exports for the week were announced as only 1,470,000 against 8,12[illegible] 000 for the corresponding week a year ago.

Estimates were current that overnight export business in North America had totaled 1,000,000 bu., mostly wheat purchased from the Canadian growers pool.

COTTON CLOSES HIGHER ON NEW YORK MARKET

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Cotton [illegible] vanced today on a renewal of covering [illegible] old crop shorts and some trade or commission house buying which was probably promoted by relatively steady Liverpool cables and reiterated rumors of a bro[illegible] trade demand for deliveries on May contracts. All active positions made new high ground for the movement, but offerings increased somewhat as prices approached the 15⅝c level for May contracts and there were reactions of 6 or 7 points from the best with the mid-afternoon market ruling about 3 to 13 points net higher.

Futures closed steady, 6 to 21 points higher; March 15.58c; May 15.78-79c; [illegible] 15.83-85c; October 15.87-88c; December 15.90c; January 15.90c; new contract [illegible] October 15.48c; December 15.59c; January [illegible] 15.65c. Spot steady; middling 15.85c.

Cotton opened steady, up 12 points to [illegible] decline at one point with the near months relatively firm, on buying which was probably influenced by the higher Liverpool cables.

Business was only moderately active [illegible] and fluctuations were rather irregular after the call as the advances met realizing. Offerings were further realizing, however, and the comparatively light offerings [illegible] well enough taken on setbacks [illegible] eight points of the [illegible] prices [illegible] underlying [illegible] advance ruling about net unchanged to eight points higher.

May contracts [illegible] were selling [illegible] points over New Orleans. [illegible] with no particular effect on [illegible] to be without any particular effect on the market as that delivery sold at 15.[illegible] 12 points net higher at 6 [illegible] paying much [illegible] on trades have been [illegible] and [illegible] in grain came in for some [illegible] advance in grain came in for some comment this morning.

Liverpool cables [illegible] Bombay buying [illegible] reported Continental and [illegible]

The market firmed up during the middle of the morning on trade buying of old crop months which was supposed to include [illegible] and further covering of some [illegible] commission house buying or later deliveries. Prices made new highs for the movement with May selling up to 15.[illegible] the newer October contract to 15.4[illegible] about 13 to 18 points net higher [illegible] there was not more than moderately active [illegible] however, and the market was quiet [illegible] with prices five or six points off from the best.

OILS STRONG LATE ON CURB EXCHANGE

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 21.—After a temporary setback resulting from an upturn in call money, the bull crowd rallied on the curb market today and sent prices substantially higher in the last hour of trading, giving the oils and several of the utilities swift runs into new high territory for the year.

The Standards lead the advance in the petroleum shares. Humble rose more than 4 points to a new peak for the year, and Standard of Ohio 5. Standards of Kansas and Kentucky also reached new top ground, and Indiana duplicated its previous high figure. Several of the so-called independents were also in demand, Gulf selling up more than 2 points.

New York Sugar.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Raw sugar was quiet early today with no sales reported. Prices were unchanged at 3.58 for spots.

Raw futures opened 2 points lower on May under liquidation and some selling by trade interests which was probably promoted by the continued liberal offerings in the spot market, but later months were unchanged to 3 points higher on covering and a little new outside buying. There was a lack of selling pressure but at the same time the demand was not very aggressive and following the call trading was only moderate, with prices holding around initial figures. Advice from Cuba said that general meeting will be called for April 1, at which the dissolution of the single selling agency will be considered. Other cable said that the committee would maintain its 2c cost and freight price, but from now on would consider any bids for shipment to the United States after March 28.

Refined was unchanged at 5.00 for fine granulated, with second hands available at 4.80, but no new business reported.

Sugar futures closed firm; approximate sales 24,700 tons. March 1.72c; May 1.71c; July 1.75c; September 1.84c; December 1.92c; January 1.92c.

BOND TRADE SLACKENS AND PRICES IRREGULAR

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 21.—The appetite for bonds was not so keen in today's session and an irregular price movement developed. Money was firmer in both call and time loans, with the rate on the former advancing successively from 3 to 4 and then to 4½ per cent.

This firmness resulted in curtailed buying inquiry and also in some profit-taking. The trend of the investment rails was mixed, with Northern Pacific prior lien 4s, Frisco 4½s and prior lien 4s, Union Pacific gold 4s, New Haven 4½s and Southern general 4s selling off from ½ to 1 point. On the other hand, Santa Fe general 4s made a new high at 96, and Great Northern 7s, Seaboard 6s, Union Pacific refunding 4s and Wabash 5s advanced under continued demand.

American Telephone 5s of 1965 were firm. Gulf States Steel 5½s, unusually active, made a little progress. Warner Brothers Pictures 6s rose ⅛ and Standard Oil of New York 4½s lost the same amount. Some of the semi-speculative industrials were highly erratic.

American Telephone convertible 4½s pushed up to the new 1930 peak of 163 and then yielded a point or two. Baltimore & Ohio 4½s sold off moderately in the mid-afternoon trading.

Foreign bonds and United States Governments were irregular, with profit-taking apparent in sections of the former group where the largest gains have been recorded in the recent markets.

The $40,000,000 Royal Dutch loan in 4 per cent debentures offered at 89½ and the $15,000,000 offerings of Union Oil of California debenture 5s at 99½ were quickly oversubscribed.

The day's sales of bonds listed on the New York Stock Exchange ran about $5,000,000 below yesterday's volume.

The strength of wide diversification

Wide diversification of investments contributes to safety of principal and stability of income. Such employment of capital in numerous and varied investments is only practicable with relatively large funds. Many investors are availing themselves of the facilities of well established investment companies for the distribution of risk in this way.

For years the American Founders group of investment companies has been diversifying its funds among bonds, preferred stocks and common stocks, and among securities representative of many types of business, domestic and foreign. United Founders Corporation, through its large stock interest in American Founders Corporation, shares the strength of this diversification. In addition, United Founders has substantial holdings in public utility and other important fields.

United Founders Corporation is owned by more than 60,000 stockholders.

CONFERENCE ON BUS STRIKE TO BE HELD THIS AFTERNOON

Meeting Between Head of Company and Union Agent Arranged by Col. Perkins.

A meeting between Richard W. Meade, president of the Peoples Motorbus Co., and Robert B. Armstrong, representing the union of 750 striking employes, will be held this afternoon in an effort to settle the strike, which is in the eighth day without operation of busses.

The meeting, at the company headquarters, 3615 Forest Park avenue, is the first between officers of the company and representatives of the strikers, who are seeking recognition of their union. The conference was arranged by Col. A. T. Perkins, local representative of the City Utilities Co., which controls both the Peoples Motorbus Co. and the Public Service Co. Perkins asked Meade to meet Armstrong following a conference with William B. Fitzgerald, first international vice president of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employes and Motor Coach Operators, who was in St. Louis yesterday. The bus employes' union is affiliated with the Amalgamated Association.

LOUIS BERETTI--Gangster

By Donald Henderson Clarke, Author of "In the Reign of Rothstein"

The galloping story of the career of a juvenile enemy of the law—Born in the throes of a Chinatown battle, successively thief, dope peddler, bootlegger, gunman, Louis finally turns on his "mob" and crashes the front page as the heroic avenger of society in a sensational kidnaping.

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters

LOUIS BERETTI, born in the turmoil of a battle in the streets of New York's Chinatown, grows up as a boy with an antipathy to policemen, school teachers and "snitches." His pal is Big Italy. Pa and Ma Beretti are parents who want their children to grow up as decent Christians. Louis begins life as a thief in a small way. When the war comes he forms a friendship with Bill Pedersen, an aristocrat, who has a pretty sister, Louise. Bill is killed and, when the war is over, Louis returns home, takes up bootlegging and runs a speakeasy. Eventually the place is visited by the prohibition agents and other gangsters try to cut in on Louis' place and on a small gambling establishment he is running with Big Italy.

CHAPTER XI.

BIG ITALY had a big gash which ran from where you could see it on his forehead over his left eye back into the hair where you couldn't see it. After he had been patched up, Big Italy said to Louis:

"They'll be back tomorrow."

"Sure," Louis said.

"Well, this hasn't anything to do with you, Louis," Big Italy said: "You keep out of this. You got a clean record, and your mother is sick, and your family is a nice family. You let me handle this."

"I'll be here," said Louis.

That was why, after having a large number of drinks with Bill O'Brien, Louis went around to the club, all steamed up.

"You don't have to bother, Louis, if Freddy South comes around," said Big Italy, whose strange, bright eyes were burning with alcohol, and suppressed ferocity. But his voice was just as quiet and level as it ever was. And he handled his cigar so that no one could help seeing his diamond. There was a long ash on the cigar, when Freddy South and his two aides walked in.

"Hello, Italy; hello Louis; how's tricks?" said Freddy with what was intended to be a genial smile but what succeeded in being a frightful grimace.

Louis didn't say anything, but his face was distorted into what he thought was a grin, showing all his teeth. His eyes were burning black under his tense brows.

"What do you guys want?" Big Italy said evenly, as he laid his cigar carefully down on an ash tray on the table, and slowly rose to his feet.

"We don't want anything except to be friendly, and to get our cut of the game," Freddy said. "We came here—"

"Here it is, you bums! Here's your cut."

With the words, Big Italy turned loose with two army automatic pistols, one in each hand. The two lieutenants sank to the floor instantly. Freddy South turned and ran.

Louis grabbed one of the automatics from Big Italy, and ran after Freddy. They went down one street and up another. The streets were well sprinkled with their usual collection of humanity: women and an occasional baby carriage; boys playing ball in the streets; men loafing about; a truck backed up to the curb; a motor car sliding along.

Louis didn't see anything but Freddy South getting away. Louis gained on him, and fired three shots, the last one just as Freddy turned into Park Row under the "L." Freddy lurched as the heavy bullet went through his right lung, but he kept on although more slowly.

Panting and sweating and cursing, Louis caught up to Freddy, pressed the nozzle of the pistol savagely into Freddy's side.

But the pistol jammed, as Freddy with an extra burst of speed jumped ahead a yard or so. Louis threw the useless pistol at his quarry. It bounced off Freddy's head, but he kept on going.

Louis caught up with him again, and delivered a terrific right swing from behind against Freddy's jaw, and knocking Freddy through a barber shop window.

Louis kept right on to the corner, turned it, slowed to a walk, turned the next corner, and went into Palermo's, and walked up to the bar.

"Hello, Louis," said Palermo, who was standing in front of his bar. "How's everything?"

"You ought to know," Louis said. "I been here for the last hour, haven't I? Give us a drink," and he tossed a twenty dollar bill on the bar. "Rye for me, what are you goin' to have, Palermo?"

"Rye," said Palermo.

Louis bought a couple more drinks, including some later arrivals in his invitations, and after about half an hour, said:

"So long, Palermo, I'm going back to the store."

Ten minutes later, Louis walked into the back room. Bill O'Brien was in there, being waited on by Peter.

"Hello, Bill," Louis said. "I hear two or three guys were just killed around the corner. Did you hear anything about it?"

"I heard a couple of shots," Bill told him, "but they might have been automobiles backfiring; you never can tell these days."

"Oh, I guess it was nothin' but one of those bootlegger battles," Louis said. "Usually the guys that get killed in those battles are better off dead, and it saves the cops a lot of trouble. I guess I'll have a drink myself."

When the police got around to the club two gangsters who they thought were strangers in town and might have come from Chicago were found dead on the floor. The chairs and tables were upset, and there was one empty automatic pistol lying near them.

Nobody knew anything about it.

"I never saw 'em before," Big Italy said. "Some strangers came in here, and before we knew it there was some shooting. We all ducked, and those two guys were dead. There were a half-dozen altogether." The detectives took along Big Italy, Tommy Welch, Kid Quick and Jack Flynn, and held them for three weeks as material witnesses.

But it turned out that the dead men were from Chicago, and were gangsters with records. Nobody was especially interested in the fact that they were dead, except that it was a good thing all around. So the four material witnesses were released.

THE afternoon of his release Big Italy was standing at the bar of a saloon that he ran under cover. Dave Russo was officially the proprietor, but everyone knew who was the real boss. Louis and Kid Quick and Big Italy were drinking together, and not saying much—discussing the latest prices of bootleg booze, and the dispositions of the various cops, when Red McLaurin appeared in the door.

Louis and Kid Quick stepped back from the bar. Big Italy said:

"Here you are; now take this!"

He used only one revolver and he only fired four shots, but it was at such close range that he couldn't miss.

Louis watched with hard eyes his second best friend clutch at his belly and sag down to the floor dead. A bullet which had gone right through him, expanding on its journey, had torn a piece out of the door. A big white splotch showed there.

"Pick him up, a couple of you, and bring him out here," Big Italy said.

Louis and the Kid lugged what was left of Red out into the back room. Big Italy busted up some furniture, and fired a couple of more shots around the walls. Then he went to a telephone and called "Spring 3100," the telephone number of Police Headquarters.

"This is Big Italy—Salvatore Perugino," he said, giving his name by baptism on one of the rare occasions of his life, but the police knew it, and it sounded more official. "I am talking from Dave Russo's place. I just got here and found Dave up in the air. My old pal, Red McLaurin, was killed by some strange guys out in the back room. Dave says they were shooting all through the place, and there are bullet marks in the front door."

The detectives came in a few minutes, and found Big Italy, Kid Quick and Louis drinking at the bar. Dave had wanted to hide all the liquor, but Big Italy had said to leave it.

"It'll show we're being on the level with 'em," he said. "They know it's sold here. We don't want to appear to be kidding 'em at all."

"Probably some of that Chicago mob was getting even for those other two guys' murders," one of the detectives commented, after he and his associates had looked around and asked numerous questions.

Finally, they all had a drink with Big Italy.

"That guy was my best friend next to Italy here," Louis said to the detectives. "Let's have this drink to him, wherever he is now."

After the detectives had had their drink, and had gone, Louis said:

"He was a regular guy, if he only could've kept his nose clean."

"How long did you know he didn't?" asked Big Italy, breaking a life-time rule of never asking questions.

"Every since that day he told Miss McInty everything he knew and gave her the apple he stole."

"So did I," said Big Italy.

"The only way you can teach a guy like that anything is with a gun," Louis said. "But I liked that guy."

"So did I," said Big Italy.

THE whole mob went to the wake for Red McLaurin, and there was a solemn high requiem mass. Big Italy had all the bills sent to him, and when it was all over he said to Louis:

"I didn't have anything against Red, Louis, and I'd like to send his mother around a little something. Will you take it to her?"

"Sure," Louis told him.

Louis took around ten $100 bills. Red's mother was weeping when she took them.

"We owed him this from the club, Mrs. Fogarty," Louis said. "It's good, clean money from the rackets and the ball games."

"Patrick was a good boy, although he was a little wild at times, and he liked the girls a bit too well. But he had a way wit' him wit' the women. And, you might mind that my name is not Fogarty now, but O'Malley," said Red's mother.

"He certainly did," Louis replied. "He was one of my best friends, and I feel pretty rotten myself, Mrs. O'Malley. If we ever can do anything, you will let us know, won't you?"

"I certainly will, Louis, because I know there was no one that thought more of my Patrick than you did from the time you was little mites running wild in the streets of Chinatown together. I mind that was the time I was married to the German. Humperdinck was my name then."

Mrs. O'Malley, who never had been divorced in her life, but whose chain of husbands was accepted as a matter of course by those who knew her, smiled through her tears, and tweaked Louis' ear playfully.

"And it's a splendid figure of a man you've grown into, Louis," she said.

"I gotta be going," Louis said hastily. Good-bye, Mrs. O'Malley."

"Good-bye, Louis, and drop in and see me now and then, and it will remind me of Patrick." Mrs. O'Malley said, beginning to weep again.

The last Louis saw of her she was counting the tear-sprinkled money.

BIG Italy went away to the Atlanta penitentiary for two years. The night before he surrendered under his bail, to make the trip with a Deputy United States Marshal, there was a racket at the club, an unofficial farewell party to what would have been its undisputed master mind if Louis Beretti in his peculiar way hadn't always seemed to share the honors.

Joe Bergman came over from the East Side with several of his satellites, and Hump Jackson and a few of his followers from the Upper East Side casually dropped in.

There were lots of girls, and there was lots of beer and gin and whiskey. If the police had cared to make one of their occasional general raids in search of suspicious characters, they would have found plenty of promising fish for their net.

"What's th' matter—gotta dirty neck?" a feller would say to a girl touching the locks of hair which spread over her cheek in disorder.

"No, Stupid," a girl would answer, vigorously moistening her fingers and petting the locks in question. "Those are spit curls, if anyone should ask you."

But they revolved around the hall most decorously; it was a matter of pride with everyone to see that the proper floor etiquette was preserved.

Joe Bergman, Hump Jackson, Big Italy and Louis Beretti sat for the most part at a secluded table, and looked over the festivities with baronial approval. Their positions were more sure in the Social Register of their world than the positions of anyone in any Social register anywhere. Not even death could make an erasure now.

No robber knight of the Dark Ages ever squatted more securely behind barbison and keep than did these serious-faced, young-old men sit behind towering walls of reputation for being able to look after themselves and their own.

They didn't say much to each other. They knew either by experience or by first hand information what Big Italy was facing, and they were showing him by their presence at his side that their sympathies were with him.

Later Big Italy and Louis were sitting together, alone, drinking small drinks of straight whiskey from the thick bottomed whiskey glasses.

"How's your mother?" Big Italy asked.

"Not so good, Italy: not so good," Louis said. "I don't know if she'll live long enough to see the new house the old man is building up there, and it ought to be finished next month."

* * *

THERE was a silence of two or three minutes. The couples went shuffling monotonously around the floor, everyone dancing with practiced skill, and with an astonishing lack of conversation, and outward enjoyment. Each male face was serious and set, as if its owner's mind were concentrated on some abstruse mathematical problem; each female countenance was as placid and as vacant of expression as rouged dough.

"I suppose she's gone to bed," said Big Italy, finally.

"No," Louis said, "she's probably sitting up in her rocking chair. She doesn't rest so well in bed. And she's probably working on something—makin' a dress or something. She ain't happy unless she's doing something with her hands. She may be making a shirt for the old man, but she'll be doing something if she's awake, and she'll be dreaming of doing something if she's takin' a nap. She don't sleep."

Another silence followed.

"Your father and mother are fine people, Louis," Big Italy said. "That's why I always was after you to stay out of some of those jobs. But you always would be in 'em. I couldn't stop you."

"I dunno," Louis replied. "I guess I was born with that kind of blood in me. I've gotta have excitement."

A longer silence fell.

"If it wasn't so late I'd kinda like to say so long to your mother," Big Italy said. "But I guess she wouldn't care much about seein' me anyway."

"She prays for you just like she does for me," Louis said. "She'll probably give you hell like she does me, but come on around for a minute and we'll see if she's awake."

Big Italy and Louis arose from the table, nodded silently to their friends, and walked out of the hall and downstairs into the street. They got into Big Italy's touring car, which mysteriously became supplied with a hulking red-headed chap with one eye as driver, the moment they appeared.

Silently, they drove around to the fruit store, which was a matter of only 10 blocks. Silently, they got out, and went into the doorway next to the store. They walked lightly through the hall, and Louis opened a door at the far end.

The shapeless bulk of Ma Beretti, in a thick green and gray bathrobe, immediately was visible at its accustomed place beside the turkey-red covered table. Her white hair was in disarray. She was vaguely fingering a sock. In front of her on the wall was a figure of Christ on the cross. There was a peculiar odor, slightly ammoniacal, in the room.

On a couch against the wall was the meager figure of Pa Beretti, fully clothed except for coat and shoes. His thin, tired face was tilted back, and his mouth was open, revealing scattered yellow teeth. He was snoring like a giant.

Ma looked up as Louis came in and her black eyes, swimming and luminous, warmed and brightened.

"Is that you, Louis?" she asked, her voice sounding like the ghost of its former deep-chested glory. "Don't make a noise; your father is sleeping."

"Hello, Ma," Louis whispered. "I got Big Italy with me. He's going away tomorrow on a trip, and he thought he'd like to come around and see you before he goes."

Ma rolled her head on the crocheted dolly which adorned the back of her chair, and made a gesture as if to rise. Then she relaxed painfully.

"Salvatore Perugina!" she said. "Come over here until I look at you."

Big Italy advanced until he reached Ma's outstretched hand. And, then, for some reason which he himself couldn't understand, he put the hand half to his lips and half to his cheek. He felt the roughness of it; the raspy finger tips, the knotted joints. And it felt good to him.

"I haven't seen you for a long time, Ma," he said.

A fleeting suggestion of a smile—a lightening of the eyes, the faintest possible relaxation of the drawn lines of the pain-drawn face—might have given an observer a haunting feeling that many years ago Ma Beretti was much given to laughter, and that when she laughed those who loved her might have deemed her beautiful.

"That reminded me of Salvatore, your father," she said in her husky whisper. "You don't want to be kissing an old woman's hand, Salvatore."

Ma pulled away her hand with something tragically, yet girlishly appealing in the gesture. Then she said to Big Italy in her native tongue:

"Your father and mother I knew when I was a girl in Italy. They were good, and they planned to work so hard in the new country. They will be so glad where they are now if you are a good man and work hard, Salvatore. I often wonder if you are being a good boy. You should get married and have children. It is having someone to work for that makes you good."

"Italy is a good guy, Ma," Louis told her. "They don't make 'em any better."

"It is a strange place with strange customs in which we live," Ma responded. "You call it good if a man violates the laws but is faithful to his friends. My head is tired now from worry over this liquor business that your father and you and Peter are in.

"I cannot myself see that there is harm if you do not make the boys drunk. But you do make them drunk. But the Government says you should not sell the liquor, and yet the Government men would take money from you if you would give it to them. And they all drink.

"It is not clear to me—all these laws. I feel that God who looks into my heart and my husband's heart knows we have thought of no wrong when we have sold whisky in our fruit store. And it has brought more of the money that my husband and I have worked so hard all of our lives to get.

"But of what good is money to us if our children are not good? I can only sit here in a chair, and my husband is building a palace for me in the country. But what good is it? If I have my family, and they are good, that is enough for me."

"Oh, don't worry, Ma," Louis said. "There's nothing to bother about. You'll have a good time in the country. And I promised you, didn't I, that there wouldn't be any trouble from the liquor?"

"Where are you going, Salvatore?" Ma said. "Are you going back to Italy for a visit?" But she interrupted herself. 'No, you never have been in Italy and would not want to go. You have not been bad, and are going to jail, are you, Salvatore? I always have been afraid for you and Louis about jail. I would die if Louis ever was sent to jail for doing wrong."

"No," Big Italy said. "I am going on a trip."

"He's going on a business trip, Ma," Louis assured her. "He's going out to the Coast, and maybe he will go up to Canada. He will be gone a long time, and he just wanted to see you before he goes."

"I wish I always could believe you, Louis," Ma said, moving her head wearily from side to side on the back of the chair, which creaked at the slightest shifting of her enormous weight. The doctors had insisted on her staying in bed with a nurse. They said they never had heard of a case like hers in which the patient sat up. But Ma insisted on sitting up, so that she could do things.

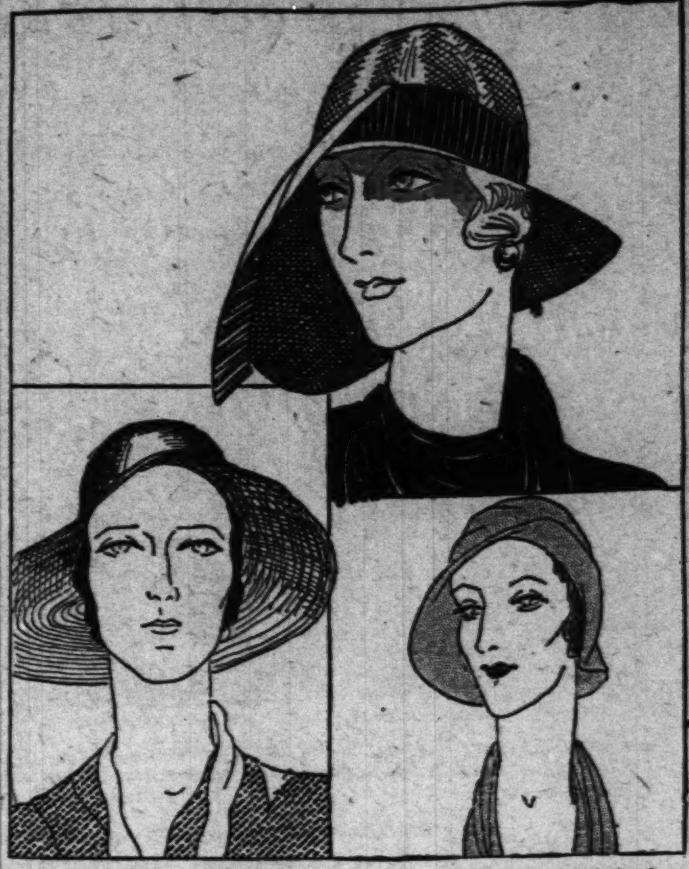
After the climbing roses have flowers, they should be thoroughly pruned by removing a few of the old shoots. The younger and more vigorous shoots should be trained in their places.

FOLLIES OF FASHION

By Marguerite Barnes.



WE are told to wear our hats off the face this season, with hair showing at the sides. This is becoming only to the youthful and those with softly rounded contours.

The new off-the-forehead hat at the lower left shows how this model makes the older woman look older, while the model at the right illustrates how gaunt this fashion makes a young woman with thin or angular features appear. The upper drawing shows an equally smart and new hat with a small front brim that is kinder to these two types.

Sun for Health

MAN is a sun loving being. From oldest times he has actually or figuratively worshiped the sun as the fountainhead of life and health.

Only recently, however, man's instinctive feeling about the sun has found indorsement of science.

First systematic work on the effects of light on health and on disease in the human body was done in 1896 by Fuisen in Copenhagen.

Light treatment has been demonstrated as of value in skin, bone, joint and gastro-intestinal tuberculosis. It is an effective preventive and curing agent in rickets. Light is of value in malaria and in the treatment of tetany due to a disturbance in the utilization of calcium in the body.

A number of skin diseases, including acne (pimpled skin) have been found amenable to light treatment.

Blood pressure, pulse and respiration are beneficially affected by judicious exposure to the sun, though, as illustrated by sun stroke and heat stroke, excess exposure may result in serious illness and even death.

The effects discussed are mainly due to the so-called ultra vi rays. These rays do not penet deeply, and will not pass thro in any effective quantities e common window glass or ordin clothing. To benefit by them it therefore necessary to be out doors and to expose the body.

Amusing and Dramatic Incidents Told by Post-Dispatch Readers

"Tres Bon Soldat"

By PVT. MARTIN R. SHANER
Co. C, First Engineers.

IN the attack on Hill 269, Sergt. James Bracey, Company C, was leading a party against a German machine gunner who was clipping the daisies in their general direction.

The German worked his gun constantly as they advanced and the prospects of getting him were rather unfavorable. Sergt. Jim bore down on him three times with his trusty rifle as he came forward, inflicting personal damage each time. The German, although mortally wounded, held his finger on the trigger and pumped away.

Bracey dropped his rifle, closed on the German, and carried him in his arms to a dressing station for treatment.

When asked for explanations, Sergt. Jim said: "He was a 'tres bon soldat'" and I admire his nerve.

Not as Bad as That.

By JAMES E. LACEY,
30th Division, Camp Devon.

AFTER the armistice was signed our company was transferred to Nimes, Southern France, to work in a railroad shop. There was a fellow named Bill in the company who could neither read or write, so he asked me to do his corresponding to his wife and relatives. After I had finished writing a letter to his wife, he wanted me to add a few French words to make her think he could talk French. I wrote:

"Au revoir mon petit cheri." The reply came back from his wife: "I don't know what this French means, but if you are doing that for God's sake, Bill, quit it.'

After and Before.

By I. JONES,
210 C. E. F., Moose Jaw, Canada.

THOMAS ATKINS had been slightly wounded in the arm and was in hospital. He had had enough of the war and wanted to get back home, so he thought he would try a little malignering.

"Now, Tommy," said the doctor, while making his rounds, "how high can you raise your arm this morning?"

After a lot of groaning and with the use of his good arm, he managed to raise it a little.

"Hum," said the doctor. "Now tell me how high you could raise it before you enlisted."

"Up this high, sir," said Tommy, raising it up to its full height above his head.

Shavetails Are Different.

By T. A. McKINNEY,
Headquarters Troop, 89th Division, Camp Funston, Kan.

A RECRUIT of three days in my company was placed on guard and given strict orders to salute all officers. Upon passing the General and not recognizing him at first, he turned quickly back to excuse himself.

The General replied. "That's all right, Buddie, it doesn't matter with me, but be very careful about some of these Second Lieutenants around here.

A Lesson in Salutes.

By C. H. DOERR,
Company D, 138th Infantry, 35th Division.

SHORTLY after the Fifth Missouri Regiment, a branch of raw recruits, was organized and consolidated with the old First Missouri Regiment at Fort Sill, Ok., one of these raw recruits upon meeting a Second Lieutenant failed to salute him. The Lieutenant halted him and asked why he did not salute.

The rookie replied he had only been in the army a short time and did not recognize insignias. The Lieutenant commanded him to march 10 paces away and salute him 50 times.

The rookie obeyed orders and during the proceeding the Colonel appeared on the scene and asked what was going on. The Lieutenant explained to the Colonel.

After the rookie had completed his 50 salutes, the Colonel informed the Lieutenant that it was customary in the U. S. Army to return all salutes. So he requested the Lieutenant to step off 10 paces and salute the rookie 50 times.

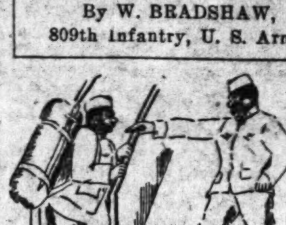
With All Equipment.

By W. BRADSHAW,
809th Infantry, U. S. Army



(Illustration drawn by the author of ancedote).

BECAUSE the ocean was filled with submarines, extra precaucaution was exercised and ship drills were held periodically to keep the men on the alert to be ready for any impending danger. Three short blasts of the ship's whistle meant all men below decks to report on the main at once for drill, but one long blast of the siren was to indicate real danger and men were supposed to come up on the main deck equipped only with proper clothing and a life preserver.

On one particular morning when we were in mid-ocean the siren sounded one long blast, the signal for threatening danger, and men fell out of their bunks and hastened helter skelter up the companionway to reach the top deck. Disobedience to regular drills had caused the commanding officer to use this method to get every man on deck.

There was one stout fellow weighing probably 260 pounds who made an attempt to climb the steps with his complete pack strapped to his back. His size, with equipment and wearing a life preserver, caused him to jam in the norraw companionway and prevent other men following hime from mounting the stairs to reach the main deck.

A hard-boiled Sergeant standing near by yelled: "Where do you think you are going with that load on your back?"

The buck private answered meekly: "Well, you see, 'Sarge,' I'm charged up with all this equipment, so I jess thought I'd take it along whether I swim or sink."

Too Much at Stake.

By F. LEWIS DOUGLAS,
Company F, 139th Infanty, 35th Division.

IT HAPPENED in the Vosges Mountains, Alsace, in June, 1918, when our outfit was serving its first hitch in the trenches in the Grand Balloon Sector.

Half of the company, along with an equal strength of French soldiers, occupied the front line while the other half took up its position in reserve billets half a mile or so in the rear. I served with the first section and when we came back to the reserve billets I thought everything would be Jake now, with nothing to do but bunk-fatigue; with nothing to fear as this sector was known as an unusually quiet one.

We were lined up for noon mess one day when Jerry decided to drop in on us a few of his hearty compliments. The shell bursted briskly and the mess line literally melted away. In the kitchen a big Swede was busy frying some steak for the officers'—including some visiting officers—and while they hovered in the corner of the kitchen expecting every minute to be the next, the Swede merely threw a blouse over his head and proceeded to turn his steak.

After the bombardment he was asked why he did not seek shelter in a dugout. He said: "I bane didn't want de steak to bur-r-r-n."

Twelve-Day Old Babe Helps Erect Building

MARY EDNA MILLER of Lowell, W. Va., is the youngest person who will own one of the bricks in the headquarters for the National Federation of Business and Professional Women, soon to be built in Washington.

Mary Edna was just 12 days old when her subscription to the building, thus making her owner of one of the bricks, was sent in by her aunt, Miss H. Edna Holmes of Newport News, Va.

Many recognition gifts have been made in the name of grandchildren and children, but Mary Edna remains the youngest of the lot.

School-On-Wheels Plan Considered by Virginia

SCHOOLS on wheels, equipped with blackboards, desks and other necessities, are being considered by the Virginia Department of Education.

They would be used in isolated sections, especially the sparsely settled mountain regions.

Morris Hart, State Superintendent, says the teacher could easily learn to drive the bus. In this way it could serve one community in the morning and another in the afternoon.

Plans considered would include in the equipment a small traveling library, adequate heat, drinking water and a first-aid kit.

BEAUTY--America's Fourth Largest Industry

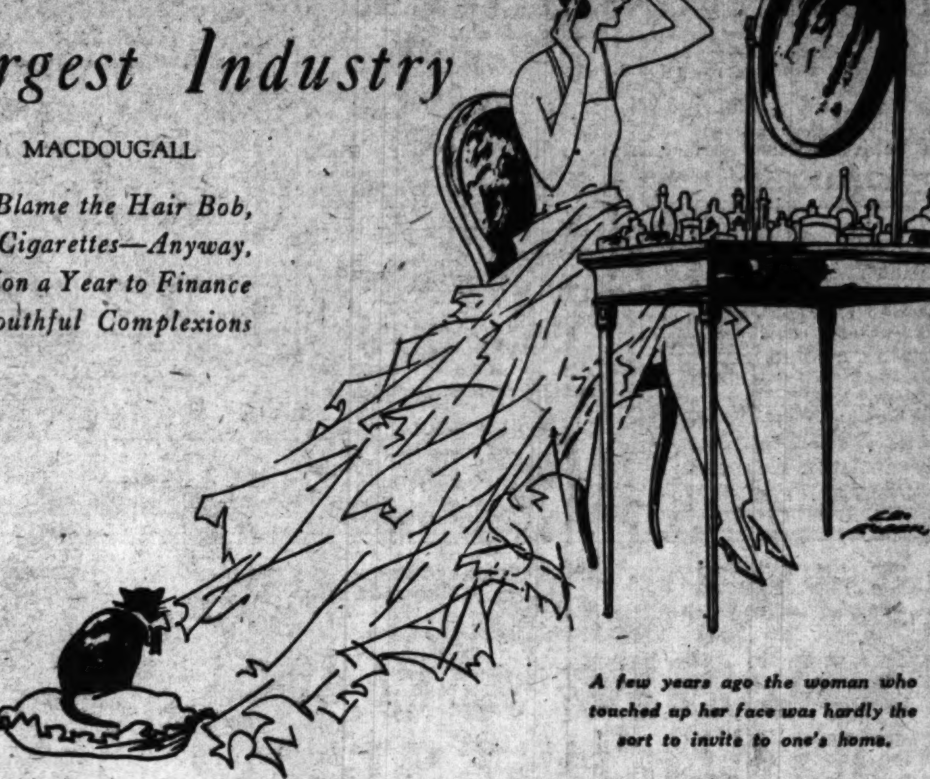
By SALLY MACDOUGALL

Some Experts Blame the Hair Bob, Others Gin and Cigarettes—Anyway, It Takes a Billion a Year to Finance the Cult of Youthful Complexions



A few years ago the woman who touched up her face was hardly the sort to invite to one's home.

A FEW years ago the average person had the extraordinary idea that a girl or a woman who painted her lips and her cheeks, touched up her eyelashes, tinted her hair and otherwise presented a false glow of brightness to the world was hardly the sort of person to invite to one's home. Undaunted by the snubs of duller looking ladies, these colorful ones persisted in putting on paint and any other cosmetics they could find, never dreaming that they were building the foundation of one of the world's leading industries. Some beauty experts thank these defiant pioneers for the phenomenal good fortune that has come to the beauty trades. Others blame bobbed hair, and one influential analyst lays a lot of it to gin and cigarettes.

The beauty culture business is now called the fourth largest industry in the United States. Last year it headed the list in magazine advertising, paying $30,031,925 for space in periodicals to tell the world how beauty could be achieved by the use of certain products. Information on how to be beautiful took precedence over information on what to eat, on the relative virtues of different automobiles and a variety of house furnishings. The food and food beverages advertising bill came second with $27,283,967; automotive industries third with $22,936,931, and housefurnishings fourth with $17,999,043. Beauty advertising in newspapers in the same period amounted to nearly $20,000,000. Figuring on a 10 per cent advertising appropriation, a man who spends his days with columns of expenditures estimated the year's beauty business at about $500,000,000, and then admitted that the guess might not be accurate, because some manufacturers who are out to conquer new territory may be spending several times 10 per cent of their sales to acquaint the world with their wares. By adding tooth paste and a few other commodities advertised as beauty aids the figure mounts to billion proportions. In drug stores alone the sales last year of creams, lotions, face powders, compacts, rouge, lipstick, toilet water and toilet soap amounted to $215,251,032.96. One of the characteristics of the beauty business in the past dozen years has been the habit of doubling and redoubling itself at occasional intervals.

A STRETCH of seaboard geographically known as the New York territory gets one-seventh of the country's beauty business and a vast bulk of that one-seventh centers in New York City, where 6000 of the country's 50,000 beauty shops are located. These have an average of four booths and five employes, each of whom is expected to take in a minimum of $50 a week. These shops have high regard for the type of customer who spends about $250 a year on shampoos, waves, massage, manicures, creams, lotions, rouge and lipstick, and they are far from despising the girl who earns $15 a week in a factory and comes to a beauty parlor as one recently did, with holes in her shoes and runs in her stockings but with enough money to pay for a permanent wave. An executive of a beauty periodical estimated that an average of $45 a year each is spent on beauty culture by New York women. That includes those who spend nothing or $5 a year and those who spend $10,000.

PUBLISHERS of beauty magazines and some other specialists in the business spend a lot of time trying to figure out why their industry has increased nearly 1000 per cent in 15 years. Their diagnoses are different. They all recall that as late as 1919 there were only 18,000 beauty parlors in the entire country and that most of these did not pretend to anything more than hairdressing. All at once thousands of women cut their hair and had it waved, and most of the experts argue that the expansion of business came in on that wave. There is no denying the relation between a bob and abundant sales. For short hair needs expert cutting and waving, and needs them often. A woman may go to a beauty parlor with nothing on her mind but a bob and she comes out as completely remodeled of face and hands and with as many boxes of cosmetics as subtle salesmanship can induce. There are schools where novices learn the lingo: "Have you tried our facials: They're so restful. Isn't this cream charmingly scented? And wouldn't you like a little jar to take home?"

But Joseph Byrne, national director of the beauty shop owners' convention, regards the bob as only a minor beam in the structure of business expansion. He places the emphasis upon the painted lady of the first paragraph and on gin and cigarettes. He remembers the war years when nice women began brightening their lips and cheeks with rouge, and he thinks it was because they had stepped outside the old environment, looked around, made observations and worked out a scheme that might keep their husbands interested in their appearance. That style of obviously enhancing nature's color scheme and the habits of drinking too much and smoking too much were established by women pretty close to the top crust of society, women whose traditions had not been favorable to that sort of thing but who wanted to come down from their conservative pedestals, be good pals of their men folks and be taken to wild places to see the fun. These fashions spread like bush fire and they are still raging. Mr. Byrne thinks all this is very good for the beauty business but not good at all for beauty. He doled out advice that might be destructive to his own commercial interests if there were any danger of women taking it seriously.

"A woman who wants to retain her youth and beauty is a fool to drink and smoke," he said. "Gin and cigarettes are making a very substantial contribution to the increased use of cosmetics and of facial massage. It is not only because drinking and smoking relax the face muscles and leave them flabby. They leave deposits in the blood stream which show up later in face and eyes. Gin is particularly destructive to beauty at any age. I never get over being surprised at women drinking the stuff."

He believes that beauty culture should begin in earnest when a woman is between 25 and 30 and that from then on she should take a facial massage once a week for life, except during those intervals when she is having her face lifted by surgical operation. That should happen at the age of 45 and be repeated 10 and 20 years later. "At 70 a woman is through," he said. "She will not have any objections to looking old after that."

A PLASTIC surgeon, who does a thriving business in a Fifth avenue laboratory, took exception to the idea that a woman is finished at 70. He has lifted the faces of people who wanted to recapture and prolong youth after they were 80, and these were not all women either. Not long ago he performed that operation for a Civil War veteran of 81, who went away convinced that he could pass for 50. The doctor's youngest patient was a showgirl of 22 who wanted a job from a director who considered that a decrepit age.

There are a dozen plastic surgeons in New York who take in from $25,000 to $40,000 a year for cutting out unnecessary sections of loose skin from aging faces. An operation may cost anything over $100. There is one on record at $10,000, but that bill seems to have been based on what the woman was able to pay. An average bill for having the face, neck and eyelids tightened to a semblance of youth's curves is about $350. Many New York women have this done every year. Once they begin, the plastic surgeons rely upon them as steady customers, because a smooth face becomes an obsession with those who can afford to keep it that way and who are determined to go on being young.

"Only a woman who is beautiful knows how much care and trouble are needed to keep a face looking lovely after the first glow of youth is past," the plastic surgeon said. When the beauty parlors are no longer able to do that they send the patient to him. "That could not have happened before the war," he said. "It was the war work, rebuilding faces of disfigured soldiers, that placed our profession on the solid foundation it has since had. Before that, and back in the days when I was a medical student, plastic surgery was regarded as an outcast in the medical profession and few but freakish people patronized it."

It seems that every girl or woman who could pass for any sort of beauty uses something to enhance or overcome the color scheme and texture nature or indiscretion gave her skin. Not long ago the American Master Hairdressers' Association started a nationwide hunt for a natural beauty—one who had never used cosmetics or beauty aids of any sort. Five thousand dollars was offered to the most attractive girl who could qualify. But the prize was never claimed. For a day the committee thought it might go to a girl in the Bronx, until disclosure was made of the fact that she had used a certain cream for years and that her hair had been given a marcel wave on the morning when she was on her way to establish the family finances with the prize money.

"Take it from me, they all use something," an official beautician said.

Space and Comfort

Do not feel that every available space in a room must have a piece of furniture adorning it. A room is lots more comfortable if a person has space to move around without having to be on the lookout for obstacles.

PUBLIC MEETINGS AND ENTERTAINMENTS

Michael MacWhite, Minister of the Irish Free State at Washington, will be the guest of the Irish Society of St. Louis April 29. There will be a banquet and reception at the Coronado Hotel.

Webster Groves Junior High School students will present "The Belle of Barcelona," a musical comedy, next Friday night, at 8:15 o'clock, in the auditorium of the Webster Groves High School.

"The Story of the Negro People" will be the topic tonight at a meeting sponsored by the Workers' Alliance of St. Louis at the Grunden Branch Library, Fourteenth street and Cass avenue, at 8 o'clock. Officers of the American Negro Improvement Association will speak.

The annual play of the senior class of Clayton High School will be given tonight at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium. The presentation is the comedy, "The Whole Town's Talking."

A memorial meeting for the late Earl of Balfour (Arthur James Balfour) will be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock by the local Zionist organization in the auditorium of Dorr & Zeller's catering company, De Baliviere and Waterman avenues. Balfour in 1917 committed the British Government to the establishment of a Jewish homeland in Palestine.

Dr. Grant Showerman, professor of classics at the University of Wisconsin, will speak before the St. Louis Society of the Archeological Institute of America Tuesday night at 8:15 o'clock at Mary Institute. His subject will be "The Meaning of Rome to Modern Times."

More Attractive Globes.

If the glass globes in the new home are heavy-looking and white, get out the paint brush and touch them up with water colors to blend with the rooms they are in. In rented houses we do not like to go to the expense of new globes and this will frequently solve the trouble.

DAILY STORY FOR CHILDREN

By Mary Graham Bonner

Waltzing Mice

"WE'RE invited to a ball this evening," said the Little Black Clock.

John was not exactly pleased at the idea. He hated dancing parties.

"I'm not very much dressed up," said Peggy.

"Oh, they won't notice you," said the Little Black Clock.

"Won't they even expect me to dance?" asked John, very hopefully.

"Of course not!" said the Little Black Clock. "They won't want you to dance. How silly! In fact, it would make them nervous if you did dance."

"That's great. That suits me," said John. Well, now, this was much better! He wouldn't have to dance at all.

As the Little Black Clock led them away he told them he was going to take them to see a family of Waltzing Mice.

"To be sure," said the Little Black Clock, "the ball is not an unusual thing for them to have. They are always dancing, but they've been sleeping more than usual this afternoon so as to have a special ball this evening.

They were now arriving at the place where the Waltzing Mice were about to give their ball.

The Mice were white and some of them were quite old and some of them were very young.

But all of them were waltzing.

Now and again they stopped for refreshments, but they began to waltz before they were quite through eating.

"My mother says it's bad to move around quickly after eating," John said.

"That's true," said the Little Black Clock, "but then your mother's children aren't mice."

John laughed and the children watched the Waltzing Mice go around and around and around, until they felt dizzy themselves.

But were the Mice dizzy? Not a bit of it. They didn't seem to be able to get enough dancing and from time to time they gave squeals of delight—their way of saying how much they loved their ball!"

Scalloped Noodles.

One package of bread noodles, one-half pound chopped mushrooms, one-half cup cream, three-fourths cup meat stock, two tablespoons flour, three tablespoons butter, one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, a dash of pepper. Boil the noodles in meat stock. Fry mushrooms in butter, covering to keep in steam. In five minutes remove them and make a cream sauce of the remaining stock, flour, butter and seasoning. Fill a baking dish with alternate layers of noodles and mushrooms, ending with noodles. Pour in sauce and cover with buttered crumbs. Brown in a hot oven.

Cut out the weeds or they will cut out your flowers.

STOCKS TURN REACTIONARY WHEN BEARS RAID LIST

Heavy Profit-Taking as Well as Short-Selling Follows Week of Rising Prices.

RECORD SALES FOR 1930 SHORT SESSION

Downward Ranges of 1 to 18 Points — Western Union Is Weakest, Though It Recovers Some

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Bullish forces last control of the price movement in today's stock market, after pushing up a score issues to new high levels in the early trading, when an avalanche of selling orders poured onto the floor in the second hour of trading, cutting down the early gains, and sending scores of issues down 1 to nearly 19 points below yesterday's final quotations. Final quotations showed only slight recoveries from the day's low levels.

W. U. Down 18½ Points.

Bearish professionals picked out Woolworth today and hammered that stock down below $60 a share to a new low for the year. National Cash Register, which turned weak yesterday, was knocked down more than 5 points to 60¼, but rallied to 62 at the close. Western Union broke 18½ points to 185½, but made moderate recovery from that level.

So great was the volume of trading that the ticker fell far behind the market, the day's sales of 2,314,900 shares being the largest of any Saturday session this year.

Regarded as a "Correction."

While the statement of President Carlton of Western Union that January net earnings were the worst of any similar period in 15 years stimulated "bear" attacks on the market, the reaction generally was regarded as a correction of a top-heavy speculative position built up in the wild uprush of prices earlier in the week on the drop in money rates to the lowest levels in nearly six years. Pools, finding it relatively easy to obtain funds to finance their operations, whirled up a number of industrials, public utilities and specialties showing good prospects of earnings enhancement, forcing shorts in those issues to cover and attracting a large public following. Obviously, this weakened the technical position in those issues, and made them vulnerable to a renewal of selling pressure.

U. S. Steel common, which was widely tipped yesterday when it reached a new 1930 high at 191, was heavy from the start, closing 3 points lower at 187¾. Allied Chemical lost 6 points, Johns Manville and Westinghouse Electric each dropped more than 5 points, Simmons Co. 4, J. I. Case 3¼, American Telephone 3 and many of the other recent leaders such as Anaconda Copper, Bethlehem Steel, Radio, American Can, Electric Power and Light, Houston Oil, Warner Bros. Pictures and Atlantic Refining lost a point or two.

Commodities Reactionary.

Reactionary tendencies also predominated in the commodity markets. Wheat lost about 2 cents a bushel. Corn yielded about a cent a bushel. The cotton market closed irregular, with the range 55 cents a bale higher to 30 cents a bale lower.

Stock prices, with other tables and market news, will be found on Pages 10A, 11A and 12A.

GALE IN WASHINGTON STATE

70-Mile Wind Follows Earlier Dust Storm.

By the Associated Press.

SPOKANE, Wash., March 22.—A gale which reached a velocity of 70 miles an hour at Wapato, Wash., has caused considerable damage in Washington and Northern Idaho. Barns were unroofed, canals damaged and automobiles blown from the highway near Wapato. Three days ago a similar disturbance was reported.

The wind yesterday blew great dust clouds and farm work was halted while persons sought inside shelter. Rain and some snow accompanied the wind.
